Greenhill School

14255 Midway Road
Dallas, Texas 75244-3698
1-214-661-1211
Volume XXXVI

The pieces of the Greenhill campus have come together through the years to form the components of the puzzle that make it an attractive, educational, institution in the heart of North Dallas and the "Golden Corridor". Above is the original twelve room building of the Greenhill School in the 1950's. It was located at 7007 Walnut Hill Lane where the land was provided rent-free. Pictured to the left is Greenhill's Arbor Day celebration in 1963. It has been through students' and parents' efforts that today we enjoy so many trees around the buildings. The photograph below is of what has become known as the Greenhill Fire. On April 28, 1963, lightning struck the administration building; despite the firemen's efforts, it was completely destroyed.

Pieces of the Past . . .
Campus

Pictured above is the creek running through the Greenhill property. In the past, classes were taken to the creek to explore and learn about nature; the surrounding property is still used today for a variety of outdoor educational activities for the various age groups. The building pictured to the left is the Three Chimneys, one of the two original houses of the old farm. To this day, it is part of the Lower School. Below is how the Greenhill School appeared from the corner of Midway and Spring Valley Roads in 1981. With this photograph it is simple to see how many of the pieces have and will fit in.

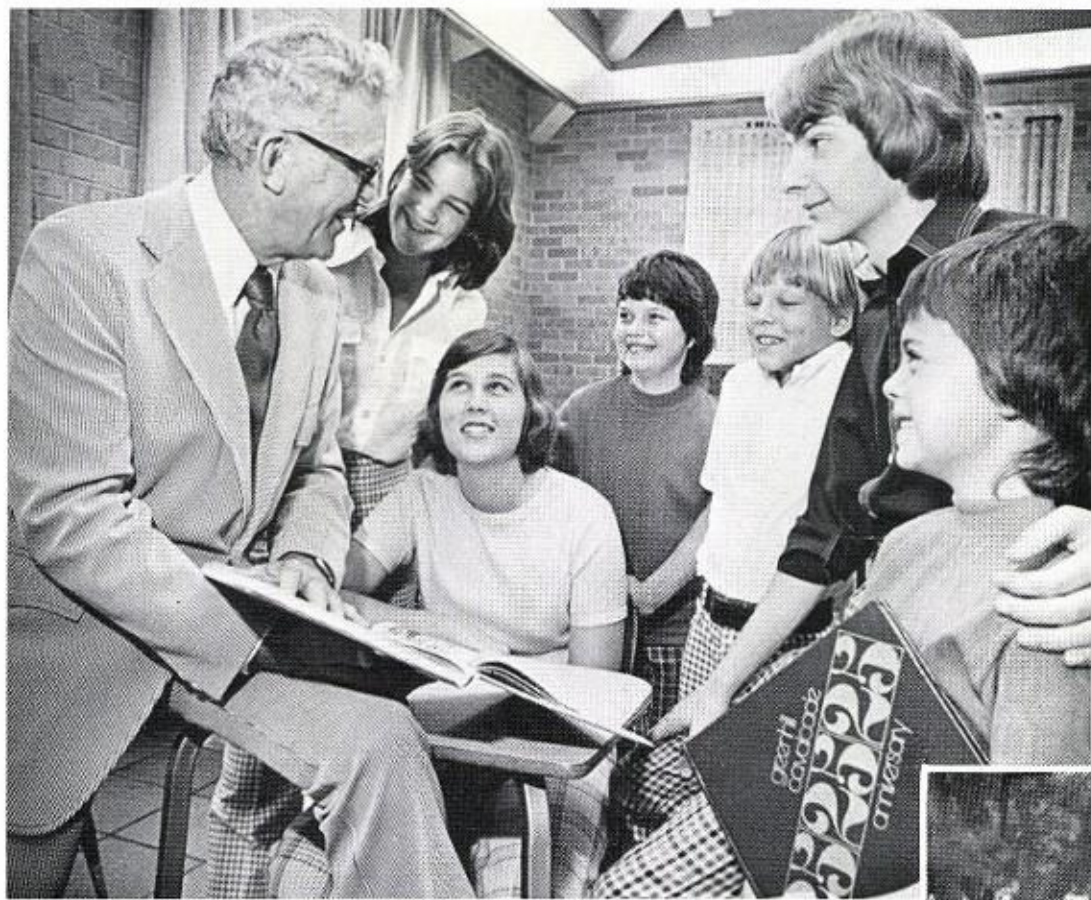

The people are the most important aspect of Greenhill; without their crucial cooperation, Greenhill would not be the growing success that it is today. Above is Le Cercle Francais, the French Club, in 1963; there are many clubs and organizations at Greenhill - honor clubs, service organizations, and special interest groups. To the left, children romp and play together in front of the Baldwin Preschool, one of the first buildings moved to the present Greenhill site at Greenhill. Below is a photograph of a teachers' meeting in 1965. Mr. Robert Hartman, Mr. Raphael Hinojosa, Mr. Wesley Kittleman, Mr. Richard Williams, and Mrs. E.L. Geisslinger all participated in making Greenhill the fine institution that it is today. In this photograph they are assembled to honor athletics at a Sports Banquet.

Pieces of the Past . . .
People

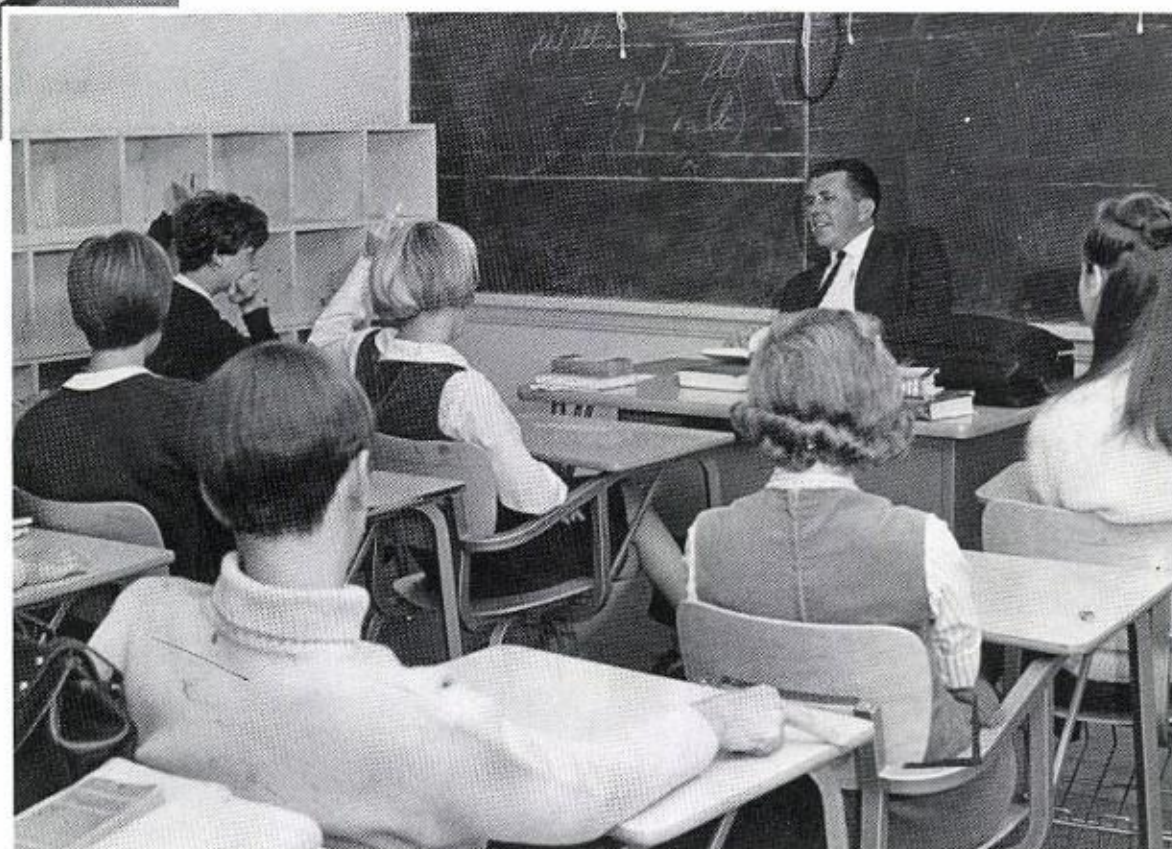

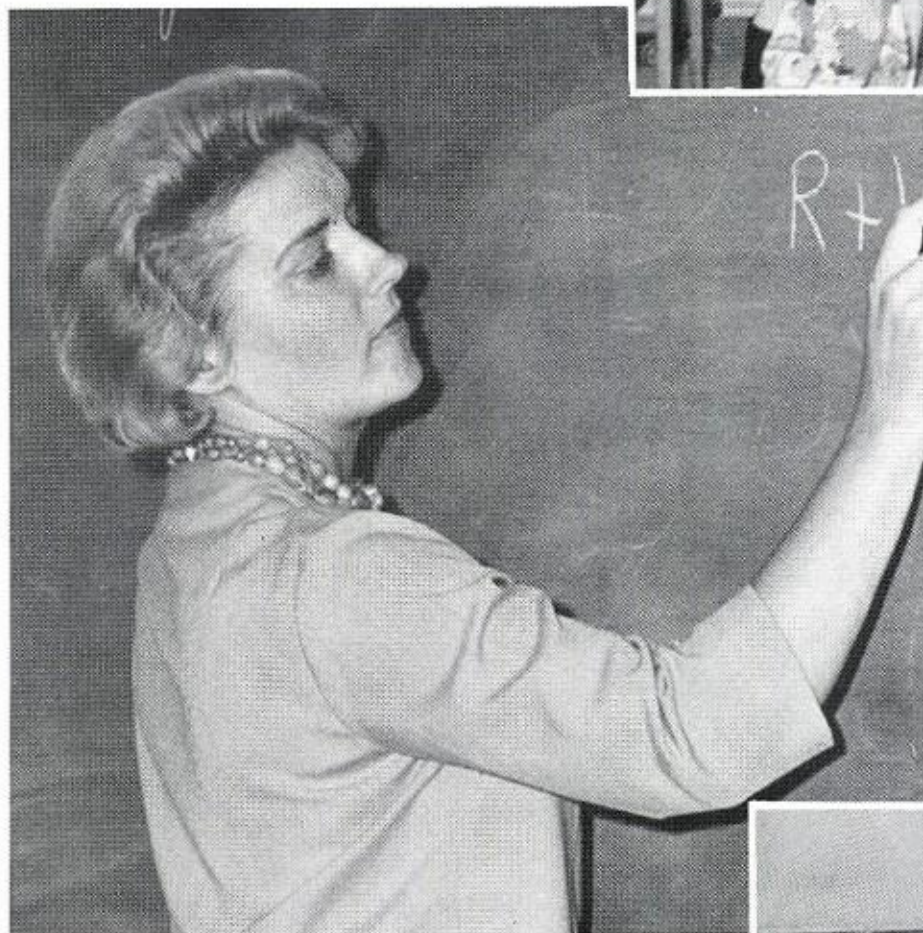

Above, former headmaster Mr. Bernard Fulton shares the 1975, twenty-fifth anniversary edition of The Cavalcade with students from each part of Greenhill. To the right are Erin Moran and Tom Perryman, graduates of the class of 1981, on Graduation Bridge over the creek. Commencement ceremonies were formerly held on the southeast portion of the campus. Presently they are held in the center campus area in front of the Lower School or in inclement weather - the cafeteria. Pictured below is Mrs. Helen Misura. She is one of the founders of the Greenhill School and served as Head of the Lower School until 1969. She is dressed in an Oriental outfit as part of a unit in active learning - Marco Polo's Travels. She is presently living in Dallas. Every year, the fourth grade recognizes an outstanding student in honor of Mrs. Misura.

Students and their interactions with teachers have played a major role at Greenhill; teachers have always shared a very close relationship with their students. In the above photograph, former Greenhill headmaster, Mr. Bernard Fulton and Mrs. Corinne Philley pose in 1970 with the fifth grade girls and their recently completed art projects. To the left, Lower School teacher, Mrs. Virginia Lawrence teaches her first grade students addition with the cuisenaire rods in this photograph taken in 1963. Below, Mr. Richard Williams discusses usage of the English language in his class. In as far back as the 1960's, classes were being taught in what we now know as the art portables.

Above is a familiar scene in Lower School: children listening intently as their teacher reads aloud. In this 1976 photograph, the third grade teacher Dr. Evelyn Robinson reads to her students, all of whom are graduating this year. At the right, Mr. Tilmon Stanfield helps a student set up a chemistry lab in the recently constructed Agnich Science Building. Below, Mrs. Carroll, the librarian, helps a student with the card catalogue file. The library was housed in the cafeteria until the Montgomery Library was completed in 1969.

Special events such as musicals, plays, and even days to study a certain era in history have been a notable part of the Greenhill puzzle. In the above picture, first graders perform at the annual holiday concert, formerly held in the cafeteria. In the picture at the left, Mrs. Lucinda Carter, then the fifth grade language arts teacher, helps teach hula dancing to a member of the cast of the 1975 Greenhill musical production, South Pacific. Below is a scene from the program for the 1979 musical, The Music Man. Lee Lyon and Kate Dowe, both playing Amaryllis, try to steal kisses from Winthrop Paroo, played by David Shelby and Kirk Dunk.

Special Events

In 1978, the Greenhill sixth grade did a production of Tom Sawyer. Pictured above is the famous fence-painting scene. "Medieval Day" is the culmination of the fifth grade's studies of Medieval History. Students participate in such activities as writing a play, creating their own costumes, and singing. Former fifth grade history teacher Mr. Steven Blanchard, now Director of Admissions is pictured at the right. In the not-so-distant past, the second grade produced their own musical of a classic Mary Poppins. In the bottom photograph, members of the class of 1987 take part in the 1977 production of Peter Pan; these cast members are playing pirates who were members of Captain Hook's crew.

Putting All The

Center: Graduation ceremony, the culmination of the Greenhill experience under the Wylis Terry administration, June 1978.

Personalities Together

Top: Head of Schools, Mrs. Carter, Middle School, Mr. Stifler, interim Upper School, and Mrs. Dickens, Lower School, greet grandparents with welcome smiles - one of our special traditions just before Thanksgiving vacation. Center: Second graders look forward to afternoon recess activities. "There is excitement and enthusiasm for learning from the 1st assembly bell throughout the day." - a Greenhill lower schooler. Lower: A computer terminal in Pre-school fascinates Sara Harris as she finds the keys to spell her name on the keyboard.

Maggie Lepair

Lorene Zeiter

When Greenhill was young, they came. The years have raced by, and each teacher remembers the white frame buildings off Spring Valley, the fire, the ground breakings, the tearing out of walls, Mr. Foote becoming head of Lower School and then headmaster . . . but both cherish most the memories of the students they have taught.

To Mrs. Zeiter and Miss Lepair we dedicate this page. You each have helped us to expand our horizons, taught us to laugh, to care, to love Greenhill, and to appreciate learning new ideas and skills. You both will always be remembered for the joy you have brought to our lives.

Maggie Lepair, French teacher to lower and middle schoolers, came to Greenhill twenty plus years ago with a "bonjour" and the determination in her soul to survive in her newly adopted country. She has shared with us the joy of learning another language and understanding a second culture. In the last few years, she has concentrated her teaching on the "little ones," the first and second graders, who have adored a very special lady.

Lorene Zeiter - science, art, language arts, fourth grade homeroom teacher, advisor to children and parents, assistant head of Lower School . . . throughout the years she has been enthusiastic and sympathetic in turn to all students and fellow teachers. She has taught each subject well and developed the character and potential of each student. She is a person with a zest for life and a sparkling sense of humor. She is an inspiration to all who know her.

Christine Eastus

Andrew Stifler

Mrs. Christine Eastus came to Greenhill from Fort Worth Country Day in 1970 and brought with her a wealth of experience, support, and guidance imported from private schools in Poland, England, and Peru and fine colleges such as the University of Texas and Vanderbilt. In her fifteen years at Greenhill and her eleven years as head of the English department, she has shown patience and understanding, especially in her classes and individual conferences. Her excellence in interaction with others is most notably evinced by her dedication to students at all grade levels and her sponsorship of such organizations as the student council and The Montage, to name a few. It is Mrs. Eastus' nurturing of our personal and academic promise that brings a student to rise to a challenge and put forth his best. As a result, she has become one of the most widely respected faculty members at Greenhill and one of the top few encountered in the career of teaching.

Mr. Andrew T. C. Stifler came to Greenhill as an interim Head of Upper School, but little did any of us, including Mr. Stifler, imagine the impact his "interim" year would have. His contributions and efforts have reached beyond his main charge of heading the Committee on Evaluation. He took the concept of community established by his predecessors and expanded it; the expression "privileges with responsibility" became his key phrase and the basis for many of his suggestions and decisions. While his stay at Greenhill may be short in terms of years, his contributions and good humor will be remembered by the students and faculty that have been fortunate enough to work with him. We wish Mr. Stifler the very best and hope that he knows that he will always be a part of the Greenhill Upper School.

Phillip Foote - 10th Anniversary as Headmaster

This is a historical year for Greenhill School. In January a document to begin a 99-year land lease with Trammell Crow Company was signed. This land lease is the finest insurance policy the school could have. It will allow Greenhill to continue to be special and unique. Greenhill's uniqueness can be expressed in four words - ENTHUSIASM, INNOVATION, DIVERSITY AND GROWTH. We have teachers who have a passionate desire to teach and learn, and who engage students in the "true excitement" of learning. The land lease is an example of the innovation that make Greenhill unique and a special school. The diversity of the student body has provided opportunities for students to learn from each other as they learn to understand differences of ethnic, religious, and economic backgrounds. Finally, we each share a deep desire that each student will grow in responsibility toward self and society. We are proud of the products of Greenhill - our graduates - for they all exhibit the qualities that express Greenhill's uniqueness.

I, Dianne Ahmann, being of fairly well-coordinated mind and totally uncoordinated body, do bequeath the following to those who have made the past two years terrific: To Matt, my fellow musician, I leave PSMHB '84 (thanks!), a life's supply of biologically active reeds, and JS's "Bari Saxy" shirt. To Annalee I leave the leadership of the awe-inspiring Greenhill clarinet section and the "bari saxy" mentioned above. To Kelly, a successful blind date with a cute Marksman (who can dance!) or maybe a reunion with him in the hereafter. To Adrienne, an expandable locker, the twins Alfonso and Adolphus, and J-JV forever! To Jessica, much gratitude for helping me through labs I hadn't read, yeast that won't grow, furry monsters, close encounters of the jr/sr kind (how embarrassing) and GM. To Gavin, inflated grades, the JW/DA evaluation of your psyche (soon to be a bestseller), a fleet of bargain cars in "perfect" condition, and a hug. To Ben, advanced courses at Stanford, another impromptu splash, and yes - when you're thirty! To Angie, my guide the day I first visited, little did I suspect that we'd someday have 4 AP's together! To David, "Hello, this is your friendly editor . . .", much as I fought you about Evergreen stuff, I have to admit that most of the time you were right. I leave you a bit (just a teensy bit) of flexibility and 8 continuous hours of sleep. To Sarah, my musical successor, many rounds of nerve-shattering auditions, an eternal first chair, and the indescribable State experience. To Mr. Solon, 14 contaminated NoDoz. To Mrs. Thompson, a miniscule NMSQT essay and Solon's Calculus Made Easy. And to Mr. Raaen and Mr. Manes, you have been with me every step of the way and I wish I could return in some way everything you have given. I love you both.

 On my spirit make a music, too.
 Music is feeling, then, not sound.

I, Allison Freddie Aranson leave with a full mind and a tired body the following. To mom and dad I leave a life full of support, whether it included love, money, or a good slap when I needed it. I love you both very much and know that you are the foundation of my education, for I would not want to learn without your guidance. Mom, thank you for my social conscience. Dad, thank you for the freedom to be me. You are my best friends. To the Rollins puppies I leave the aggregate of oral activities: gossip, conflict, argumentation, and the unmentionables. Your guidance in debate perfected a skill in argumentation that you often regretted was ever taught. Laura, thanks for the college ticket (I really need it) in debate, friends, and counsel. I love you both. To Mr. Norris I leave a never ending quest for the emotional side of all beings. You have opened my eyes and mind to new feelings, philosophies, and experiences. Thank you for always listening to an often long and involved explanation of ideas. To Dr. Buchanan I leave the logical, organized, and concise area of my intelligence. You have taught me not only a writing style, but a thinking one. Thank you for the advice and the care. To Julia I leave a history of partnerships, whether it was debate, school, double dates, or a valuable friendship. Thanks for all the "strategy" sessions. Stay away from coffee, mother's tea, and coke, kid. Good luck with Charles, you're bound to go far. To Bryant I leave a consistent love, a reliable friend, and a deflated ego. You can't always get what you want, but if you try some time you just might find, you get what you need. I love you, my bestest. To David I leave a Paris match, the road not travelled, and a box filled with poems. I know you'll be successful. To Craig I leave an innocent time of life. You will always have a place in my heart. To Michelle I leave a canonball with lots of straws, a tape of the latest gossip, and a song about Neptune. To Scott I leave an endless supply of hair jel, and a freshman following. To Michael I leave fond as well as fierce memories. We fight because you know me so well. I love you very much and I hope we will always be near each other. Thank you for the security and the confidence you have in me. After 14 years on the Hill I leave a few debate trophies and a lot of luck for the future.

I'm only sad in a natural way, and I enjoy sometimes feeling this way. The gift you gave is desire, the match that started my fire.

To Andrea, Buffie, and Lara, I leave all the records you can "play", and all the memories of our time spent together. To Michelle, I leave my ability to remember things and good luck in college. To Mimi, I leave the prestigious title of President of the Spanish National Honor Society, 1000 English classes with Mrs. Eastus and without D.A., a soccer game against Hockaday in which Jamie Ginsberg gets hers, and a place in my heart for being a special friend. To Mr. Smith, I leave my favorite Chicago song, my Doors record collection (try to appreciate it, it means the world to me), entrance into the telephone marathon of 1985, two weeks of uninterrupted Aggie football, and all my respect and gratitude. To the faculty and coaching staff that I have had the pleasure of knowing, I leave my deepest appreciation for these highlights: Mrs. Eastus's inspired lectures on Anna Karenina and Heart of Darkness, Mr. Solon's liver lab and daily lectures, Mr. Gonzales's wild stories and grammar lessons, Dr. Graves modern art lectures, Ms. Roman's wit, Mrs. Heck and the 1983 Greenhill Invitational, and Mr. Hornbach and our S.P.C. Championship(s). To my family, I leave many thanks for sending me to Greenhill.

It's hard to believe that I'm graduating from high school. Grade school and middle school seem like I attended them only yesterday. And now I must say good-bye to my youth. This is very hard for me to do, but I'll give it my best shot. Richard, my best buddy, a room at Tri-Towers, our sophomore year, and all that entails. We have had some great times together. I am thankful that our friendship is the type that lasts forever. Until next year, see ya! Brad D., "just between you and me . . .", Sunday Night Trivial Pursuit, stay in touch with me next year. DAN, you communist!, all the good times we have had, even the ones we can't remember, take care of yourself. Graeme, our crazy times at Forest and at Bennigan's, Toddy Taylor lives! You have been a great friend, thanks. Greg, some wild times, the blue Dinosaur, The Month, and the time I spoke in tounge. Ethan, parties, the Talking Heads concert. I will see you next year at U.T. Parental Unit, thanks for all the opportunities you have given me, I only wish I would have taken more of them. I am sorry about all the pain I have caused you. Dick Williams, thanks for the education you have given me. I am proud that I may call you a friend. Katie, give me a call next year, when we are out of Greenhill we might can be friends all the time. Andrea, so far, 8 1/2 months of happiness. The Castle, prom night, Aristotle, and tons of good times. I love you baby and I always will. You know that you are the most important part of my life. I am so very happy that you are mine. I will always love you. And to Greenhill and my youth, Adios!

I, Andy Daniel, would like to leave the following to those people that have been such an important part of my life over the past years. Brent - a charge account that enables you to buy a Ferrari, a boat, a motorcycle, anything you want, and Burger King. The mutual wish to make it, let's go Schepps, July 5th, younger girls, and a drumset that can't be sold. Cindy - You are the one that I would never forget . . . remember? Do you and Andy . . . ? Many long conversations about everything, can I ride your mophead? Your friendship means a great deal to me. Stu - hot tub partys, Is your mom out of town? Joey - A best friendship that I will always feel, many M.S. memories, and seasons in the sun. Amy - long conversations, Bread, an understanding, and a great friendship. Lara - you are my everlasting girlfriend. Let's listen to records. Gretchen - When we're both famous . . . are you gonna have a party? records, and a very special relationship. Andrea - Why did you break up with me?, you have a stimulating shoulder, let's play marbles. David - Nope . . . Nope . . . Uh . . . , creative energy is uncontrollable and I'm not responsible. Veronica - I have the deepest gratitude for your persistent encouragement, it might have never existed without you. The strangest conversations that are not really that strange, our own language, Villany, a concert where we can plan our lives. The memories will never be forgotten and never stop being created. Buffie - backstreet girl, a year that I will never forget because I learned so much from it. You are the person that is the most like me to me. A friendship that will never end. Gavin - My feet are cold, a new cougar, many tennis trips, let's go bowling, a religious experience, the knowledge that we could do it and the creativeness that makes it work, can I have your old papers? this is the most I've ever been, Up and Coming . . . , the memories could never be greater. Mr. Foote - thanks for always being there and understanding. Ms. Miller - thanks for all your advice, Karin is lucky to have as caring a mother as you. To Karin - Dinner in the park, champagne, a relationship that no one else can figure out, so many great times that I could not possibly begin to say them here. I have never been as close to anyone as I am with you. You have made me happier than I ever imagined another person could make me. The feelings that we have created will never end because my love for you will last forever. You are a beautiful person, I love you with all I am. Debbie - You are the sister that I always wanted. I hope that you and William are always as happy as you have both made me. William - what else could I say except that you are the best friend that a brother could ask for. You are always around with the best advice when I need it the most. I love you. Mom and Dad - thank you for all the opportunities that you have given me. I hope that we will continue to grow closer as we have over the past few years. I love you both. To Greenhill - after all these years, I finally graduate.

To Doug, the same as Chad but you also get a truck load of Ding Dongs in place of the Greece trip. Also included, a lengthy discussion about existence and other deep things. To Willie, the band, leftover girlfriends, and someone very P.S. to laugh at. To Bart, I want your car - you can have mine in its place, your radio show was great. To Todd, an entire evening of fun, a tank of gas for that fun, and our Sunday night Trivial Pursuit games. To Adrienne, two years of friendship, a boyfriend in nearly every city, a late night talk, thanks for everything, you've put up with a lot of me and I love you. To Mr. Norris, Mr. Kilmer, and all the other teachers who have put up with me, thanks for all that you've done. Mom and Dad, you also have put up with me. I love and respect both of you immensely. I hope that someday I will be able to give back some that I have received.

Hi there,

What they expected me to do here was write down a bunch of cutsey little sayings that dropped hints of my evil lifestyle to the uninformed. Being the unpredictable sort, I decided not to do this (I don't want anything incriminating on paper). Instead I've decided to depart with a few words of wisdom of my own and some others. This doesn't mean that I don't have a lot to say to all the people whose lives have touched me and helped mold my personality. There's not enough space here to express my true feelings and I'd rather tell you about it in person anyway. Well, here goes my attempt at a profound parting statement. For the most part, life at Greenhill was an enriching experience in a stimulating environment. The faculty and the curriculum generally contributed to this fact. I feel that I've definitely been bettered by it all. Thanks and enjoy your life, have fun with it. That's all anyone could ask. Bye.

I, Scott Elkins, being of extremely long body and underused mind do hereby bequeath the following assorted odds and ends to the respective people (or whoever else may want them.) To eliminate favoritism, the individuals are listed in alphabetically according to grade level. To Big Dave Berman, a true headbanger, Motley Crue's Greatest Hits, what else? - David Foote, a burning desire to major in mathematics. - Matt Golden, test grades lower than mine throughout college. - Marjory Graue, a multi-million dollar acting career. - Brent Hillebrenner, one of two "tough-guy-senior-football-player" awards. - Angie Jacobs, an all too familiar quote, "Oh Scott, you'll do better on the next test," I'm still waiting. - Tracy Newton, a long drive home (with a stop at Centennial) - Will Rose, a leadership position in the American Mafia Family. - Jordon Susman, an "I Love Ronald Reagan" bumper sticker. - Steve Wienberg, a caring attitude towards those of us stricken with terminal height. - Jenny Dickens, a "Flashdance" version of "MacBeth" and extra-strength hair spray. - Julia Erwin, a loving and kind husband . . . who beats you every night. - Hellen Greenlee, a week long debate on religion and the meaning of life. - Seniors '86 Football Players, full scholarships to UT, you all deserve them. - Colin McCarty, the computer access codes to all the major banks in the U.S. - Ben Shepard, a blown-up team football picture . . . what are you laughing at anyway? - WARNING - The following people are not enrolled at Greenhill and further reading may be very confusing. Continue at your own risk. Millard Rice, your own, personal, ear-sniffing aardvark and a direction in life. - John Lombard, a career as a night club comedian (lawyers don't make that much anyway.) - Susan, the return gift of your Pinto, in slightly damaged condition. - Mom and Dad, an amazingly rich and highly successful son. Greenhill, thanks for two of the best years of my life.

APOLOGY - To those not included in this will, it's not that I forgot you, I probably just couldn't think of what to give you. SORRY.

I'd first like to thank those faculty members who have earned my deepest respect and gratitude: Mr. Murphy - a date after graduation. Dr. Buchanan - many thanks for all of your help and a valuable friendship. Jose - my problems, your endless advice, I appreciate everything; I couldn't have made it without you!

And now to my friends and family I leave the following: Lisa and Lesli - you guys are the closest to what I could ever call sisters, I've missed both of you. Sharon - a night in the Dr's office, Rick, London, keep in touch. Cindy - fake ID's, sharing names, Calculus. Fink - the end of people getting us mixed up, tennis, similar interests (bb, jt, dp). David P. - a special friendship that has lasted. Bucky - your adherence to Hockaday girls. Matt - stud, lunch at CCC. Jordan - my mom loves you. Marc - your driving ability. Joey - knocking on your window, on and off best friends. To the "bedbugs": memories, the four of us, sharing secrets, huge phone bills next year, friends forever; Jill - a phone call at 2 am, every once in while you just have to say . . . , Mexico, your private teacher, a man in a uniform, All My Children. Karin - where do you live now, let me drive please, all of your men, seductive smiles, don't ask. Stacy - 2nd grade slave, 1411, bloody mary, Nov. 9, we love each other, older men, your morals, etc. Mike - a late night in August, your Sr. year, an inseparable summer, thinking of you, surprises, your (my) family, many phone calls, and hopefully the future; I've missed you so much, I Love You. Jeff - no one to share a car with, the only child - don't let them spoil you too much, you're a great brother and I'll miss you. Mom and Dad - thank you for providing me with the best of everything. Although I don't say it that often, I really do love you very much! Finally to Greenhill: For the past twelve years you have been a major part of my life and I will miss not being able to call you "home".

Spending 13 years at Greenhill has given me many memories that are important to me because of the special people whom I shared them with. To Amy; long talks, changes, friendships like ours always survive. Robin; YaaaA!, put-down partner, never a dull moment together. Lenhoff; I won't mention him, 17 models, your psychiatrist, living your dreams, I missed you this year, ILY! Lori; drinking thru your nose! DLA, "harlot." KtC; "You're so wierd!" I more year. Stacy; Why did you do better than me with my notes? hotel parties, my ex- "ideal couple." Lara; let's get J and D together, glad you "stopped" Be Lo Be. Jordie; funny kisses, chills, the one that doesn't exist, rolling up the window. Rin; dancing to Cindy's alarm, next time erase! Cindy F; a lot in common - last names, sports, guys, I knew you couldn't live w/o soccer! Bucky; Chicago, accidental hickey, LDR talks. Matt; hubby APsex partner, "train." Cindy; sex talks, "by the end of this year . . .", jamming in the car, partying together since infancy! Teflie; model, Ray, "Joe's" classes, why did we hate each other in 7th grade? Lisa; Sabra/NY, "Betty Crocker . . ." dreams come true, driving the median, ILY! Buff; photography studs, always laughing together. Michelle; Police duet, "dancing" in the car, Jesuit lot, no sense of direction, Prince tickets, ILY. At last, after 13 years, I finally get my chance to write this page. I don't think of it as a will, but as a way to show my appreciation for the last 13 years of my life. I leave the following: TO GAVIN: a turbo charged 3-speed XRCQF3 twin cam engine, Mr. 5th, runners are gay, Bonnie, hey Gav., let's DFL, the 5 stupidest things that we have ever done: #1 . . . Donkey Kong, revenge for my 18th B-day, fun ladder climbing, cradle rocker and finally, good luck on GULLE. MATT: toolin time, it's your taste that is bad, Heather called just the other day . . . fun song rewriting, long walks to band, FT, turn around bright eyes, you have no taste in music, ANNA LEE, hours on the phone (probably 4 digits worth), a tow rope, a set of keys and some weights. SERIOUSLY YOU 2 HAVE BEEN THE BEST FRIENDS I HAVE EVER HAD. to LINDA: lots of great talks in the library, you're cool, you wear KHEPAS, I give you my wallet, you've made my life on the hill much better. DAVID B.: you are the most unique person that I know, big Dave, ouchie, treat me out, you blow my mind. WILL: thanks for the Calculus and physics help, 3 free driving lessons and some nice discussions. LANCE: an apology for letting you park your car in my driveway. ANGIE: I am glad that our friendship was able to survive through the difficult times. DIANE: a pinch, a hug and some "boy talk". JESSICA: 80 rolls of toilet paper and one last question: "Will you marry me?" ANNALEE: walks to band POLICE, an interesting night at the farm, we make great friends. NICOLE: some great conversation on the way to school. You will be a success in whatever you do. KELLY: lots of memories from 7th and 8th grade years. You and ADRIENNE are 2 of the nicest people I know. BECKY: Mrs. Paradise bakery, you have spunk. ELISE: some interesting party searching I'm glad that we became friends. PIERRE: you French are weird I'm glad that you decided to come to Greenhill. I enjoy talking to you with your European point of view. MIKE and ALL HIS CRAZY FRIENDS: Nena, 99 icecubes, etwas tischen tascher, ich bin: nicht warm and some AMERICAN massages. See you next year in Germany.

And finally, I say goodbye to all the people that made my education here at GH possible: MOMMIE SHOEMAKER: I leave some eek eeks, some unk unks and some ying yings. SENOR GONZALES: my favorite Spinglish teacher. I'll have to practice the Stanford method more often. Mrs. Roman: fun arguments in government. Mrs. EASTUS: some blackboard memories and a lot of thanks for being such a great teacher. Mr. SOLON: I'd leave you something but this giant elephant. . . Mr. KILMER: thanks for being patient and giving me a chance to succeed. Mr. LOWE I had fun in your chemistry classes. LAURIE, JEFF, DAVID and JENNIFER: I leave them with the satisfaction of knowing that I have carried on the family tradition of giving the teachers all they can handle. I now hand this responsibility to my 2 cousins DAVID and DANIEL. Finally, I would like to thank my parents for putting up with me for 18 years. It is sad to say goodbye to something that has become a part of my life. I must move on and face the real world. GOODBYE GREENHILL, HELLO EUROPE

Goodbye Louren,

To my parents who provided me with the opportunity to attend Greenhill and encouraged me to do my best. Through all the hard times, you were there to give me support. Words can't suffice to show my appreciation for what you have done for me. I LOVE YOU. To Steve, thanks for leading the way. Your support and knowledge has proven to be priceless. To Kerry, Thanks for putting up with my driving and those long meetings after school. Keep the work up and take advantage of what your parents have done for you. To DAN, we've come a long way from Westwood, or have we? You are the one person at GH who has been there when I needed someone to COMPLAIN to, or just when I needed someone to talk with. I leave you my Spiderman BIG WHEEL and the many memories that you and I have shared over the past five years. Mrs. Ellis, thanks for your encouragement and coaching in gymnastics and theatre. I still don't understand why you wouldn't allow me to compete on the uneven bars. BART: one years supply of frozen twinkies. TODD: my defensive driving booklet and a good lawyer. RICHARD D: my car stereo and alarm. JESSICA W: AKA BOO BOO, I leave my BBYO dues. MONICA: AP algebra and your aching back. I leave you my hands. BRIAN: AKA Mr. T, I leave you my red eyelashes and my black sheer panty hose with the run in them. P.S. how did you get that stuff off your face? BRAD: WAKE UP!!! GAVIN: thanks for the tennis lesson. MICHELLE S: where did you learn to drive? To Greenhill I leave thanks for an enriching education and a memorable four years. You have given me something that I could not have gained elsewhere, a well rounded education that has catered to my own needs by challenging my mind, and the personal attention that has allowed me to better myself as a person and a scholar. What you have given me is a rare and priceless gift. My experience at Greenhill will live with me forever.

Mr. Gonzales - upper school wouldn't be the same without you, I can't tell you how many times you've made my day. Cathy and Tabatha - my favorite frosh, 3 more years on the Hill, you all are great!! Jessica - Tim, Singers, St. Mark's guys? Lisa B. - the Schlabas, S.P., G.M., and Barry B., a Hillcrest football game, the I.H.-K.H. club, Camp Grady Spruce, see ya at U.T.!! Lance-X-country, "Will you take my Pre-Cal test for me?", you are really a great guy!! Stefani D. - ITALY, (and the hope that we'll both make it back there one day), some Ouzo, CONAN (not the barbarian) X-country, 2 more years on the Hill!! Martha - I love A.B., G.M., C.G.S., David "Sauce" tad, you're a great friend, let's not lose touch, John - now you can play the guitar as loud as you want and I won't be there to yell at you. I'll miss you when I go to college so you had better write! I.L.Y. Katie - horses, plans for SOUTH PADRE, a new Mazda, a "nice boy" from H.P., the Alcapulco B. and L., Frisco from Oklahoma, Forest, Butch and Shane, Jim, Wilbur (our baby), Rockwall, "We HAVE to stop NOW!!", the night we didn't get back to your house until 4:00, a slurpee, a few tears but more laughs. You have always been there for me. You are a true friend and I.L.Y. Remember that Texas and Virginia are only a phone call away. Malin - Eric, the Alcapulco B. and L., X-country, I hope that one day I will get to visit you, I.L.Y. Dad - thank you for all your support and love. Thank you for sending me to Greenhill and letting me be myself. I love you. Mom - Thank you for all that you have done for me. If I am half as good of a person as you are when I grow up, I will be lucky. You're the best and I love you.

I, Brent H, do hereby leave the following to the following. To Andy I leave my guitars, my drums!, and the sound system we always wanted and finally got right before we can't use it anymore. Thanks for some of the best times in my life. To Gavin, I hope some day to see you in flight school. To David, "let's go." To Brian, I leave my drum playing skills, and one years supply of Regios. Keep in touch. To Colin M., The Beatles, a lifetimes supply of jolly ranchers, and, my voice. To Trey, "I'm only joking," I leave a date with the woman of your dreams and the use of the P.A. system if you want it. I never meant to be a jerk all those times I was. To Bruce I leave my driving skills, catching ability, and a maid to clean your room everyday. To Lee, Tracy, and Judy. First Lee, Prom with Andy and Tracy, "why don't you talk to me?," and "I can't help it if I get sick." Tracy, I leave you a tape of the graduate, and I will forget about the 90 dollors you owe me. Thanks for everything. Judy, having only gone out with you once befor writing this will, I hope we go out again because I had a great time. I will really miss all three of you. To Abram I leave a date with you know who and one more year of football. To John P. I leave interesting convesations on very strange subjects and a date with you know who. to John W. I leave one more year of football and two-a-days so make it your best. To Marc B., you have to be one of the nicest persons I know so please keep in touch. I really appreciate your friendship. To Bob M., "Bobs", "Are you sure she wants to?" Thanks for being my friend. To Larry Z. I leave three more years of everything. (I don't feel like nameing them all) To Alison I leave my everlasting friendship and my dog Harry. To Melanie C., a golf course? keep in touch. To Jennifer L., "Jilly bear", thanks for some interesting conversations. To Buffie, "Buffalo", and Andrea, thanks for letting me play records with you. To Lisa F., I hope you get better, thanks for everything. To Beth T., If I were a little bit older? To the Greenhill football team, good luck and I will see you next year. To coaches Whitman and Samide, thanks for teaching me more than just football. Although you may not have realized it, I really appreciate and respect you. Coach Hall, you are the best adviser. Thanks for helping me get through some tough times. To Mr. Foote, you are forever in my debt. you have done so much for me. I only hope that some day I can do something for you. To Mom, Dad, David, and Jeff, I leave you all my love and respect because without you I would not have made it. Finally, to Greenhill, thanks for the best years of my life and the education that you have given me. I never thought I'd be able to say this but, GOODBYE.

Knows more about Calculus than anyone . . . math whiz . . . cars . . . loves anything with four wheels and an engine . . . never misses an argument . . . National Merit semi-finalist . . . science whiz . . . smart . . . future writer for Car and Driver . . . conservation . . . Republican . . . Cal-Tech . . . secret locker combination

Being of a thoroughly confused mind resulting from too many late nights, I hereby write this thoroughly disjointed will. First, to all my teachers who have had to put up with endless arguments and a torrent of smart remarks I leave my undying thanks for their patience and the background they have given to all of us here at Greenhill. We should all be thankful for the head start we will have both in college and in life. To Willie - a backstab for Jason's character and a new hairstyle. Jason - Big Chief Carpet Mouth, the Dwarven Kingdom, Rangers #1, 7-11's without cigarette stands, and a college without inside jokes. Lance - a potion of remembering. Gavin - life as a staff writer for Road & Track and a career as a driver on the Audi rally team. Matt - an endless supply of No-Doz. Ben - a video game world championship. Will & Todd - indestructable cars. Kelly - someone to discuss (argue) politics and religion. To everyone else thanks for the an interesting and fun four years at Greenhill. Last, to my parents thanks for the encouragement and prodding; although the prod - wasn't fun at the time it will undoubtedly help me in the long run and I understand why you did it.

We should be careful to get out of an experience only the wisdom that is in it - and stop there; lest we be like the cat that sits down on a hot stove lid. She will never sit on a hot stove lid again - and that is well; but also she will never sit down on a cold one anymore.

- Mark Twain

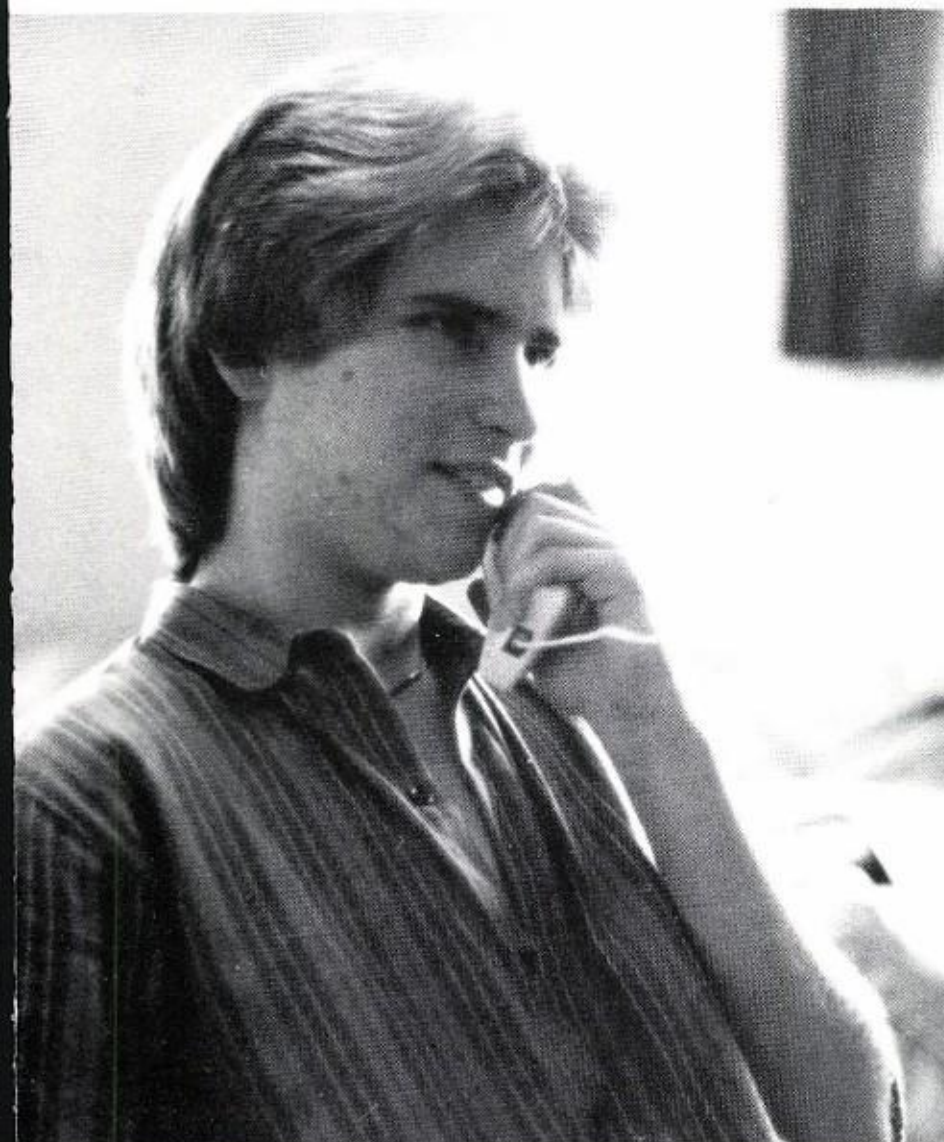

If ever there could be a proper time for mere catch arguments, that time surely is not now. In times like the present, men should utter nothing for which they would not willingly be responsible through time and in eternity.

I, Alicia King, being of somewhat sound mind and a Greenhill student for four years, bequeath to the following. Shelley: Spring Break '84, Turkey Tech, Joe Bob Mama and his flying bed, Harrold the man-eating cheetto, bubble bath, doing the tango at 2 a.m., "I can't get this sleeping bag unzipped!", Dudo, Unga, U.S.A., broken glass tables and so much more. You have been a great friend for these four years. Best of luck to ya' and let's always keep in touch. ILY! Adrienne: what can I say to my Cavalcade buddy other than, "Prince Reigns or Rains (Ha Ha)", History of Art with an F was bunches of fun. You're a little slow but tons of fun. Let's keep in touch. ILY! Jessica: Tim Forever!, "You live Where?!", going around the wrong part of State Fair Park, doughnuts and physics, your bug and more. You are alot of fun and a great friend. Bye! Kelly: total prep, packed lunches, "My mom forgot my dessert!", strawberry shortcake lunch box, a cold icecream sandwich, R.P. and Govern. class You're fun but don't break too many hearts in college. Bye! Laura: Arnold and Bennigan's, cross-country, teasing Kelly about everything. English and vocab. (thanks again), "Can I have a piece of gum?", stealing my french fries, and alot more. Good Luck! Katie: Rockwall Forever!, a bottle of aspirin and cough drops, R.P. and Govern. (same grades!), your funny sound which always cracks me up, "Katie, your such a flake!", horses, pausing at a stop sign, "Yes, Maam!" and there is probably more. We have become so much better friends this past year and I hope we keep in touch no matter where we end up. Bye! David: "Girls on Film", Mr. Impact himself, sophisticated prep, driving with no hands, "Dave, you are looking very coreal today!", lint in your pocket, many pickingsups and dropping offs (which I appreciate so much). You have made my years at Greenhill well worth remembering from your imitations of our short friend (M) to being someone I can easily talk to. Keep in touch! Bye. Willie: the Tom Bailey doll and a lot of laughs. You're a guy with a lot of talent. Good Luck. Bye! Danny: our one and only French scholar and a fun person to be around. To the Juniors with whom I have become friends and are taking over our places: Julie - Duran Duran and all my raving about them, free periods together and a lot more. I have really enjoyed having you as a friend and I hope you will write me. Check ya' later. ILY! Diane - a supply of what your mom found, hating the band I love but I don't hold this against you. Keep in touch! Clarissa - my French buddy and Mrs. White's favorites, a concert which has had me hooked every since and a fun friendship. Keep in touch. Bye! Scott - my partner and buddy. Have a killer Senior year, Scooter and I'll miss ya'! ILY! Mrs. Meinardus: a great advisor and guardian angel. Mrs. Ellis: Thanks "Mom"! (what more can I say!). Now, my family. Dad: We have been through so much but I will always love you no matter what happens. Richard: You're an o.k. kid and I'll miss ya', Rich. Bye! Mom: You're my best friend and teacher. You are special and ILY! Greenhill: I hope I'm ready?!
 BYE!

I, Amy Langefeld, would like to leave the following memories to the people who have made the last four years of my life special. Dr. Graves: ice cream on Saturday night, a muted horn, and your own city on the Hill. Dr. Buchanan: trips to the Kimball, and surprise visits. Thank you for caring so much. Jan: San Francisco, going bowling, lifeguarding, long talks, history outlines, volleyball, looking for starving artists, the BCC, and pizza at Al's. Cindy: junior privileges, talks about J, J & A, one night in an airplane, Fizix, Calc, and AP!!, pictures at Churchill, "It's the fruit of the loom guys!", and making cookies on Saturday night. Kyle: "pizza man," trips to Ft. Worth, Sox games, dinner at Lombardi's, Trivial Pursuit on the doorstep, and searching for food after 11:00. Andy: classical guitar concerts, making tapes, "Bread", late night talks, "Simon and Garfunkle," and sitting by the water at Reunion. Andrea: swimming in fountains, Hawaii '83, "The Banana Moon" and "Spatts". John P.: talks about C & A, and playing football. John W.: Sunday afternoon football games, and feeding ducks at Fair Park. Dianne and Donna (my locker buddy): a trip to Ft. Worth, a great chair, jumping contests, and candy. Take care of the volleyball team next year. Amy: four more years on the Hill, great talks, and a new chauffeur. Don't ever lose your identity because you're a really special person. David (my volleyball buddy): an evening at Norbuck, long talks, AP, 963?!, trips to Mickey D's, and a never ending extension. You've been a great brother. Sue and Chuck: road trips, skiing at 6:00 A.M., a great reception, and your own "Gold". ILYB. Mom and Dad: Thank you for all your patience and understanding, you taught me to teach myself. Although I'm leaving home, I'll never leave you. I love you both. Andrew: I was going to start listing our memories, but every moment we share together is special to me. The last two years of my life have been heaven. You are my best friend, and I'll always love you. I would never sell my story to Rolling Stone. Je t'aime.

This page dictated by feeling of renewal rather than end, making itself the witness of the sadness which assails me at the idea of leaving Greenhill.

However, this year has been for me a source of surprises and joy that nothing will dry up, and of which I will come to drink plentifully when I am thirsty for friendship.

Thus, to Ben, Matthew, Gavin, Elise, I wish for this marvelous quartet to stay unified, and to keep this gleam which enlightens their eyes. To Anna Lee, Adrienne, Linda, Nicole, Angie, Steffie thanks for the niceness which they have shown to me during each day of the year. To Lance, Dan, David, Will, Bart, Joey, Richard . . . All have contributed to make each day a pleasure; each day starting with the niceness of Nancy.

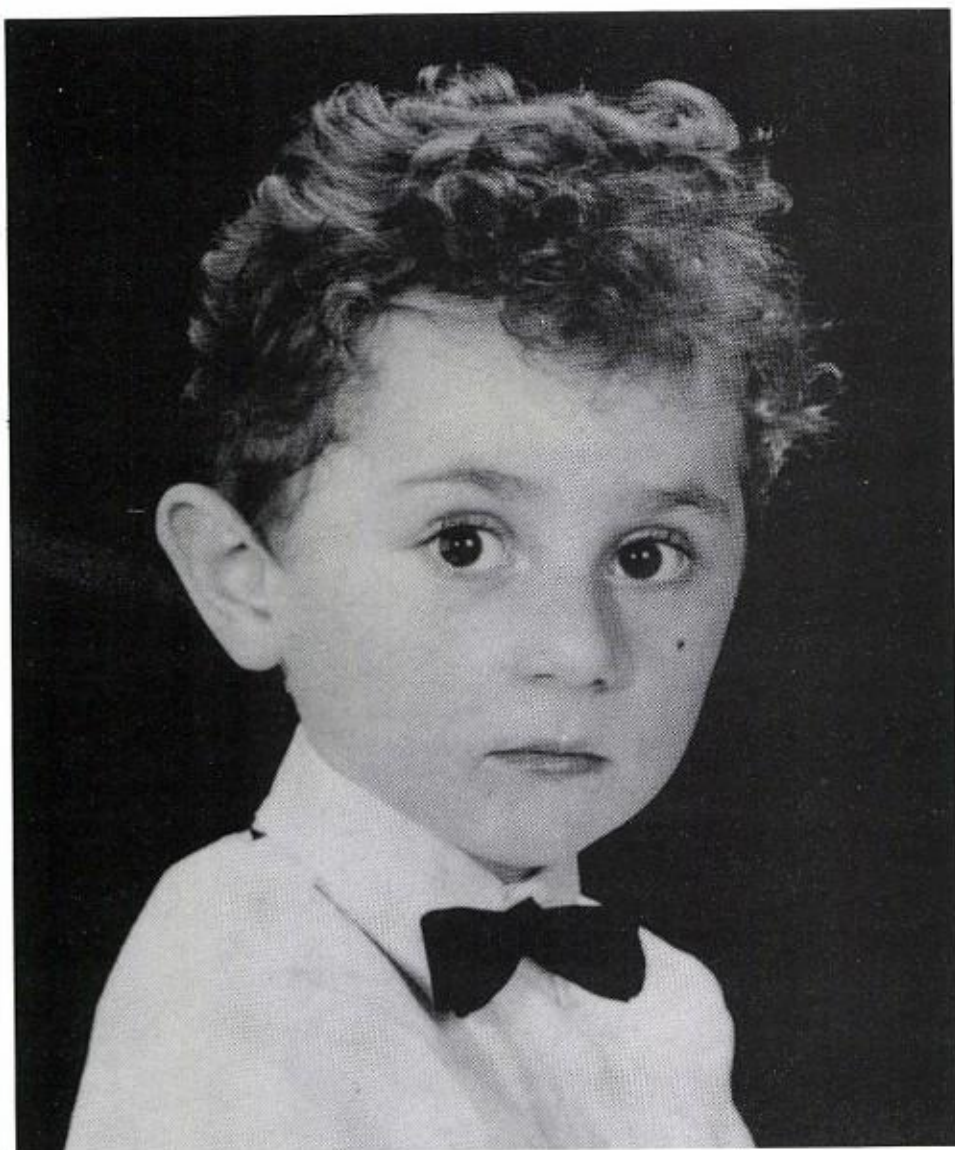

Also, I am grateful to Mr. Foote for permitting me to enter Greenhill, which, without his work, and that of his assistants, would not be the terrific school renowned in all of Dallas. Likewise to all the teachers for their competence and their patience. All have helped to remove the scholastic difficulties which have arisen during my stay. And above all, thank you Mrs. White, who has exerted herself with the kindness and availability which are in the habit of her.

And I would like to thank my host family, who has helped me beyond all I could hope during my friendly experience. The same for Clifton and Lyndy, who have helped me too a lot (so much).

Here are random friendly impressions, without order of preference, because all have in my heart the same importance, that is to say at the top.

Thanks to you all.

Will I or will I not? I will. To my family, Mom, Dad, Lynn, Brad, Jennifer, and Carson, thanks for the support, encouragement and just being there when I needed you. Without you I do not think I would or could have made it this far. To Jennifer I leave a mention in my will and a solution to all your problems. To Joey I leave an infinite number of personal conversations concerning my greatest hang-ups: sex, girls, drugs, rock-n-roll, and our futures. Jordan, what can I leave the person I have spent 15 years with. The memories are endless. We will always have each other. And a final image while we are on the subject - "Old Friends" (in front of my childhood home). Bucky, we went from racing Hot-Wheels down your stairs to racing Ferraris and Porsches down the streets of North Dallas. I leave with you conversations about the pursuit of fast cars and girls. Matt, I leave a huge gang fight in which you are the victor (this will make your highschool days complete) and the Presidency of T.N.C., which you well deserve. Lara, my first Love, I will always try to leave You (with a capital) behind and try to be your friend. We had our days, since gone. We now have the memories. Bart, my Greenhill experience would not have been complete without you. Lisa, I leave a blinking friendship that will always be special. Lori, I leave a big bruise and myself as the brother you always needed. Cindy, I leave a frustrating golf swing, a culturally enlightened evening, and a friendship I will always remember. Stacy, sixth grade lover, I leave a year of Sushi dinners with Tami. Andrew, I take back all the guilt trips I put you on, and I thank you for explaining the concept of individuality. Mrs. Silven, my favorite teacher by far, now I will no longer have to put up with you and your wise-cracks. Ms. Shoemaker, thank you for being the wonderful teacher that you are, but I still think that you should give essay tests instead. To the rest of the faculty that I have come in contact with the last fifteen, I thank you all. May the friendships and loves I have made at Greenhill last forever.

I thank all these special people who have given me so much and I hope someday I will be able to return it; until then I leave:

First to my teachers: Mrs. Eastus and Dr. Graves: words, (not even concise or descriptive ones) can express my gratitude for encouraging me to love learning. Dr. Buchanan: another warm, caring individual to be able to match half of everything you do. Dr. Stewart: 600 new ads and a great appreciation for all your caring and confidence. Mrs. Parham: an advisory without a grouou or a problem from me and many thanks. Mrs. Silven: A special thank-you for everything you do. Next to my friends who have sometimes taught (corrupted) me as much in other areas: Robin: 4's, a new diet, good gossip, mothers, "what are friends for" mutual feelings, an exciting experience together, and a wonderful friendship that means the world to me. Amy: a trip to the park, a future r.m., an amazing friendship - so quick but so incredible, a super understanding and many great memories to come. Andra: Many past memories, a carrot with peanut butter, a radioer, and lots of fun. Mindy: a long distance phone coupon, thousands more talks, a "new friend" and a VERY special friendship. Brett: an identical thinker, a fellow troublemaker and a boatride on Lake Kiowa. Mark: Another new car, a final friendship, and continual special caring. Jackie: more grandparents, a dinner, and great times to come. Lisi: Driving lessons, a J.T. tape, and two more years at GH. Lori and Lisa: A day without me being wild in pre-cal and physics, or without having a good story. Jessica: Another P.E. chat, and more girls like us. Joey: a khugh sound, a sincere and special friendship, and an open shoulder always waiting for you! Mimi: complaining sessions, more juniors, another St. Marks function, the BEST taste!, Chilis, a fan-tastic friend who somehow always makes me smile, and never ending care. Stefani: Stef! lunchtime discussions, advice, advice, advice, same situations, identical thoughts, Chilis, exercise classes, so many great memories and so very many more to come!! and an extra-ordinary friendship! Karen: a fireplace, more comparisons, whirers, soccer lessons, new experiences, my sense of direction, slurpee-songs and a unique friend. Max: a play with an obvious ending, 500 points, another 51/49 many wonderful memories, great care, and my love. Finally to those who are always helping and supporting me: Lesley: a return book of advice, a telephone, a conspiracy, a little more tact and a whole lot of love and respect!! Wendy: a bananana-face, a pair of your own shoes, some paper titles, a wish for your everlasting happiness, and my love! Rho and Ronnie: a new name for Jody, another year like this one!! I don't know how I could have made it without you!! Great thanks and all my love! Karen and Graham: a messy room, an exciting discovery of two wonderful people!! more of my new problems, spanish lessons and all of my love. Lynne: the position of "baby" and many remarkable years in the best family you could ask for !! Mom and Dad: a quiet household, one phone line, and my UTMOST love, respect, and thanks for everything you both are always doing for me. Thank you all for many cherished memories!!

I, Bucky Lyon, being of slim body and unpredictable mind do hereby leave to the following: To Joey-Karen, many felonies, a marlin, J. Daniels, "yes-no-YES", my driving ability. To Lip - MR. Ferrari - not a TRUE Porsche lover, "Hey, there are some chicks, let's nab'em", an even better cornering vehicular, we both know that we'll be taking even wilder Sunday drives at 40 yrs. old. To Jordache - Shuzbut, puke green car, punk chick in whirlpool, shooster pals, a definite insight to gastronomy. To Matt-S-Box, Bud Man, endless supply of tuna, Tracy B., "Is that really the last time?", a big hooter, once to be in the mood. To Dave F. - pals since pre-school, an endless supply of younger girls (not my sister!!) To Karin M. - a freshman romance and the fact that I'll always care TONS for you. To Donna - fun sophomore year, I hope that you've finally seen the light . . . BMW's ARE better. To Stacy - fun squirts together, a quieter mouth, a chest, more kisses - just if I don't have to bitch about disgusting lipstick! To Jill - a bigger body, another red on red, Prez of the G-Hill grapevine. To Cindy - your own little blow-up Mike-doll. To Cindy - calculus dropout, unique ability to ramble. To M.F, D.N., A.K., K.K., L.C. - TNC without us and best of luck as Hockadaisy seniors. To Monica - your ability to be a hooter head and an interesting evening at the St. Mark's sophomore parking lot in '83. To Missy - Fishy, Wombat, fun dates, you bring out the strange side of me - maybe that means something?, I want u to know that I really enjoy being with you. To mungo - an oranger car, your incredible promiscuity with punk rock chicks. To Hamlet - a foot race out of Yunan, fun double dates, the fact that G-Hill IS better than St. Mark's. To Michael - hooter pals, long talks about women and cars (preference?), thanks for helping me through those hard times. To Rick - a quickie with Phoebe. To John S. - a perpetual duck hunt. To Karen S. - a great ability to make me mad, I'm very sorry for the times that I've made you mad, I may not show it but I do care. To Kim - incredible times at SMU, our ability to instantly hit it off. You're a great girl (you mess up - but everybody does) I have never felt so strongly for someone as for you - I hope you'll always, in some way, be a part of my life. Thanks for such wonderful times. To Lee - even at college I will do my best to keep you out of trouble - just remember that I'll only be a phone call away. You're a great sis and I LOVE YOU. To Mom and Dad - Thank you for being so understanding when I mess up. You've always been there for me. Thanks for so much support and so many opportunities - You've made my life so wonderful and I love you both. To Greenhill - I leave fifteen long but profitable years. I've graduated from a truly unbeatable school and I owe everyone that makes it work many thanks.

There was a child went forth every day;
 And the first object he looked upon, that object he became.
 And that object became part of him for the day, or a certain part of the day, or for many years, or stretching cycles of years:
 The early lilacs became part of this child. . . .
 And the apple-trees covered with blossoms, and the fruit afterward, and wood-berries, and the commonest weeds by the road;
 And the schoolmistress that passed on her way to the school . . .

The doubts of day-time and the doubts of night-time - the curious whether and how,
 Whether that which appear is so, or is it all flashes and specks?
 Men and women crowding fast in the streets - if they are not flashes and specks, what are they?

These became part of that child who went forth every day, and who now goes, and will always go forth every day.

Walt Whitman

As I go forth everyday, I will always remember Greenhill as the place where I learned the importance of insight and friends.
 To my teachers, - you are truly the kindest people I've ever met,
 thank you for everything.
 To the Class of '85, - may you find your stars.
 To my friends (you know who you are) I leave nothing, because I'm taking every one of you with me to college.
 Most of all, to my mother, I leave the hope that it turns out to have been worth it all. I love you very much.

Well, goodbye . . . Oh, you mean I have to talk longer? OK, did you hear the one about the Jewish guy who . . . What? No jokes? You want a speech? Well, if you insist: My name is Gavin. I am a 9 year veteran of this place that I have loved and hated more than anything else in my life. But, don't worry. I think I'm leaving during a love phase (that doesn't sound right, but who cares. No one is grading this). I have a lot of people to thank (for both the love and the hate) but I'll try hard. Thanks: Mr. Foote for watching over me all these years. Mr. Solon for teaching me as much about life unscientifically as you did scientifically. Mr. Kilmer, who I'm sure wanted on more than one occasion to hit me on the head with a large hammer (F:MA). Mrs. Eastus who laughs too much for a teacher (not good for the GH image). Dr. Buchanan, A man liked (and respected) by all. Mrs. Roman, who taught me the art of writing til your hand falls off. Dr. Stewart, a truly devoted teacher. Mrs. Harrison who did so much in so little time. Mr. Wright, a real gentleman, for whom my admiration grows daily. And, Mr. Williams, an incredibly enlightening man. To my friends (they know who they are) there is no need to say goodbye for true friendship never ends. Elise, thanks for the earrings, pink socks, parties, back door JCC entry, attempts to lose weight, quick driving, jewish jokes, snoBBYO, U2, dreams, discussions of past and future, and your friendship. Pierre, tu me manqueras beaucoup. Mike our paths will cross. Jessica, our friendship grows stronger by the day. Kelly, you're always with the wrong party. Diane, save some Nobel prizes for the rest of the world. Angie, our times together taught me much. Ben, don't hold your breath so much. Matt, how am I going to make it through college w/o you to copy from. To both of you: our discussions about ladders, toolin, what have you, the 5th amendment, German women, puberty, music, rape, waterballoons, pyromania, cradle robbing homosexuality, exhaust pipes, Europe, hazardous lane changing, love of BBYO, nose size, DOHC 4V fuel ingested V8s, fake IDs, tennis rivalries, loyalty, the perfect woman, and various other topics might become less frequent but they won't end. Nothing will stop our incredible friendship. To my friends at Fretz, I will always be grateful. Babs, you're a great personal psychologist. Jack, your lessons in tennis and on life will stay with me always. I know I'm forgetting someone . . . Oh ya: Dad, Mom, Caeley, Lynden. Mom, at times it might not have seemed so, but you guided me well. I could not ask for a more understanding sensitive, caring, and fun parent. Dad, if I achieve half of what you have accomplished my life will be a success. I look to you for inspiration as I go out and pursue my dreams. Caeley, I'll look for you in future Olympic jumping events (but 1st, you'll have to put Amber on a diet!). Lynden, don't forget to mention me on TV when you are interviewed after winning Wimbledon. You are all incredible people and I love you more than I am capable of expressing. I will never forget where I came from. To all those who, like me, refuse to give into reality, I leave these words: Never Surrender, Keep your dreams alive (Trimph, Allied Forces)

I, Douglas Patrick Murphy, have spent the last 5 years of my life at Greenhill learning to go to college. It wasn't so bad, but I wouldn't want to do it again. I learned a lot by the faculty and me have want to thank them of. Mr. Williams, you are an amazing man. If only I knew as much as you - and I'll always remember you. Bart, I am waiting for the day one of your books is on sale. No matter what happens we always seem to remain friends. Jan, I'll always wonder if things would have turned out another way and I remember days of Bowie and fun car washing. Richard, we are the late-night kings and you are one of my closest friends. Dr. Bonow I leave socks, stains, "no-spills" and moving pictures. Andy, I know someday I'll be listening to your hit record thinking "I knew you when . . ." Jordan, we always seem to spend our quiet nights at home together and you are truly awesome, dude. David, one person I could always count on and you win the best looking step-mom award. Danny, our depressing late night talks saved me and you are a great friend. Chris, wherever life and the Navy take you you will always have my respect. Chad, some of my greatest times have been spent with you. Six years of friendship is hard to put into words, too hard to try. Karen, you will always hold a place in my heart. I love you. Mom, Dad, Erin and Cass, I've had the best family anyone could ever have. I love you all. To everyone I left out - sorry, no room. To the world, thanks for everything, and stuff it. And now for something completely different - the future.

Grant yourself a moment's peace and you will understand how foolishly you have scurried about.

Marc R. & Kevin H.: ya'll are great, I will miss you & good luck next year. Larry Z.: 3 more years of G-Hill, have fun, & watch out for Mrs. White. Billy & Slade: I leave you the long drive from Lewisville and several carpoolers. Kenny: I'll miss you. To everyone else that couldn't be included in my will due to a limited amount of space: remember I will miss all of you just as much. Ya'll have made my 4 years at G-Hill liveable. To G-Hill itself: thanks for the chances you have given me. Bye for now.

Finally, to my family, I leave all my love, without you I could never be where I am today. Rosser, thanks for putting up with me I know that sometimes I was a pain. Don't ever forget that you are the best big brother anyone could have. Dad, I love you & will miss you more than you will ever know. Thanks! Mom, thanks for being my mom, I love you & will also miss you. Both of you have put up with a lot, I really appreciate it, more than I showed sometimes. Thanks for paying all those doctor's bills . . . I'll try harder next time not to break my leg . . . I LOVE YOU . . .

See you later,

If the elevator (of life) tries to bring you down, GO CRAZY!!

Mitt namn är Malin Pettersson och jag är från Sverige. Think about that for a minute. Meanwhile I would like to say thanks to all the good friends I have made here and to all my encouraging teachers without whom I wouldn't have made it. I would like to especially thank my Advisor, Mr. Stiffler, for all his help and support.

This year in America has been an interesting experience. Even though I almost got lynched several times during election time, I still stuck to my motto: "Swedes for Mondale", thought up by my Public Relations manager, Kelly Harvey. However, to stay alive at Greenhill, I had to abide by my other motto, thought up by David Shelby - "Swedes for Reagan". I say: These strange Americans!

I would now like to end in the same way as I started. Ett stort tack till alla för mitt underbara år i Amerika. In case you are really curious, let me translate it into (Texas) English: Thank ya'll for a wonderful year in America!

Before I address the following, I would like to pinch myself to make sure all of this is not a dream and that I have made it through my senior year in high school.

Now that I have come to this realization I leave the following. Andrea: my fellow moonchild, let's just remember listening to records, all the concerts (The Furs, Cure, etc.), noonie, Churchhill park, lying out at your pool, and so many more memories that still make me smile. Gretchen: GOOD LUCK with your modeling! One day we'll see you in Mademoiselle. Remember: countless parties at your house, being kidnapped, spending a whole summer together. What can I say about an eight year friendship other than, thanks. Buffie: the great summer of '84 (parties at Carl's, jogging around neighborhoods at night, etc.), records before volleyball, SPC '84 (party), Groucho Marx. These aren't the last of great times. Veronica: even though we haven't talked much lately, you're still special to me. Talks 'till all hours of the morning, writing poetry, you're great art work, analysing people in Shakey's, parties at your house. Let's never become too distant. Carl: suggestive phone conversations, a secret adventure, incredible parties which lasted until 7:00 A.M., your own bachelor pad, a fellow adventuresome person. Paul: even though things were a little confusing at times, I believe we've had some good times. Baskets Eatery, your apartment, a Thanksgiving dinner with my family, and chinese food take home. A bientot mon ami. Daryl: the cabanya on the lake, a great lunch at Fridays, a fellow partier, and many good conversations. James: many, many memories - ups and downs. You've brought me a lot of happiness. All I can say about the bad times is that at least we can learn from them. I know I have. I'll never forget you! Take care. Lisa L.: your crushes on M.L. and M.A., the Colombian Club pool, guys-bodies, eastern guys, Purple Rain. Marc: my first real boyfriend, on and off for five years, conversations about the future. Don't worry, we're not getting married, but you'll always be part of the family anyways. Andy: an aspiring musician, still going "steady" since the fifth grade!?, bowling, when you're famous can I tell my kids I knew you? Karin: I'm glad all of us finally went out. I loved being in your classes so we could laugh at each other. "I can't wait until exams are over!" Jennifer: You're a great sister. Stay home more often. I start to miss you a lot! You have become a friend as well as a sister. Someday I'll come visit you in Bean Town. - ILY! Mom and Dad: Thanks for Everything! I know at times I seem ungrateful but I appreciate all You've done for me You both have remarkable patience! ILY!! - thanks again.

I, David Shelby, being of overstressed mind and body, leave the following. To Mrs. Eastus: (notice the elegant colon) someone else to nag and my endless respect and gratitude. Thanks for challenging me. To Dr. Stewart: countless headaches but an awesome paper, funds for a J dept.!!!!, and my thanks for the advice and help. To Mr. Stifler: although I have known you for a relatively short time, I have grown to have a great deal of respect for you. Thanks for the advice and encouragement. To A.J.: LATE night layouts, endless phone calls, Harvard - who cares?, Physics and Calculus (Ugh), and someone to talk to. Thanks for being such a good friend. To M.G., N.Y. escapee; HUGE, Calculus! eesh! What have you. To G.M.: all the cars you want. To B.G., who gets excited about Calc?: a nice girl to settle down with. To A.K.: Annie, a rendez-vous in Paris, some risky business, relax, Mbah! To S.H.: a conversational navel, and a trip to B.K. in the partymobile. To Ade "Bdrienne" Beaker, the SLOW: une autre classe de francais. To W.L.: N.O., singers, horribly offensive hair, "you know who you look like?". To D.A.: a perpetual smile, a 100 avg., and some worthwhile advice. To K.H.: nice girl even if you are a democrat, U.T., you still owe me one. To K.C.: a good night kiss. To L.I.: Arnold. To J.J.: an ear any time you want to talk. To M.P.: a ride home (not to Sweden). And to L.F.: hmmm . . . what to leave you . . . I'll leave you my thanks for being a friend. To LB, BB, PC, PC, GF, BF, KK, KK, SR, KR, JS, DS, JS, CS, AT: since y'all are already gone and probably won't read this, I'll just leave some good friendships and some great times. To the Evergreen staff: Despite the fact that I have probably wanted to fire each of you at some time this year, I really do appreciate your effort. You've been great! To the next Evergreen staff: Good luck! To Farrai: I leave you a degree in something . . . anything. Thanks for being a good bud. Don't hesitate to call. To Mom and Dad: thanks for everything you've done to make my first 18 years pleasant and worthwhile. I love you. Finally to the Hill: I go away a little older and a lot wiser. Despite the stress, the pains, and the Vivarin nights, I am grateful to have had the privilege of being here, and I am especially grateful for the interested, caring faculty. I have truly learned the value of education. Now the last of the clan leaves. Another chapter begins.

 Biology. ILY. Varsity Cheerleaders, demerits, our best friend at S.M.U. - Ben Gay, practices before the sun rises, and the best of luck next year. Mr. Gonzales and Dr. Graves, thanks for being my friends as well as my teachers. Tami, PADRE '84, diets, my second family, our jealousy of Miss Piggy, the Lake Ray Hubbard summer, towing the Vette and the cab driver's girlfriend, our 10th grade separation, moondance obsessions, killer pumps, whose house are we sleeping at tonight?, A.S., G.S., & R.G. infatuations, a tan for all seasons, red roses, loves my mom more than me, your incredible boyfriend, bad mood muffins, and the disaster at Monop's. Thank you for caring and sharing and always being there when I needed you. YMBFAILY.
 Vicki (my twin), tennis rackets, borrowed clothes, borrowed cars, and a huge hug anytime because ILY. Amy, a cork for your mouth, and the trash to take out, and remember, ILY, because I probably won't say it again! Mom, the cancer booth, many laughs, and only good things in your future because that's what you deserve. Thank you for everything and for making it all work out - I Love You. N&P, thank you for offering me only the best. I Love You. To the incredible

I Buffie Strickland, being of occasionally sound mind and body do leave the following: To Jose, I can't believe I survived your kidding for four years, but seriously you're one of the few teachers I really respect, thanks. To Karen F., I just want an invitation to yours and C.C.'s wedding. Karin M., an interesting dinner at Prospect, spanish class, and please stay away from my car. To the Montero family, you're like my second family, I love you all. To Paul I leave a pack of cloves. And please be careful with the girls, well, just be careful. Daryl, a trip to the zoo, an alarm clock that will get you to class, parties in your cabana, and the hope that someday you'll find a really nice girl. To Gretchen "S.M.U. guys, not us, we like Nicholas Cage." The many New Year's Eve parties. Were we actually there? A fun dinner at Chili's. I hope that they have fajitas in Germany. Lara, I know you'll find that guy you are looking for, I just hope he isn't J.C. or M.L.! Spending the night at you know who's house last summer, and listening to records and laughing forever. Andy (my twin), the summer between eighth and ninth grade. "Back Street Girl". We have a special friendship. You better not forget me when you're famous. Andrea (my sister), a friendship that started in sixth grade. You know I was only kidding you about torpedo b.'s, driving a tank, and your messy room, well, maybe the first two. I leave our trips to exotic places like Port Aransas, Snowmass, and New Braunfels to name a few. Then there was Spain, those guys are for us. I can't wait till next summer. You know we will be friends forever, my kids will call you Aunt Andrea! Carl, a first date at Chili's, driving my car in the rain, Paul's bathroom, our kitty that I don't want to give up, and take care of Noonie jr. Your the first guy I told what I told you. Your my bestest friend. I love you. Veronica we have come a long way since Mr. Doocy's math class and our trip to Galveston (Ed). I leave all the weird pictures we took, since you have most of them anyways, booping noses, the gay park, and listening to records. Spain, the first time and all the others. Someday we'll have our business in Europe!! To Philip and Will, you're really not bad kids after all. To Mom, Dad, Jane, and Dad I know I have been a pain, but wasn't it all worth it? Wait, don't answer that. I can't thank you enough. I love you all! To everyone, you know it's not goodbye it's just see you later. Greenhill, it has been fun but I GLADLY leave you!

May you never have anything to prove to me. Marc the sharc - 15 years is a long time, baby. What can I say besides, "I Love You." Matt Ireland - John Belushi's life isn't over until we decide it is. Remember: You weren't given the short end of life's stick, just a short stick. Remember: Punk girls beat preps, every time. Eddy B. IV (heir to E.B.L. III) - Be yourself, I'll support you. Barton Kelly - The 5th grade naturalist, 7th grade comedian, 9th grade remedial learner, 10th grade punk & now 12th grade philosopher. I love and respect you for the chameleon you truly are. Karen (TSGIK) - If we'd done half of the things we were accused of doing, I'd be a happy man. Douggie - May you one day be king. KT y las chicas - Y'all have something that rhymes w/housecalls. I respect you for it. The Lanes - Everyone should have a second family, one day I'll buy y'all one. Abe & Edna - Call me if you ever need some money or you need someone to go out with. Darrel - Do what you want, be what you will, as long as you don't hurt anyone, and remember, I am your friend. Gavin - Do I sense the start of a beautiful, new relationship? Let's hope so. Mum and Dad - Had you given me your love and nothing more - Dayenu. To all the people I've excluded - Remember: Einstein said that time is relative to the observer. I was called everything from Sophie to Soapy, there was never a day when my Colombian accent wasn't laughed at, I constantly had to deny rumors that I swing through trees wearing little leopard suits "way down there" in the wild jungles of South America, and I loved every minute of it. Thanks for a great time! -Sonia

Being an exchange student at Greenhill has been a fantastic experience. If it were possible, I would repeat it, not once, but several times, and I encourage all of you who have the "guts", because that's all it takes, to try it. There aren't many people in the world who can even dream of it.

I sincerely congratulate the entire school for its great spirit and for having made us feel at home. To the Seniors, congratulations and best wishes in what is to come. To the Juniors, keep up the good work . . . we only have one more year to go and then we're OUT!!! Good luck to everybody.

I'll miss you all. -Carla

To sum it all up, you just can't sum it all up. It was just great. Thanks. -Kurt

Thank you for making my stay such a wonderful and enriching experience. There is only one Greenhill and one group of people like all of you. You are great! I don't want to say "adios", but "hope to see you again soon", I know we will. To Mimi, Mark, and their parents, friends and teachers, Mr. Stifler and Mr. Foote: I love you! -Tania

This school has so much to give. It is so generous in her relationship that the person who has the chance to frequent this school leaves it enriched with a marvelous experience. All contribute to a wonderful human experience for everyone, and all are motivated by a common hunger for knowledge. That's why GHS is a sort of magic school. For all that, thank you very much. -Pierre

This year at Greenhill has been a fantastic experience. I have enjoyed myself very much even if it has been hard many times. I can't put it all in words, I can just say: "thank you very much." -Malin

Pre-schoolers have many opportunities to express themselves through art, activities and interaction.

Center right: Ms. Strachan smiles approvingly at the maps of Texas that her kindergarteners have created.

Center: Zachary Mapes is not only a western cowboy but also an artist of renown.

Top Center: The variety of personalities and dreams was expressed in the choices of costumes by Alex Piel, Brian Glick, Tracy Klein, Nicky Friedman, Monique Hinkle, and Miss Strachan on Halloween.

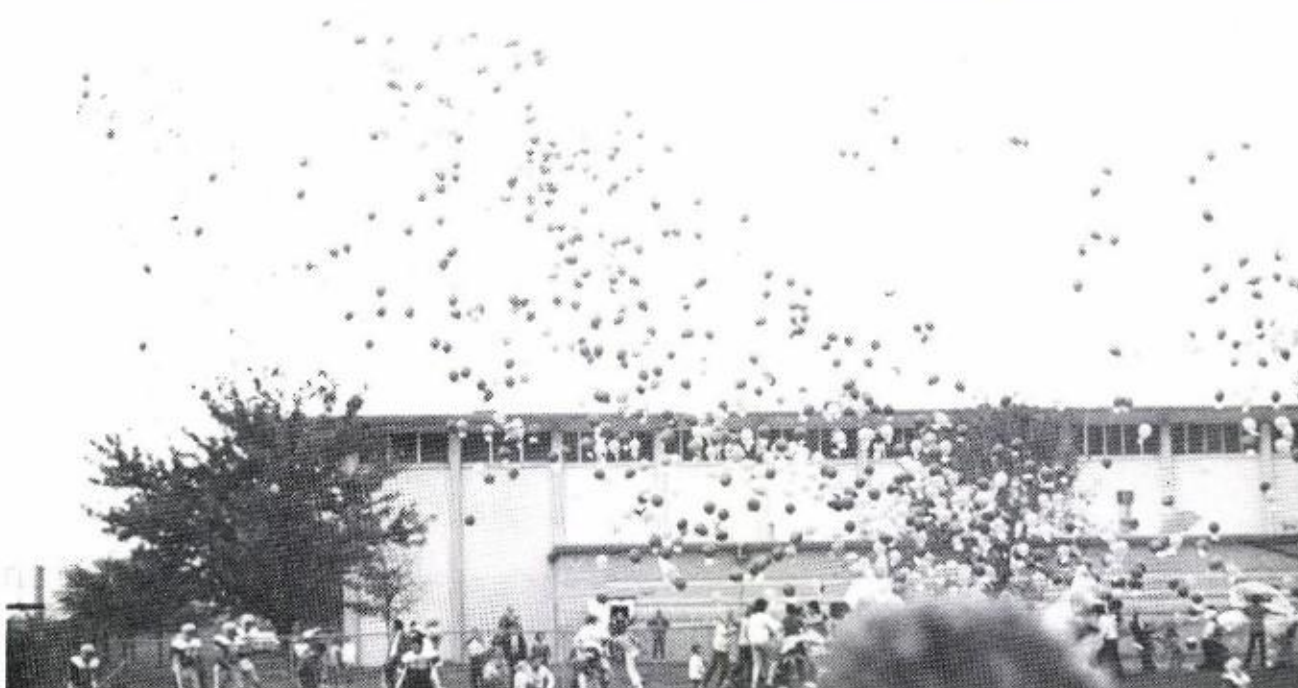

Top left: Alex Wettreich, Conn Walters, and Holland Gary, make peace in the fourth grade Thanksgiving play; the production is in its thirty-fifth year. It was brought to the 4th grade by Ms. Helen Misura.

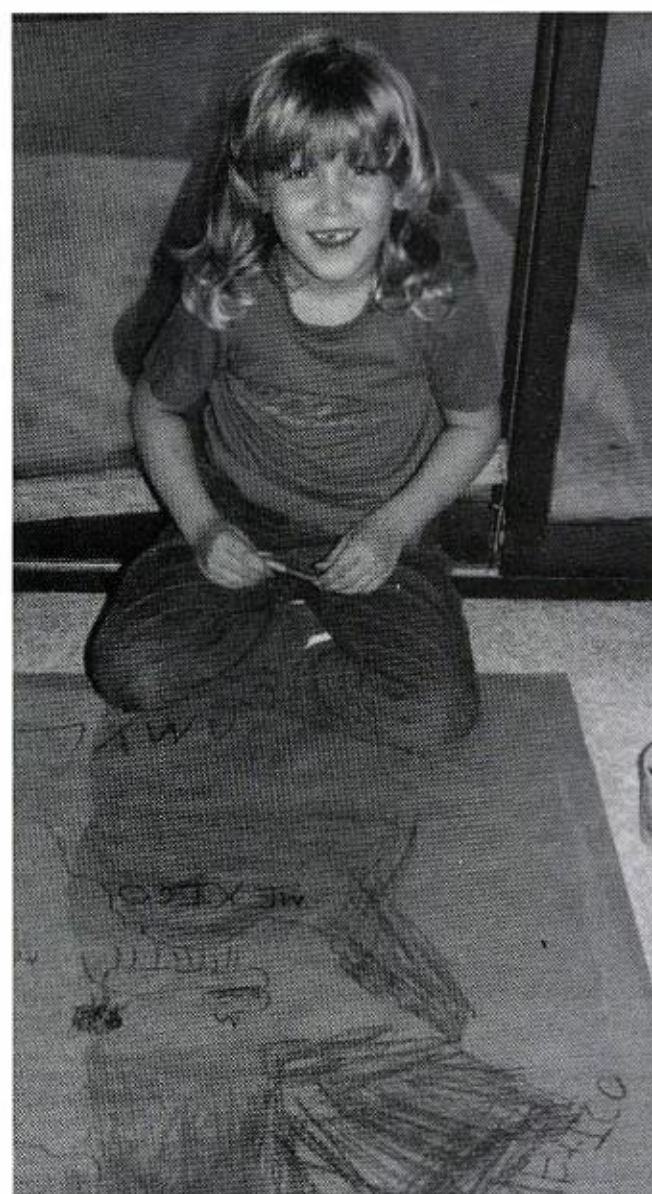

Top center: Becky and Lauren participate in the annual Preschool Power Parade held at Halloween; the processions were begun when Dr. Ian Rule became Head of Preschool in 1982.

Top right: The traditional birthday crown tops Ellie and her friend; Lower School birthdays are celebrated by making the student the ruler of the day.

Center: The seventh grade launches their balloons during the opening of Homecoming; this tradition was begun by the seniors of 1985 when they were in seventh grade.

Lower: This proud male peacock displaying his tail feathers is a familiar sight at Greenhill; several generations of peacocks have lived at Greenhill since 1959.

Center: The Winterfest dance culminates a long week of spring SPC sports activity; here are the nominees for King and Queen who will reign at that time.

Top right: Amy Lochart studies her map of Texas so she can better understand the world in which she lives. At Greenhill, social studies is part of the curriculum for all students.

Lower left: Eric Johnson celebrates Homecoming with his buttons, ribbons, and crepe paper; Homecoming Day is traditionally known as Green and Gold Day.

Lower right: The entire cast of this year's musical production, The Wit, sings and dances during the finale; the long tradition of musicals at Greenhill has included such greats as The Sound of Music and South Pacific.

Top left: A spooky Halloween drama was given by the members of the Drama Club and Thespians to entertain and frighten young audiences; this has become a fun and scary tradition to benefit a local charity.

Top middle: Greenhill grandparents visit their grandchildren at school on their own special day - the Tuesday before Thanksgiving; in this photograph, the visitors listen to an orientation speech by Mr. Foote.

Above: The fourth graders paint a scene for their annual Thanksgiving Play under the direction of Mrs. Pearce; in addition to creating the scenery, the students write their own lines.

Center: Mrs. Pat McGee directs the Preschoolers as they finish rehearsals for their annual production of The Nutcracker. She has been involved with this for 15 years.

Lower: Even as we finish Greenhill's thirty-fifth year, Lower Schoolers still make and decorate their own Valentine boxes; first graders are very eager to find out who their Valentines are.

Top left: Katharine Kirby and her fifth grade friends wear their strange headgear on Hat Day; traditionally, each day in Homecoming Week has its own theme.

Top right: Mr. Sears and Mrs. Austin, as "typical tourists" parade their second grade students past Mr. Foote's and Mr. Devin's offices on Halloween; the Lower School procession on Halloween is a long standing tradition which allows the students to show off their costumes.

Above left: Allison Aranson sells donuts during her free period while the Lower Schoolers eat lunch; seniors sell donuts for the first two trimesters of the school year, and juniors sell them in the third trimester as money raising for class projects.

Above right: In February, the teachers are honored with an appreciation luncheon given by the parents' association; in addition, students give presents to their teachers on Teacher Appreciation Day. This year it was "build your own" Salad Bar, and Ice Cream Sundae Bar.

Next left: Chris, Willie, Brian, Brad, and Lance eat dinner together at the Fall college counselling evening; at this function, Mrs. Wolfram, senior faculty advisors, seniors, and senior parents discuss college entrance requirements and deadlines.

Lower left: After all Lower Schoolers have finished their tour of the campus, they participate in homeroom parties. This special day has always been memorable in the minds of the Greenhill students.

Top left - Every student who has been a preschooler for the last 25+ years knows this special helper and good friend: Claudia.

Top right - Mrs. Wallace explains how to cut a carrot to the first graders as they prepare for their annual feast.

Far right - Mrs. Dickens introduces the audience to the thirty-fifth Thanksgiving play.

Top left: Marc Rubin and Mr. Stifler enjoy themselves at a soccer game; they are just two of the many enthusiastic fans who attend Greenhill sports activities.

Top right: Eighth grader Richard Greagor works on research for the debate topic; other students, like Richard, also go to the library to study and do homework.

Center: Adam Winship, Connor Hopkins, and Granger Dale satiate their appetites at the seventh grade's Shane Day; seventh graders eagerly eat all of the chili, cornbread, and desserts they have prepared on their own.

Lower: Jeff Fiedelman and David Chung are determined to win the football game against Dallas Christian; the excitement that the football players create is contagious, especially on game days.

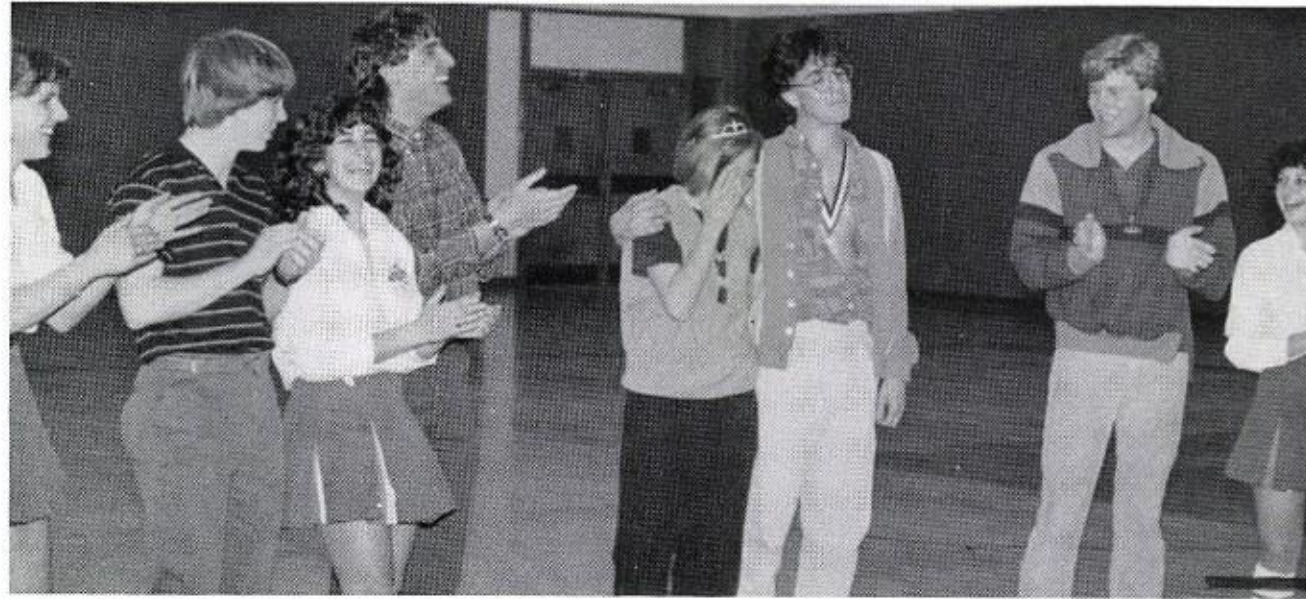

Top left: March 25th, a special day for the Spring Inductees into the National Honor Society. New members include D. Matyas, E. Koutras, M. Menzer, S. Siegel, J. Goodnight, A. Foote.

Top right: Clay Deniger and Abram Castro help wrap presents at Christmas time; during the holiday season, each grade in the Upper School adopted one or two less fortunate families and brought joy into their lives with toys, clothes, food, and appliances.

Lower left: Junior Kyle Rovinsky does a hurky jump at an Upper School pep rally; players representing different sports teams dress as cheerleaders at rallies to add to school spirit.

Lower right: Primer student Josh Goldberg works hard at putting a Thanksgiving Day puzzle together; Lower School students participate in many exciting activities on this special American holiday.

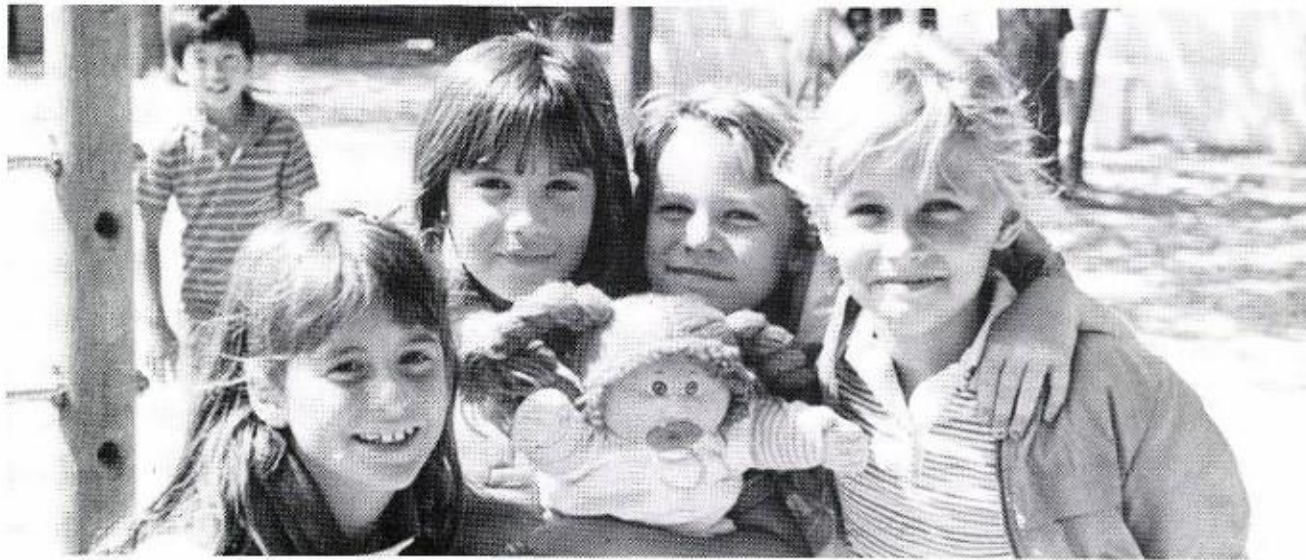

Lower left: Carey Hartin and Kim Williams relax on the fifth grade campout at Pine Cove; the excursion allowed the students the opportunity to play games and enjoy other recreational activities.

Center: Second graders Marcie Norton, Candy Burone, Ellie Fanning, and Jaime Glick look forward to their recess time because they are fond of playing together with their dolls.

Top: Katy Cassidy and Jordan Susman are announced as this year's Winterfest Queen and King at the SPC pep rally; this crowning is only a small part of the energy and celebration of winter sports at Greenhill.

Lower right: Dusty, Jason, Lawrence, Holland, Ryan, Trey, and Chris are all proud members of the Boy Scouts; their troop do projects to beautify Greenhill, such as the planting of flowers on the south side of the Lower School.

Lower middle: Mrs. Brittain reviews a list of newly received books; she and the other Greenhill librarians are always prepared to help students with library materials.

Lower right: Olivia Block and Coach Gorman discuss field hockey maneuvers on the way to practice; the players' dedication and intensity only increase the spectators' excitement.

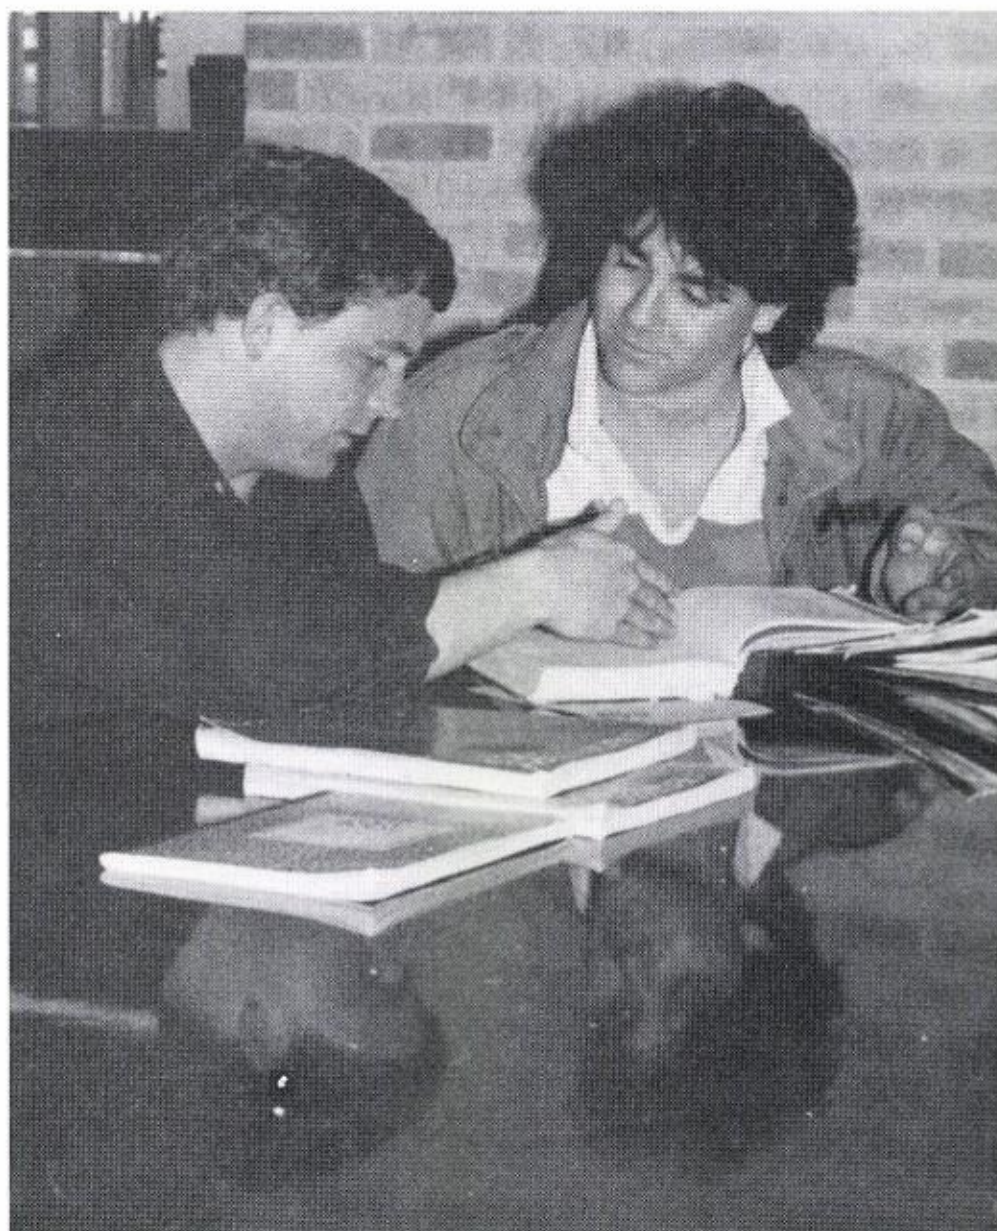

Top: The Munchkins warn Dorothy about the "poppies", the "funky monkeys", the "Kalidohs" and EVILLENE on her travels to see the Wizard of Oz.

Center: Eighth graders Michael Baum and Elliott Goodman share the challenges of chess as they develop their problem-solving skills; Michael is concentrating very hard while carefully watching Elliott's move.

Lower left: In one portion of this year, Mrs. Miller taught her classes about art in the Hopi Indian culture.

Top right: The primer class listens to a photo critique by a New York photographer on their first experiences using cameras on the campus and on their field trip to Golden Acres Retirement Community.

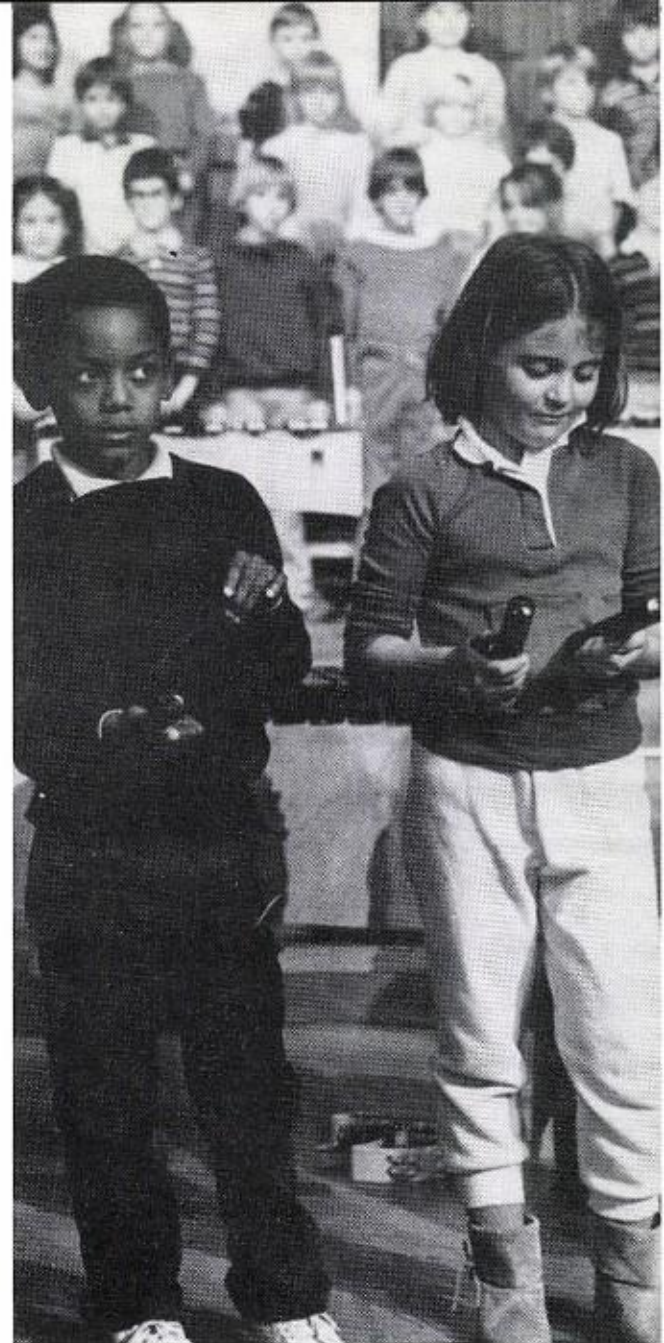

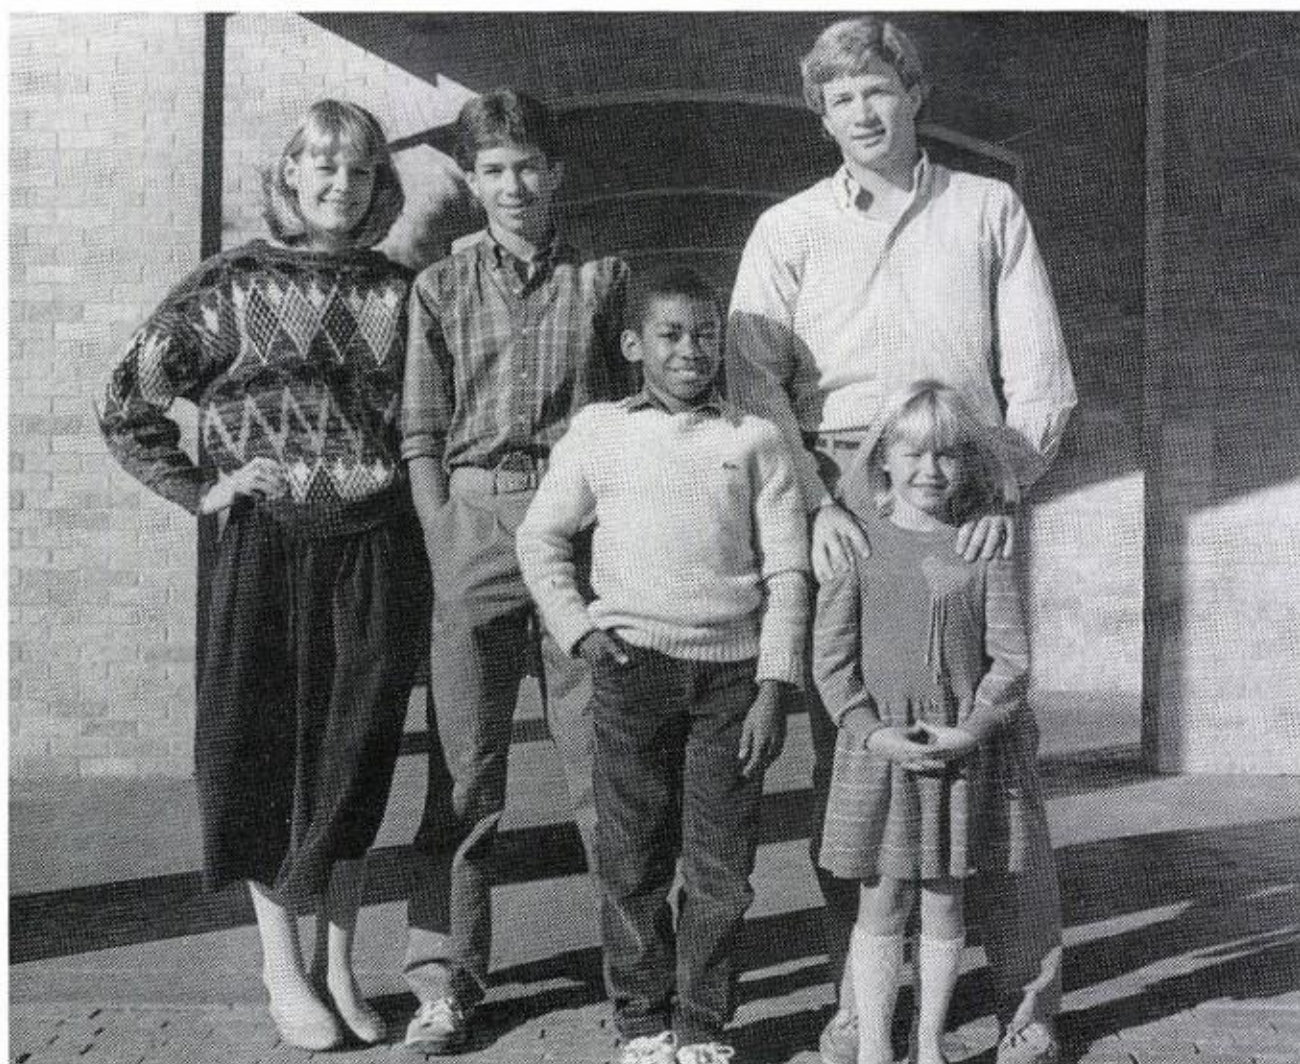

Center left: Jordan Susman reads morning announcements in the Upper School Commons; the announcements include reminders about meetings and deadlines along with personal announcements.

Center right: Lower School secretary Mrs. Henderson helps the primers carve pumpkins for Halloween; the children help to scoop it out and decide on the expression.

Lower left: Kurt Freytag looks on as Colin Rule demonstrates the use of different commands on the Apple; the students using the computers make programs for credit and for their personal use.

Lower right: Mr. Manes acts as chef and leads this entranced preschool class through a special cooking lesson; afterwards, the students use the kitchen to cook their own food.

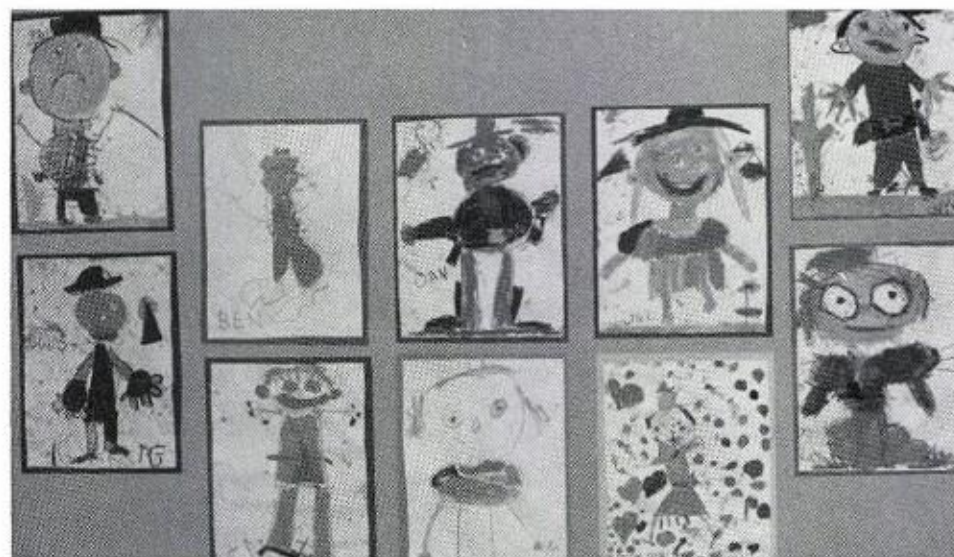

Top left - Jen Brutsché, Luke Pistorius, Holland Gary, Bucky Lyon and Carolyn Ley, represent their respective schools for a Greenhill advertisement informing the Dallas Community about our pre-school through twelfth grade outstanding educational institution.

Top right - B.J. and Megan play Orff instruments as the other first graders practice songs for the annual holiday concert.

Center - Mrs. Loconto, president of the Booster Club, Mr. Foote, Mrs. Estes, Chairperson of the board, Mr. Silver, Athletic Committee Chairman, and students at the dedication of the new stadium 1984 Homecoming.

Lower - Dr. Graves, 1984 Senior class sponsor, presented to each of the four school heads - Dr. Rule, Mrs. Carter, Mr. Stifler, Ms. Dickens, weather radios from the class of 1984.

Top right - Art - a way to express our diversity - helps preschool children describe themselves through self-portraits.

Top-lower right - Second grade students from throughout the metroplex show they are happy to be a part of the Lower School.

Center - These four year olds wait patiently after a day filled with numerous activities including computer, singing, and word skills for their carpools.

Lower - Family members gather at the opening reception of the Allen Street Gallery Photography Show. Among the students present are Greg Homan, David Natinsky, Greg Brown with teacher Ms. Stevenson.

Top left: Tracy, Nicky, Jon-David, and a mysterious mouse all support Preschool Power with a march through the Upper School; On Halloween, the preschoolers take on temporary identities and mix with the older students.

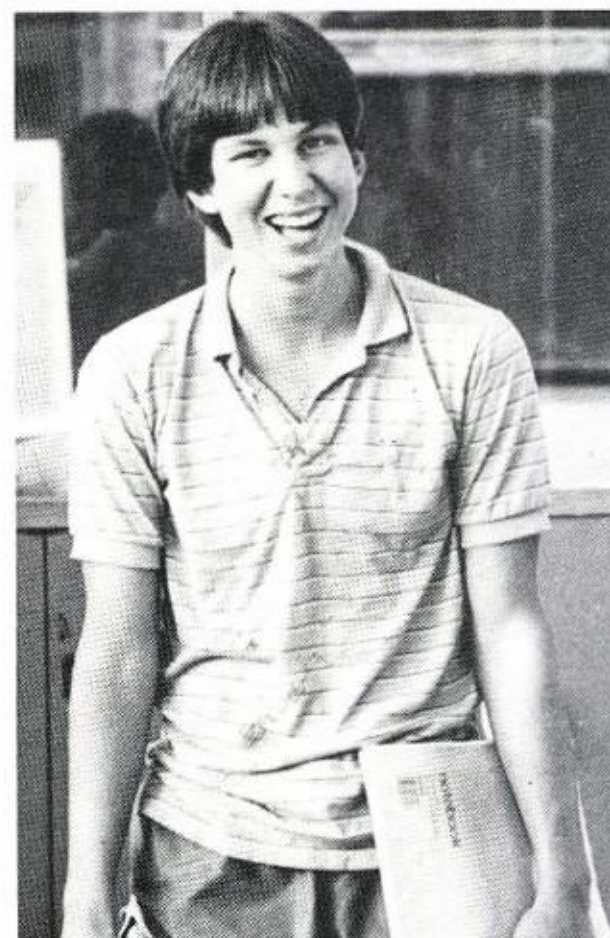

Top right: Mrs. Ellis and her "techmen" help give the correct lighting to each production in the theater; Richard Latin, Andrew Bright, and Doug Silver demonstrate that a knowledgeable student in any grade can help.

Lower left: Ryan Eatmon, Jason Harlow, and Lisa Stein find out what the next step is from the fourth grade reading teacher Miss Davis; teachers of any grade level make it a point to be available to their students.

Center: Ms. Stevens' third trimester painting class painted the rainbow boxes for the set of this year's musical production The Wiz; students and faculty of all schools participated in every aspect of the production.

Lower right: The diversity of the ages of the audience and the cast that shared the experience called the Wiz was filled with laughter, joy and tears.

Center: The primers practice songs and their movements for the winter concert; audience members include faculty, students' families, and Greenhill students of all ages.

Lower: Boy Scouts Eric Natinsky and Andy Gilbert and Varsity Cheerleaders Judy Sayah, Stacy Siegal, and Karin get the Homecoming game off to a great start; Hornet spirit is not only displayed by students but also by faculty, parents, and the Hornet Booster Club.

Top: Mrs. Velvin teaches her second grade students social studies on Halloween; of special note is Adam Rubenstein's original frog costume.

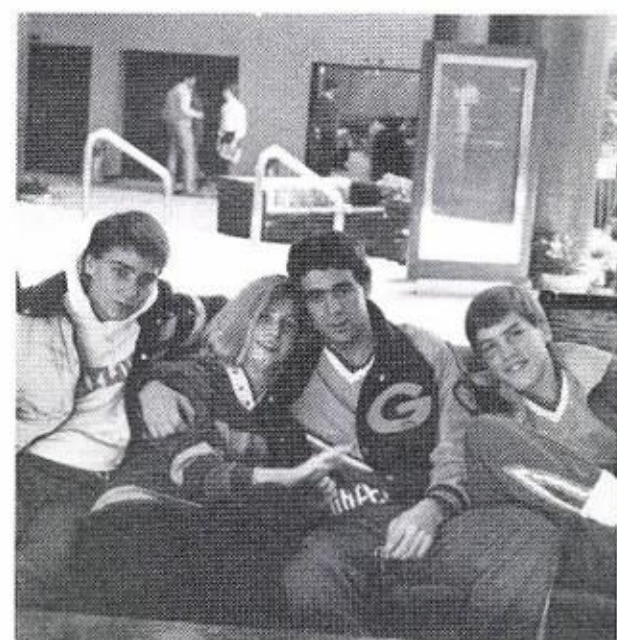

Above left: The Greenhill Singers are accompanied by Mr. Manes at the Elizabethan Festival in October; all participants wore period dress in order to heighten the cultural awareness involved.

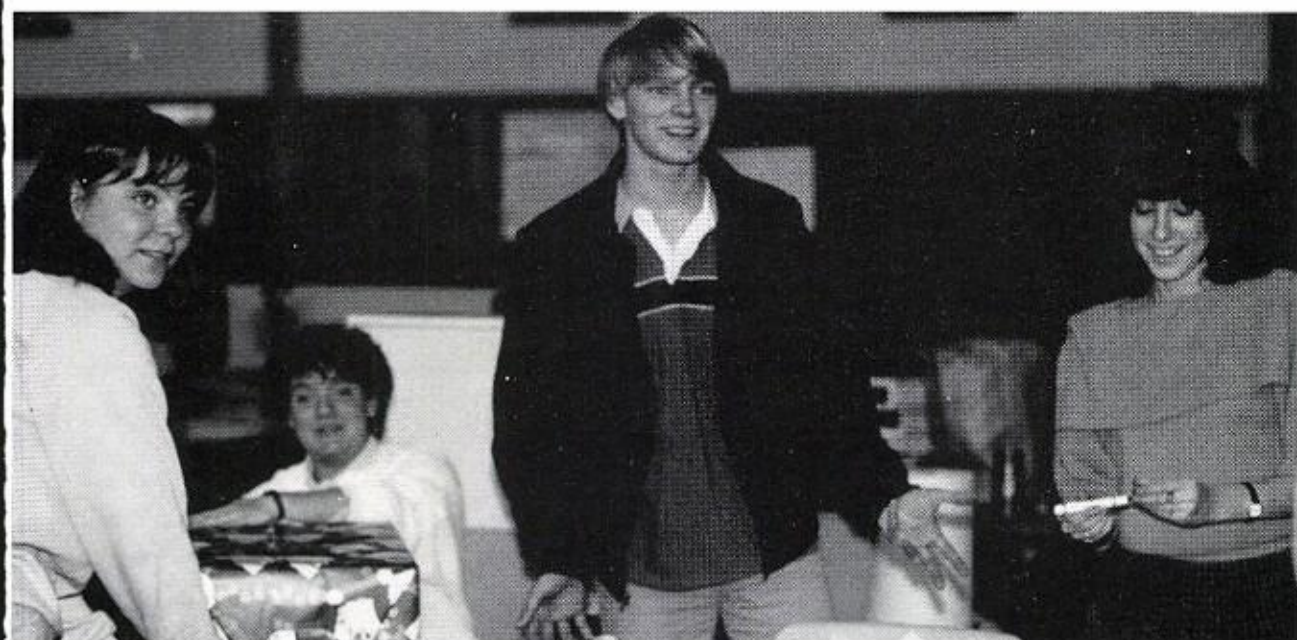

Above right: Junior Lael Iozzo acts as an usher for the diners at the Elizabethan Festival; Lael's dress is characteristic of the other ushers' costumes which gave the diner the feeling of being in an authentic Elizabethan Inn.

Center left: "Yellow-Brick" Dancers come from various parts of the Metroplex to lead us on the way to Oz. The combination of outstanding vocal and choreographed numbers to sell out audiences was one of the highlights of this year.

Center right: Brian Bolton, Lael Iozzo, Larry Zahn, and Jimmy Nolte relax in the lobby of their hotel in Tulsa; the basketball tournament they were attending included teams from all over North Texas and Oklahoma.

Lower: Diane Anderson, Stephanie Dardaganian, Martha Erwin, and Ben Shepard form the Greenhill String Quartet who shared their music with the audience at the Elizabethan Festival.

Top: Preschoolers Angie and Katherine play "pretend emergency" with a baby doll; such role playing activities allow the children to explore different areas of interest.

Above middle: Seventh grader Marti Okon creates a Kachina during her studies of Indian arts and crafts; these studies, in conjunction with the learning of Texas History, help the students become more aware of cultural heritage.

Above right: Second graders J.J., Scott, and Wade line up at the water fountain on International Day during Homecoming Week; the students were asked to explain what country they were representing and to tell a little bit of information about the country.

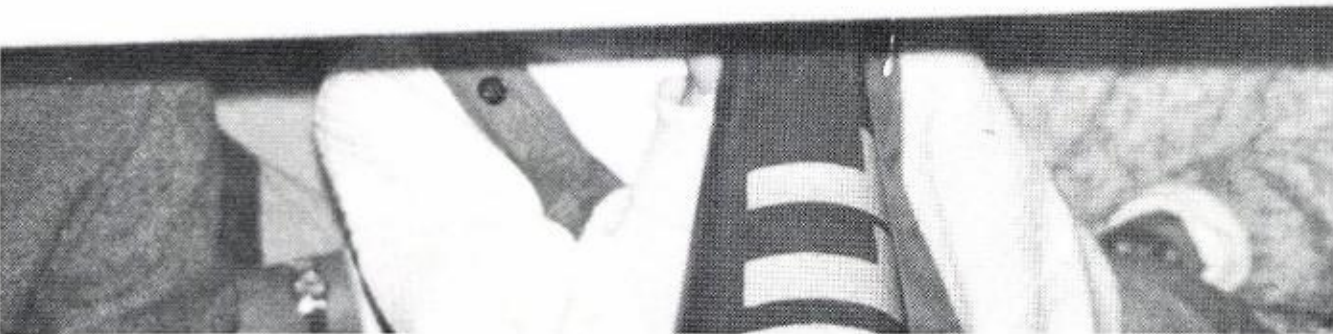

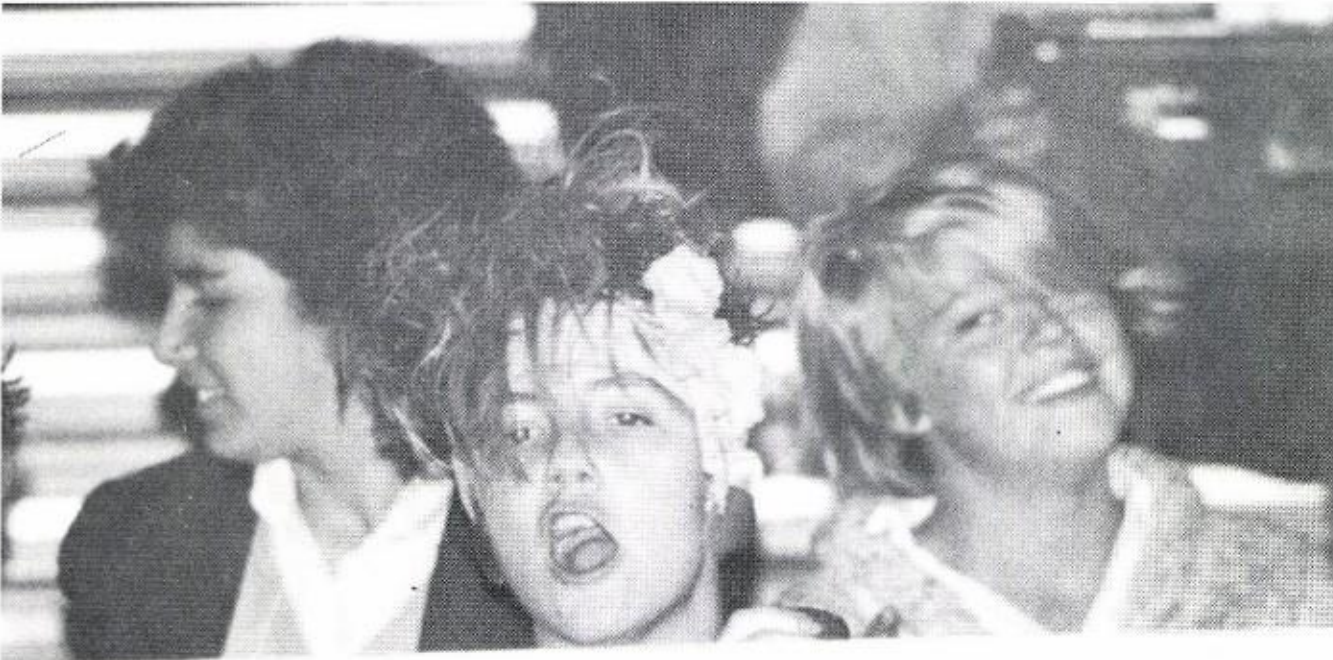

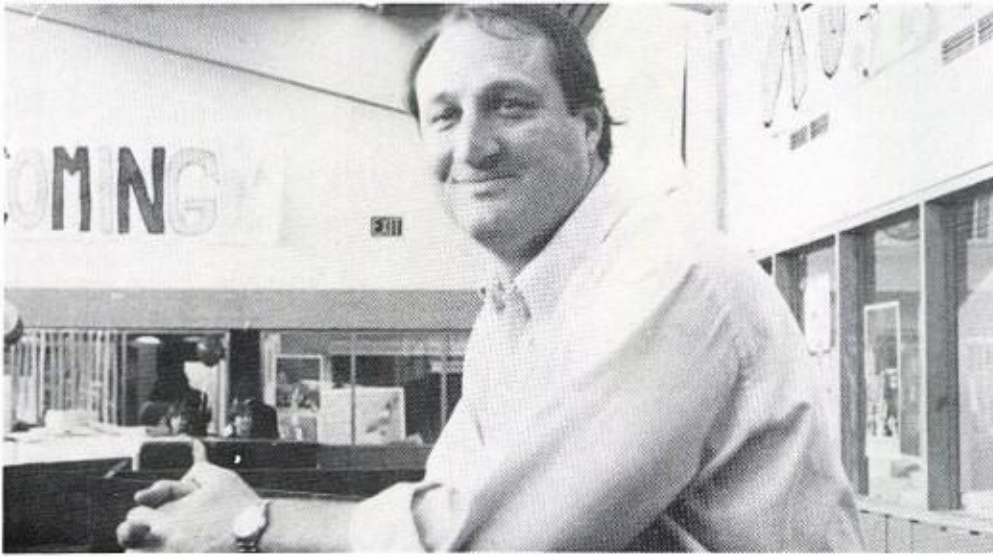

Center: Seniors Malin, Alicia, Richard, and Mimi wrap presents for the family that the senior class adopted at Christmas time. Such projects make students aware of the needs within the Dallas community.

Lower left: Becky "II," or Ms. Becky Becker - 3rd grade teacher and Ms. Becky Taylor - Pre-School teacher, Co-ordinator and ass't director of The Wiz join forces with the "Monkeys" members of football team, Marc, Abram, Clay, Richard and John.

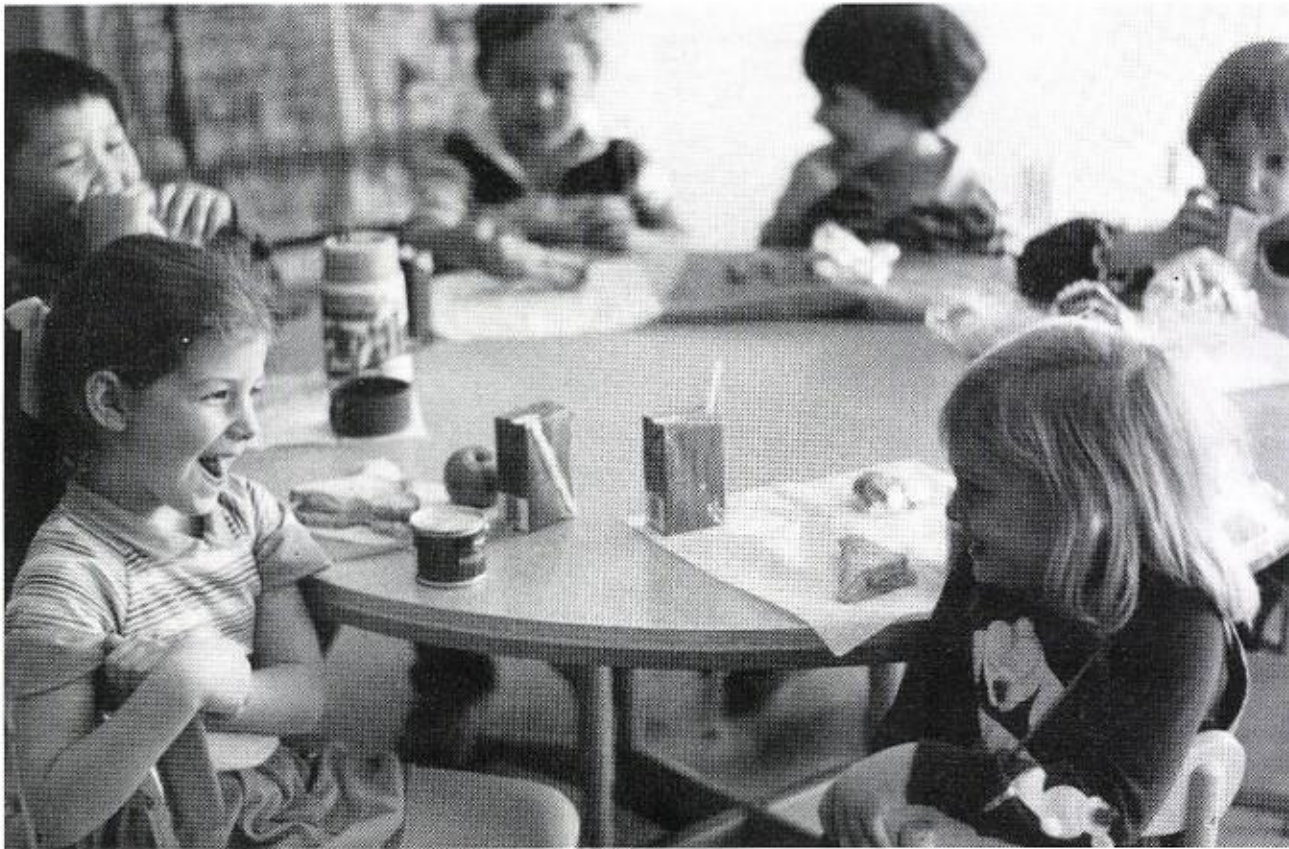

Top left: Greenhill's boys basketball team won second place this year in SPC; the team has grown in all aspects of the game under Coach Murphy. Top center: Mr. Phil Foote presents, to the audience on the Saturday night performance of the Wiz, the bronze dedication plaque of the Zale-Fields Theater. Present are members of those families. Top right: Eric Johnson, author of Teaching School, an NAIS publication, visited the Greenhill campus the first week of second trimester. On Nov. 30th he presented his 16 page document with 45 "blips" in an overview of his experience. His closing statement was "If I had children or grandchildren in Dallas, I would send them, with enthusiasm and delight, to Greenhill School." Center: Alison Fechtel and Cathy Myers enjoy their free period together in the Science Building; this year's freshmen are a group of students who are involved in many activities: sports, academics, and organizations. Center right: A Primer photographer captured these smiling on a Fischer-Price camera, a special project that occurred in February. Lower left: Sophomore Marni Stiffel is ready to play in the after-school field hockey game; the enthusiastic student at Greenhill is one who is involved in many of such activities. Lower right: Juniors Kyle Rovinsky and Kevin Hicks take a break from the game to sit on the sidelines and make new plans; the rain and the mud didn't stop Kyle, Kevin, and the rest of the Hornet Football team from victory.

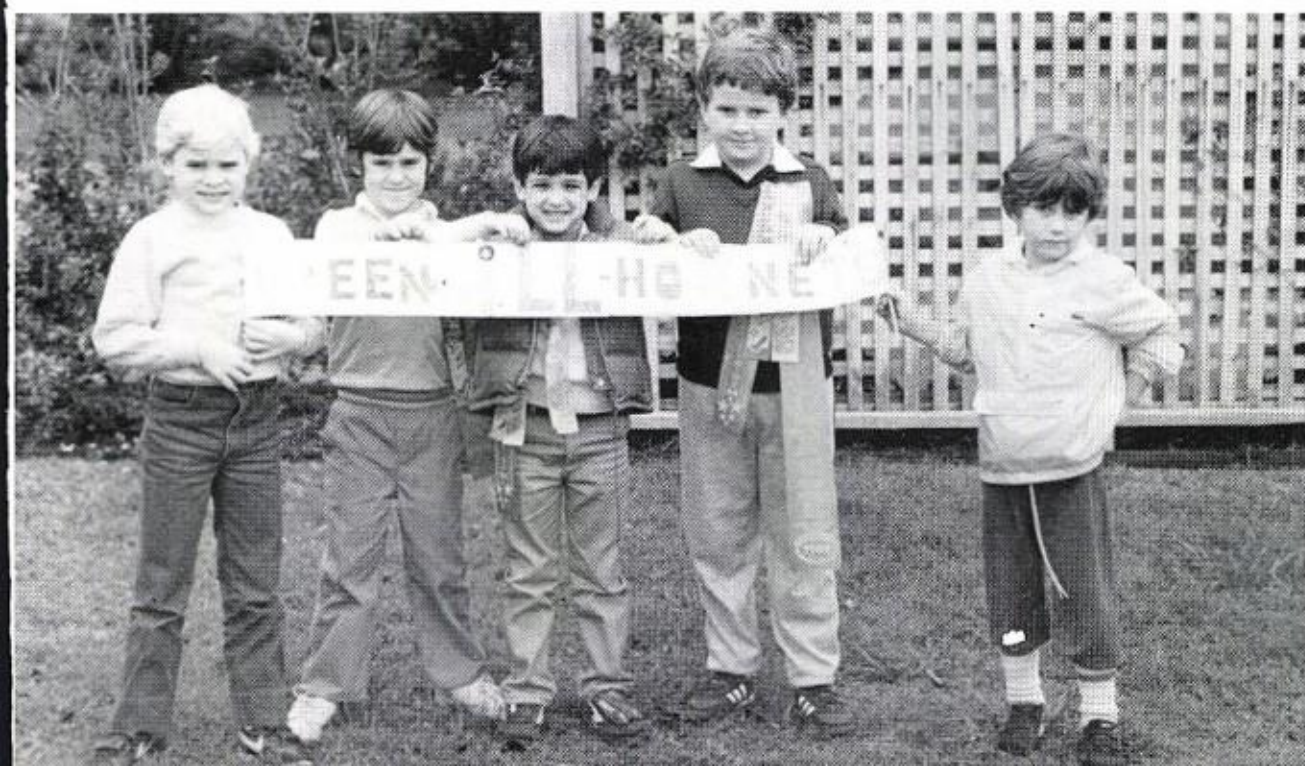

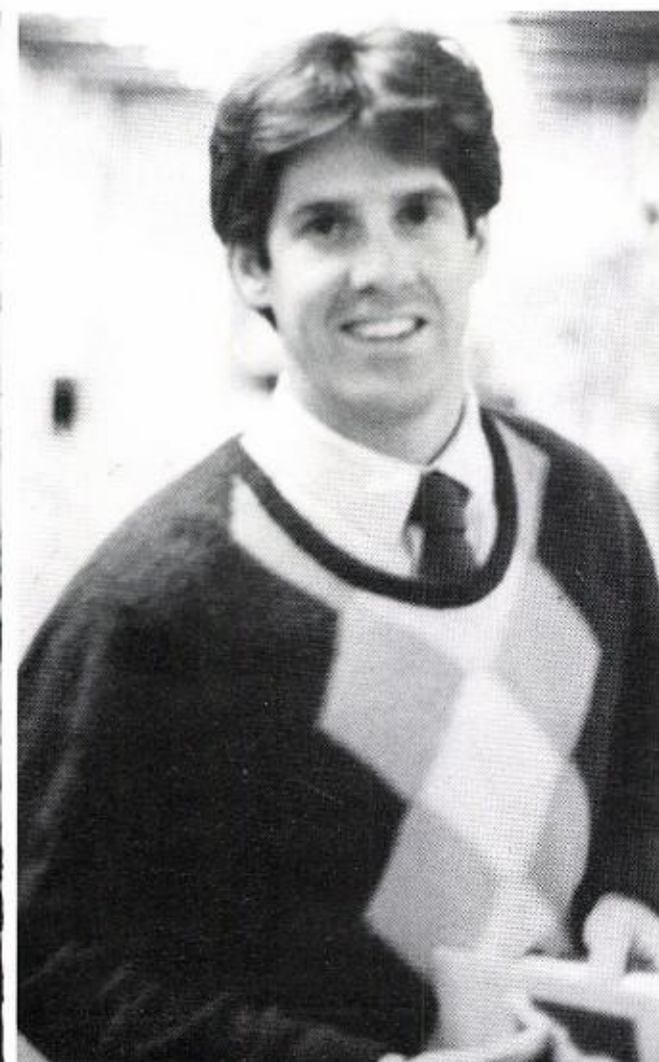

Top left: Dean of Students Mr. Murphy is happy to see that the commons he is proctoring is quiet and clean; students' cooperation in keeping the commons neat results in students' being granted more responsibilities. Top right: These four preschoolers are enjoying the view from the top of the house platform on the south end of the campus; the younger children scramble on all the playground facilities provided. Center left: Julie McLarry, Katy Cassidy, Diane Anderson, cheer the Hornet team on to victory at Homecoming; despite the rain, the turnout of Greenhill fans was enormous. Center right: The seventh grade band, aided by Mr. Bailey, performs at the high spirited Homecoming pep rally; their performing of popular songs, like "Ghostbusters" was very well received. Lower left: English teacher Mr. Norris carefully reads a student's paper; constructive comments that accompany the grade prompt the student to strive a little farther and enjoy his achievement. Lower center: Senior Jordan Susman, along with everybody else in the Upper School, cheers on this years enormously successful Hornet football team. Lower right: Ms. Thompson and Ms. Boyer and Juan look on as the primers plant bulbs for the spring of 1985; the added colors of red and yellow will brighten everyone's day.

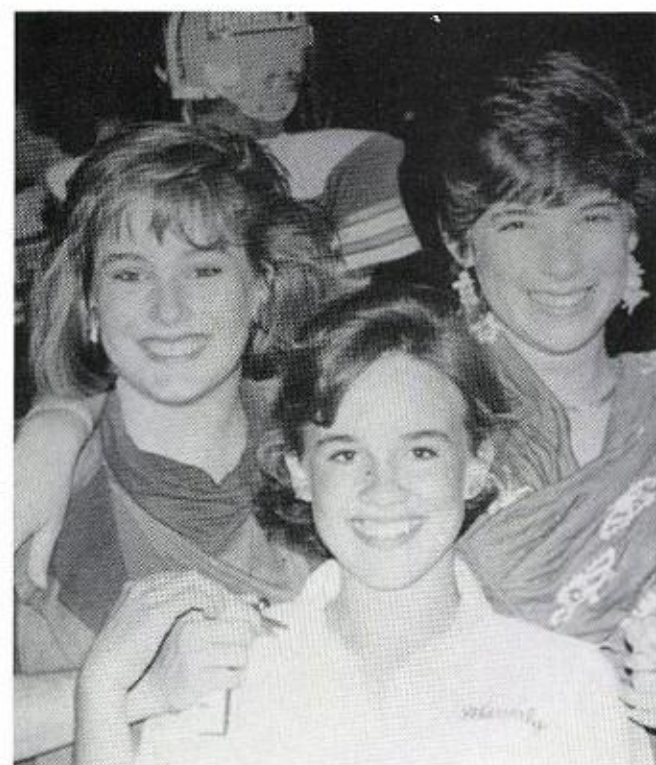

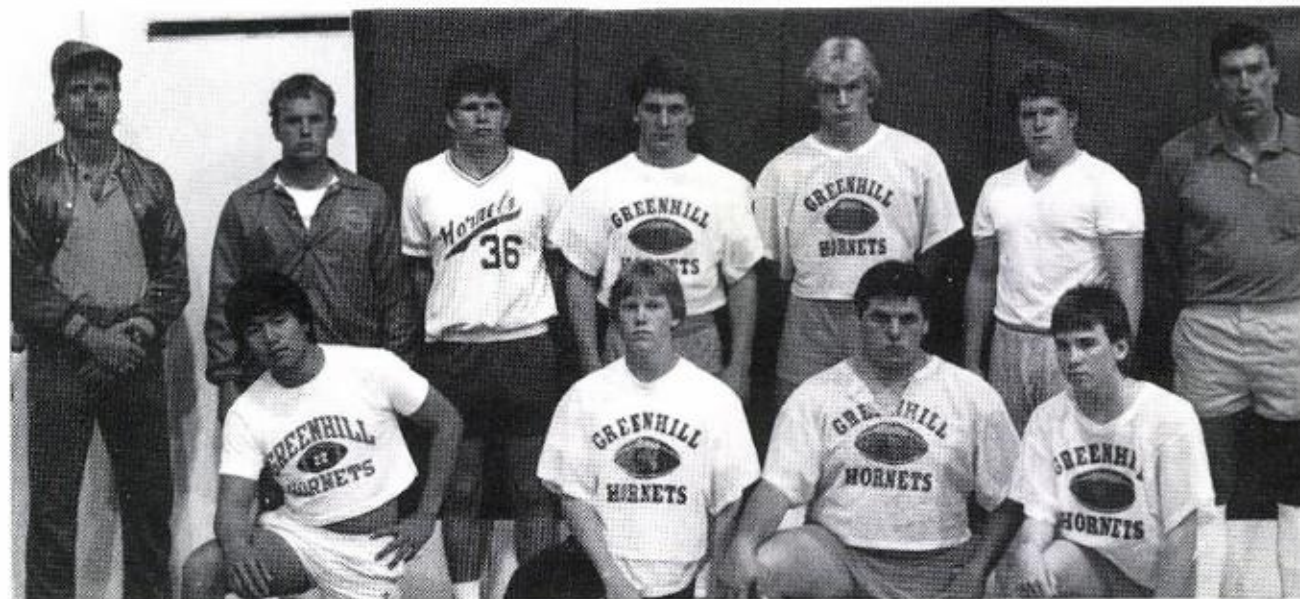

Top left: Two preschoolers share a joke over their lunch; eating lunch in their own building allows the preschoolers to meet other young students and to build fun friendships. Top right: Dr. Ian Rule, Head of the Pre-School, welcomes the Forever Club to the 1985 production of The Nutcracker. He has perpetuated numerous traditions and encouraged additional experiences for each and every "youngest member" of the Greenhill community. Center: Amy Kriesler, Mary Hofstedt, and Lisi Hogue tell the Trojans who will really win the game; interscholastic sports rivalry has added to the Greenhill spirit at games. Lower left: Scottie Pearson spent the third trimester of her sophomore year at our sister school in Cali, Colombia. She learned South American history in Spanish and enjoyed teaching second graders English as a second language. Lower middle: Three year olds romp with the horses on the south side of the campus, and the "Cottage"; this same area, near the music portables, also includes swings and monkey bars for the enjoyment of our younger students. Lower right: Jill Fishchel and Karen Finkelman look forward to their graduation in May; seniors at Greenhill participate in exciting activities like selling donuts, senior projects, senior pranks, and, of course, the senior prom.

Top left: Eighth grade Reading teacher Mr. Degener has just checked out a book he is considering for the summer reading list; Mr. Degener has increased his students' enthusiasm with such activities as asking thought-provoking questions and assigning imaginative essays. Top center: Junior Larry Prager relaxes in the Upper School office before lunch; the secretary, Mrs. O'Brien, and later, Mrs. Auer, has made the office a second home to Upper School students. Top right: Freshmen Susan Brice and Donna Budd walk together to their next class; the freshmen have a Greenhill spirit of their own with freshman orientation, class projects, and parties. Center: The girls' varsity soccer team protects their goal from their advancing opponents; excellent players and increased support have brought two consecutive SPC victories to the team. Lower left: First graders Eric Tragus, Foster Reif, Jarrod Beck, Hugh Burgin, and Michael Schenk display their banner for Homecoming; Hornet Spirit is rampant, even in Lower School. Lower right: Sally Darver, Waverly Ware, and Lauran Plaskoff cheer on the Hornets from the Greenhill sidelines; high attendance at the football games with standing room only is a common sight.

Top: Greenhill's "Power Lifters" train very hard at one of their favorite sports; the lifters participate in summer, pre-football sessions and go on to compete against teams from other schools in various athletic team sports.

Center: Amy, Lela, and Julie are happy that it's first period; Greenhill's curriculum and atmosphere enhance the students' desire to learn.

Lower left: Michelle Hennelly leans over the desk to ask Lael about her basketball game yesterday; attendance at Greenhill sports functions has increased dramatically over the last several years.

Lower right: A group of seventh and eighth graders gather together during half-time of the football game. Soon the 7th graders will be responsible for the balloon launch.

Top left: The preschoolers are prepared to parade around Greenhill at Halloween; the students' showing off of their costumes to the older students adds to the Halloween fun.

Top right: Senior Jessica Jines is excited about a grade she received on a recent test; the desire to learn is influenced by such enthusiasm.

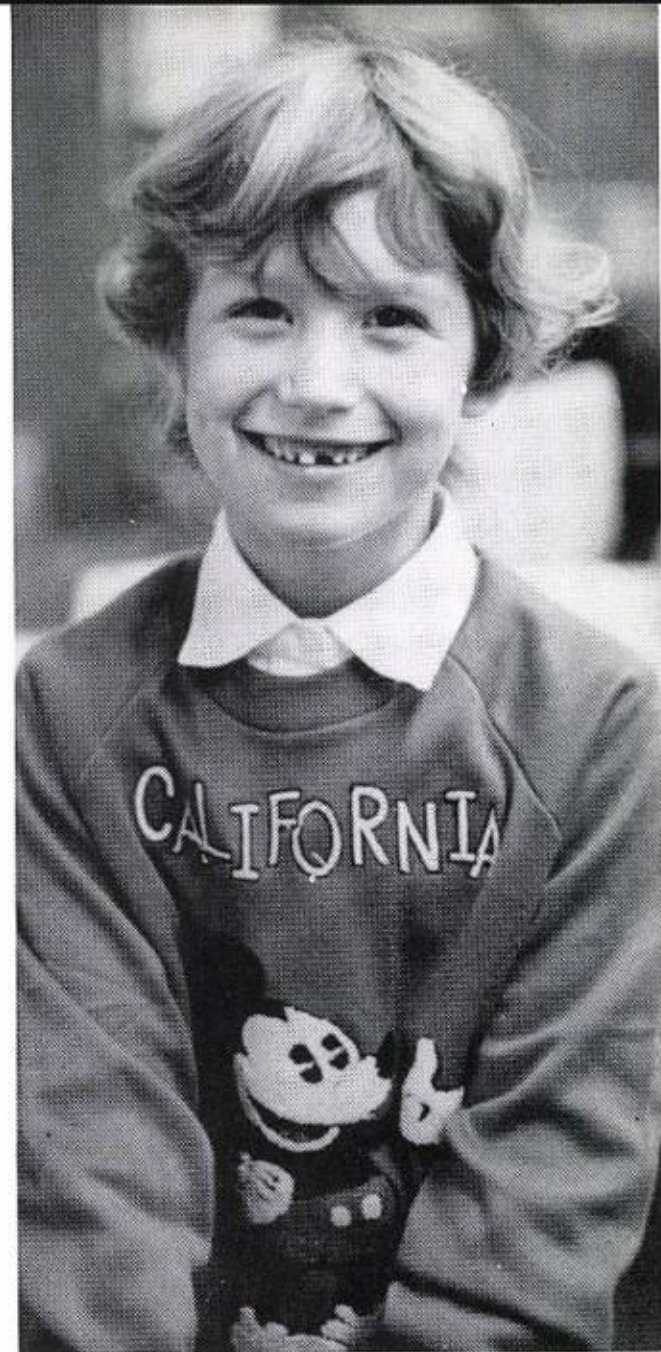

Center: Carla, Jeff, and Lauran enjoy Homecoming football game, even in the rain. Greenhill fans enthusiasm is not dampened by the weather.

Lower left: The fifth graders enjoy an opportunity to participate in a volleyball game during their campout; this is just one of the many activities that the students look forward to each year.

Center left - Mrs. Baker, the Lower School librarian, helps students select books and grow in their understanding of what is available in books.

Center right - Amy learns what she can do with a paint brush that her imagination helped her create.

Lower right - Upper schoolers, Judy, Elise and Steve develop techniques in dry mounting their photographs for display at the Allen Street Gallery Competition and later sent to ETSU and Sam Houston State University Competitions.

Top lower left - Martha and Stefani study vocabulary words in order to strengthen their communication skills.

Top right - Aaron and Nicholas create a 4-year-old masterpiece as they learn about size, balance, and working together.

Lower left - Clint, Ben, and Adrian learn about other nations on International Day. Their awareness of the world community will be emphasized as they proceed through their studies at Greenhill.

Lower right - The Big Toy strengthens muscles, builds agility, and develops peer relations.

Above: Junior Stacy Stiffel cuts negatives to put in to negative preserving pages during Photography class; Stacy has learned how to develop her own photographs and has earned her prizes at the State Fair of Texas and the Allen Street Gallery competitions.

Top right: Second graders Rachel, Adam, Hilary, Lauren, and Joanne enjoy trading stickers during recess; this pastime has spread from being dominated by Middle Schoolers to including younger students.

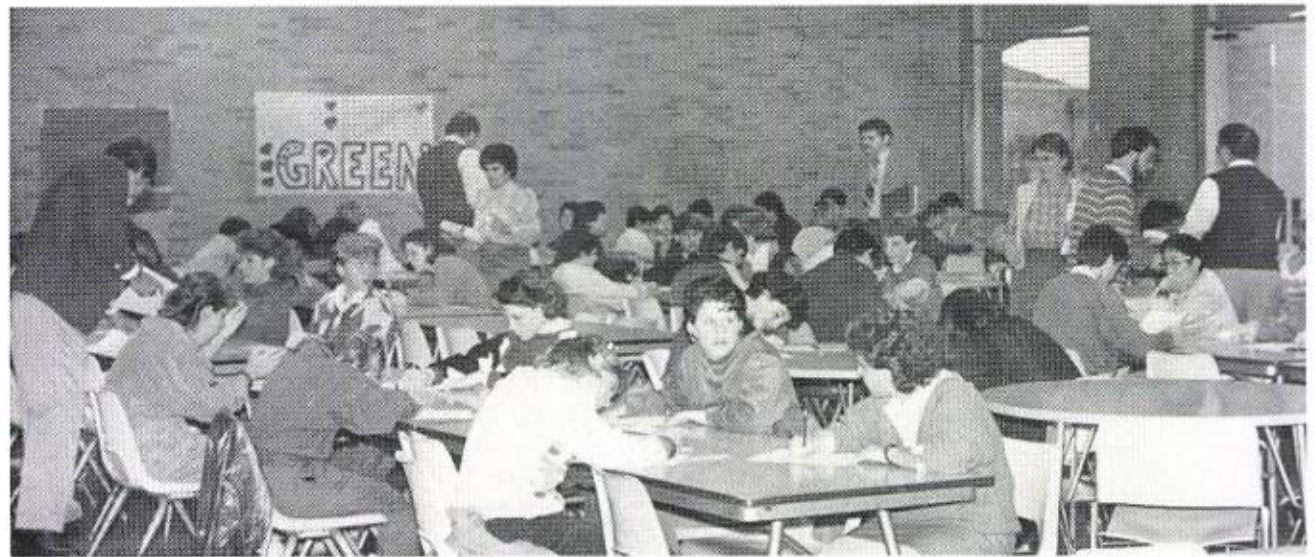

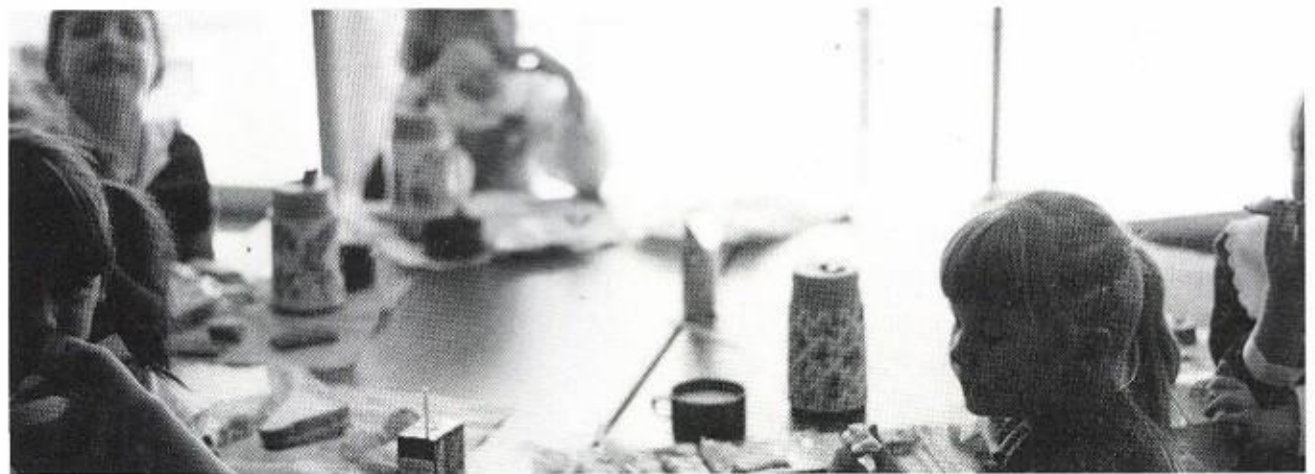

Second right: Third grade mothers help students make spooky spiders during the Halloween party; the children increase their knowledge by working with their hands on arts and crafts projects.

Left: Guest photographer Ed Lallo helps the Primers to understand the composition of pictures they have taken of their friends and the field trip to Golden Acres Retirement Home; this allows the students to gain a wider exposure to a variety of hobbies.

Lower left: Adam and Maryam carry the xylophone to the theatre from the winter concert; the students are introduced to many different instruments in their music classes.

Far right: Ambika Kumar and other Preschoolers build towers out of Cuisenaire rods in order to learn about their own heights; the students compare their height in centimeters to the height, in centimeters, of the towers.

Top right: The preschoolers eat lunch with their friends at tables in the Preschool building; as the students grow older and enter the Lower School they will "graduate" to eating in the cafeteria.

Left: Second graders Audra, Rachel, Nicky, and Tracy enjoy the sunshine, their friendship, and their snack time at recess outside of the Middle School building; within a few years, they will be learning in the Middle School.

Lower left: Middle Schoolers involved in the body conditioning program under the direction of Coach Samide are proud of their daily improvements.

Top left: Daniel Solon and Emily Manes romp in the play area on the southern part of the campus; as the students grow older, their recesses and free periods will be spent on play areas on the northern part of the campus.

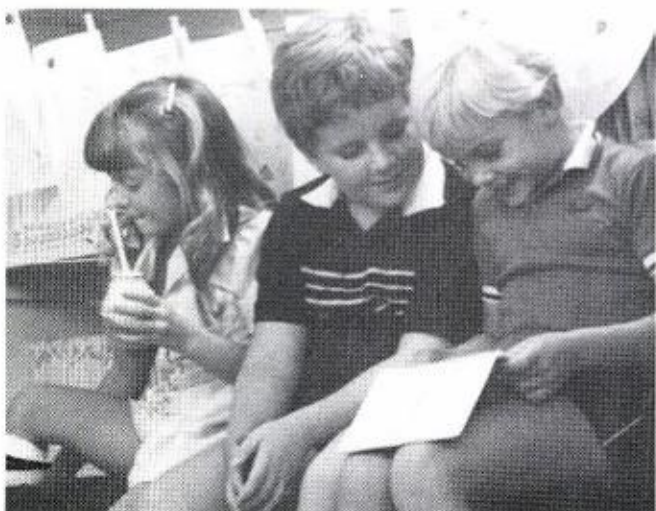

Top right: Ashley Oliver and her third grade classmates work together to figure out the answer to a question; if the students answer a certain number of questions correctly, then they advance to a higher level.

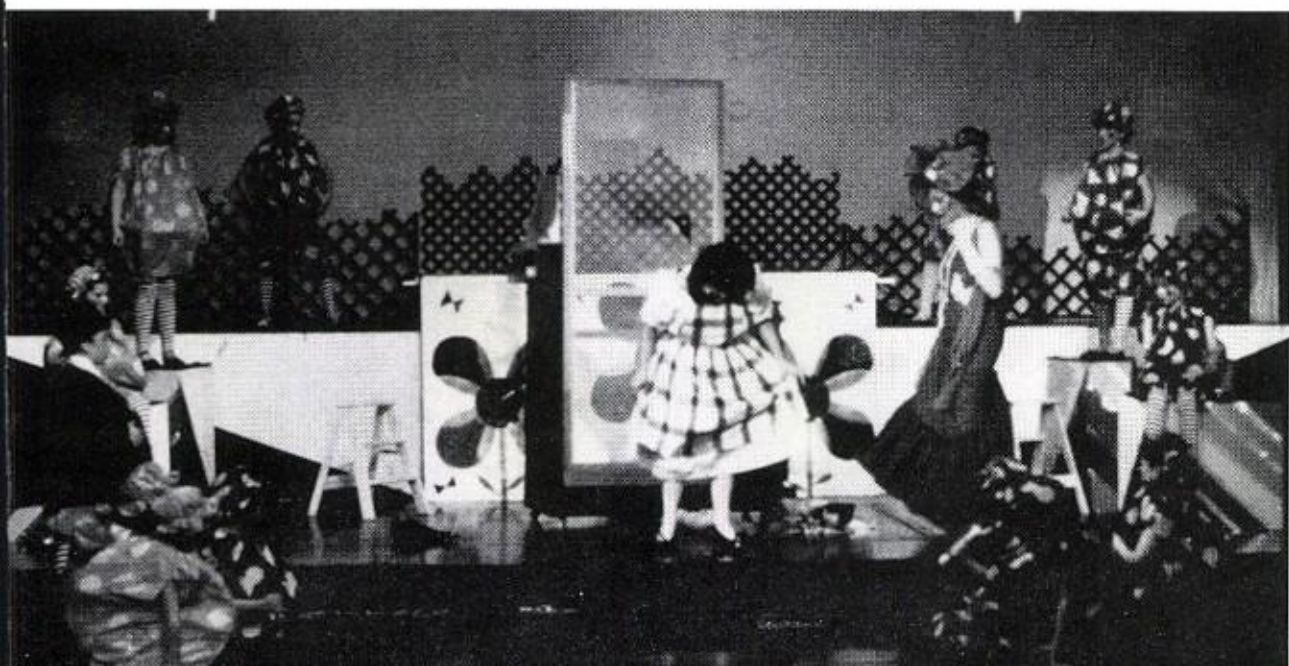

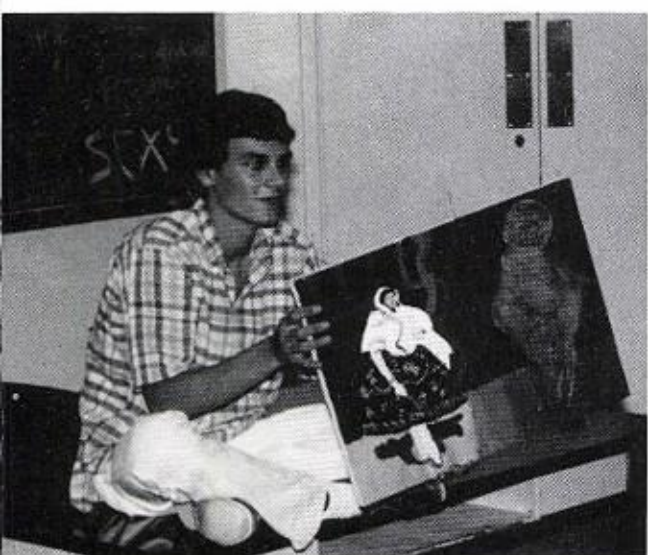

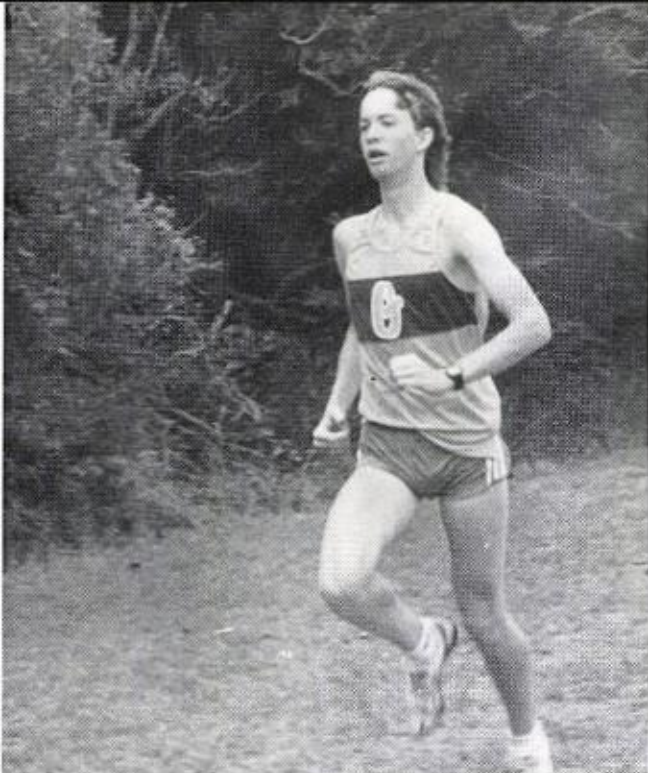

Center left: First grader Michael Dubois learns addition and subtraction with Cuisenaire rods; as he masters this, Michael will learn more complex mathematical skills with the aid of the rods.

Center right: Two typical Middle School students are on the way up to the parking lot where their carpools are waiting; the books and instruments they are carrying advance their skills both in academics and extracurricular activities.

Lower left: Erik Tragus is excitedly reading an outside reading book; requirements to read such books expose students to a variety of experiences and new worlds.

Lower right: Sophomore Amy Sigman lunges for the ball in a field hockey game; activities outside of academics enlarge a student's world and abilities.

Lower: "Dorothy", "Addapearl", and the Munchkins look at the magic red pumps. During the All School Musical, Lower Schoolers and Middle Schoolers have an opportunity to act, sing and dance along side the leads in Upper School who have been involved in theater throughout their years at Greenhill.

Putting the Special

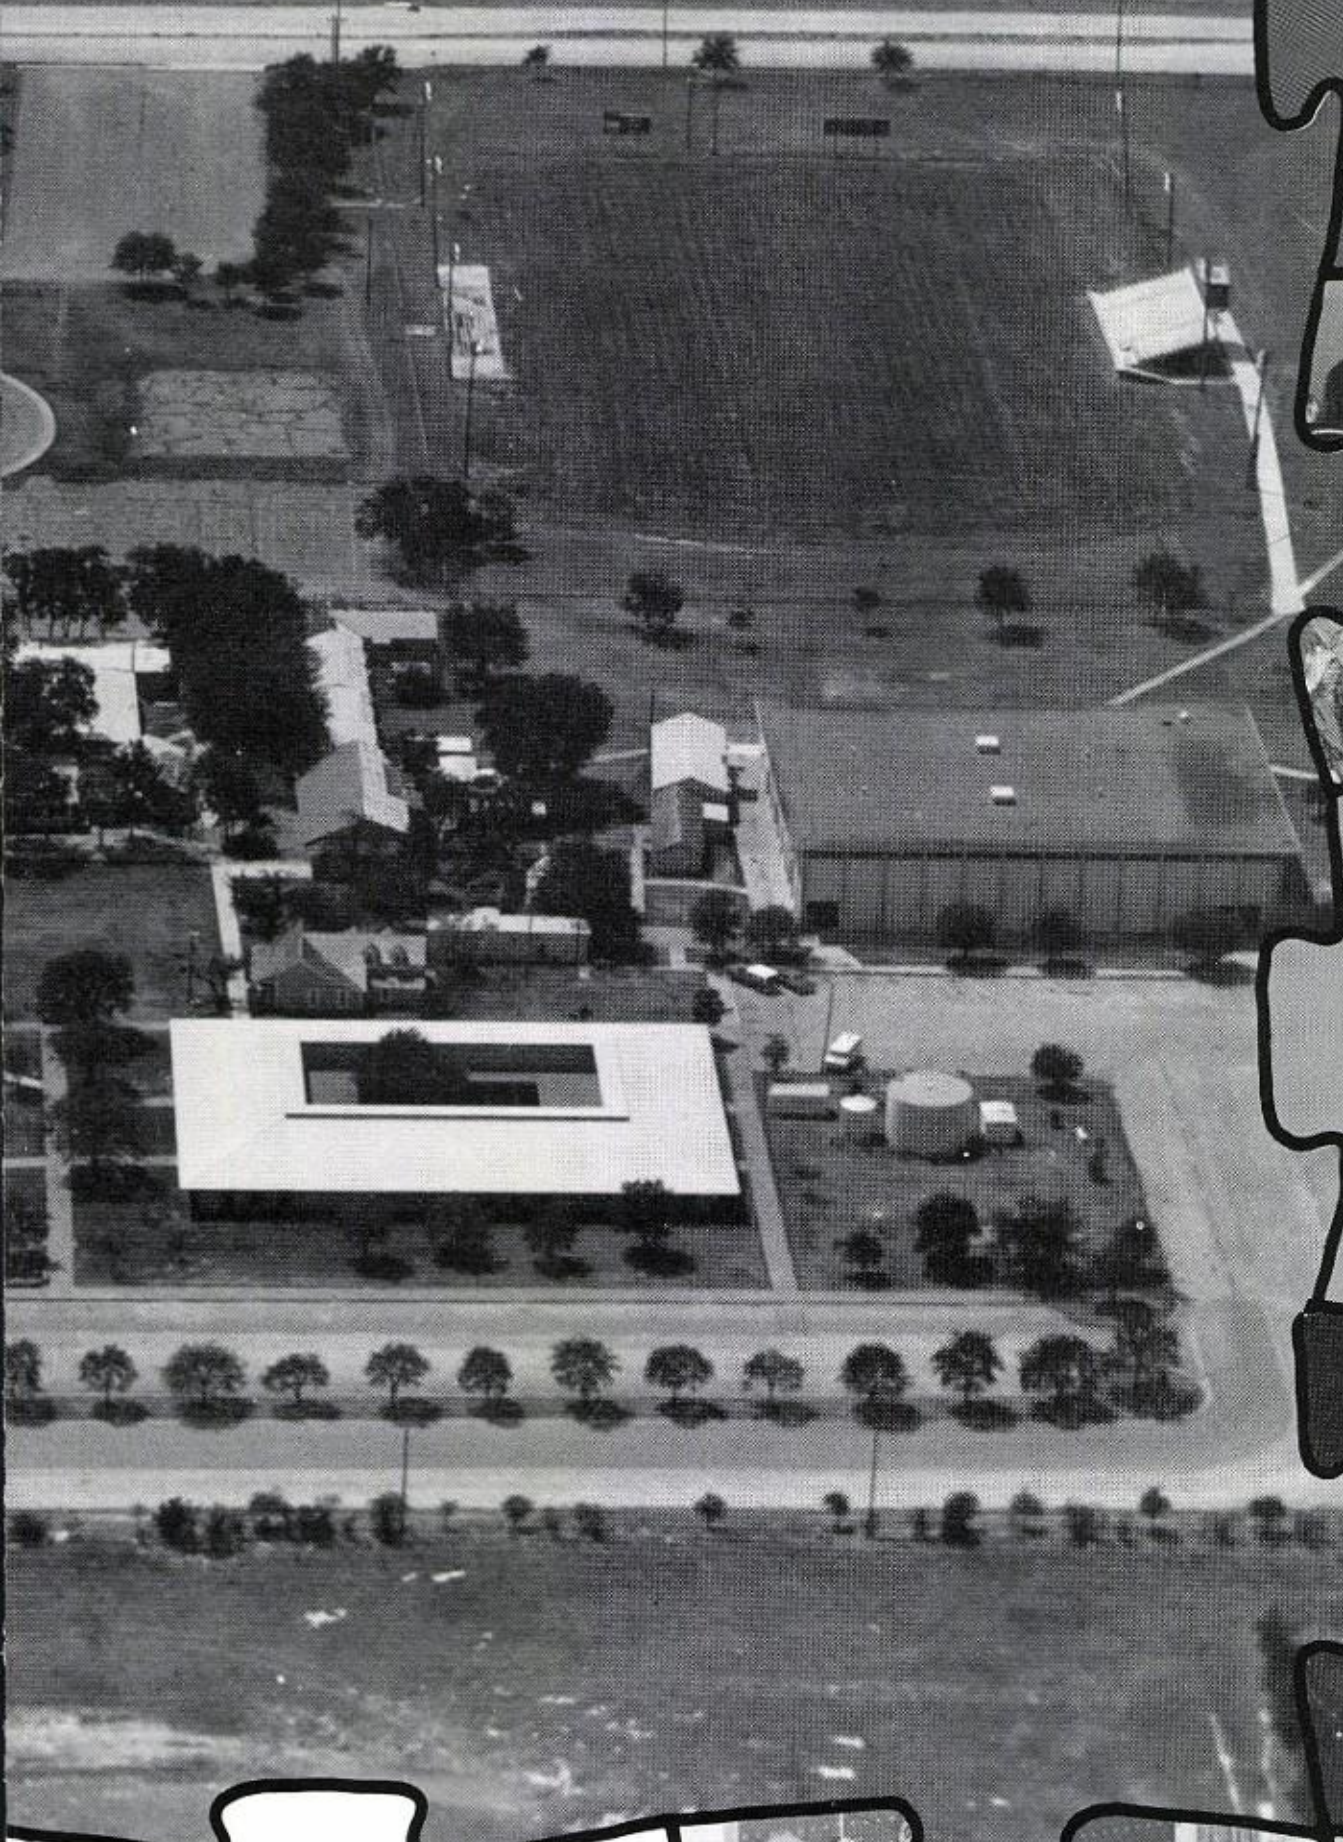

Top: A dance number from the documentary, "The History of Greenhill", for the school's 25th anniversary. This year a video tape was produced from the archives of the development office, alumni office and the library.

Center: Lower School Columbus Day Play as presented in the late 1950's. Changes have been made to accommodate the increased enrollment in the 4th grade.

Lower: Michael "Texas" Manes sang "Don't Fence Me In" during the Faculty Follies show in 1977. Mike also starred in the faculty production of "The Fantastics" Fall - 1983.

Events and Traditions Together

Top: Columbus Day Play, October 1984, by the fourth grade and Team Leader, Mrs. Joan Roberts. There are actually 2 different casts of the production.

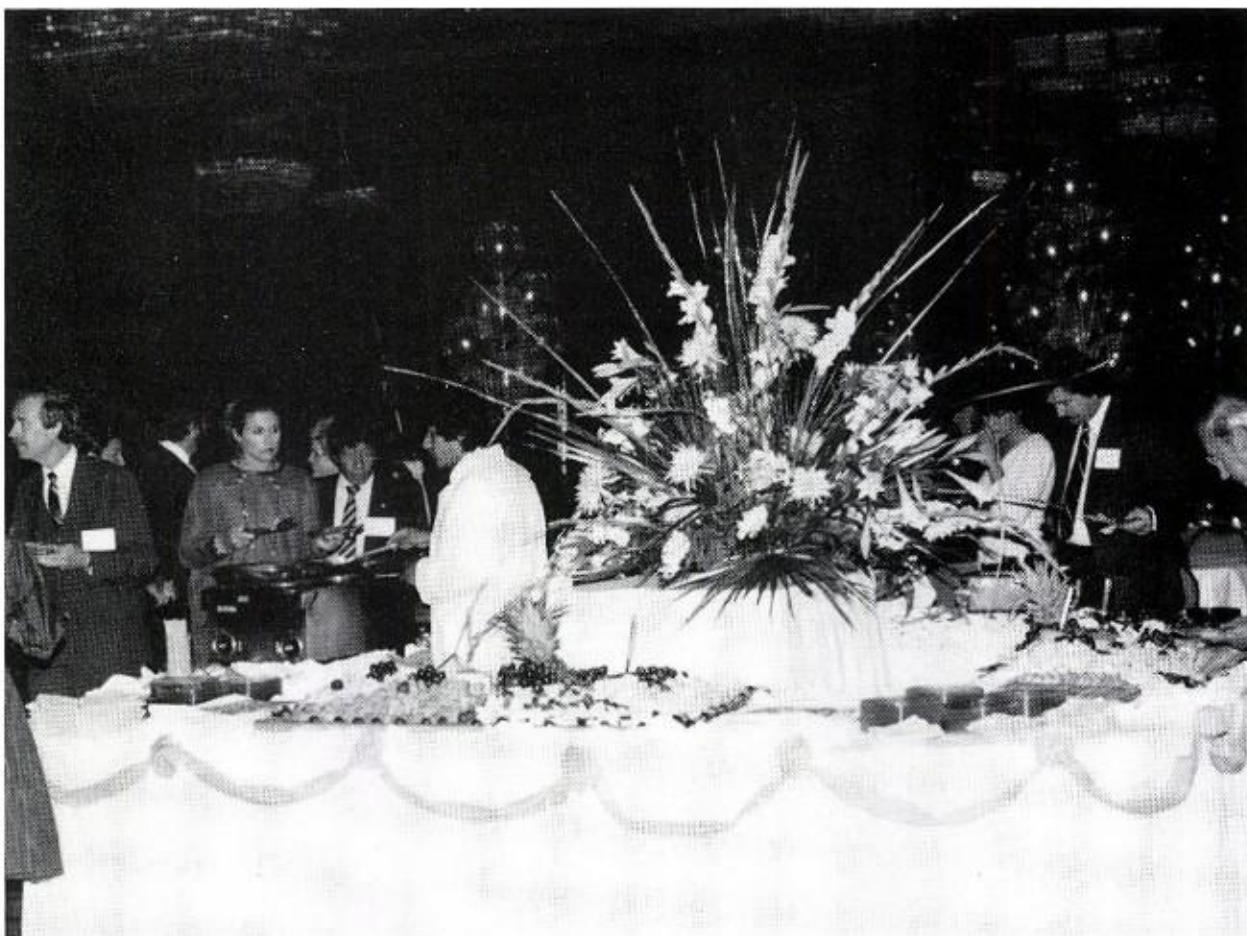

Center: The tradition of story-telling continues as Olivia leads the cast of "Williams's Window" back to Shakespeare's day.

Bottom: Mr. James A. Reilly, one of our proud grandparents, with kindergartener, Sara Haris, keeps alive two traditions - sharing story time and visiting the Greenhill campus on Grandparents Day.

Thirty-Fifth Anniversary Party

Greenhill's 35th Anniversary Party was held on September 15 at the Loews Anatole. The celebration brought together current and former parents, trustees, friends, graduates, and faculty of Greenhill. The school has come a long way since the time it was begun in 1950 on Walnut Hill Lane, and its growth and educational excellence are certainly worthy of celebration.

Senior Government - Mock Election '84

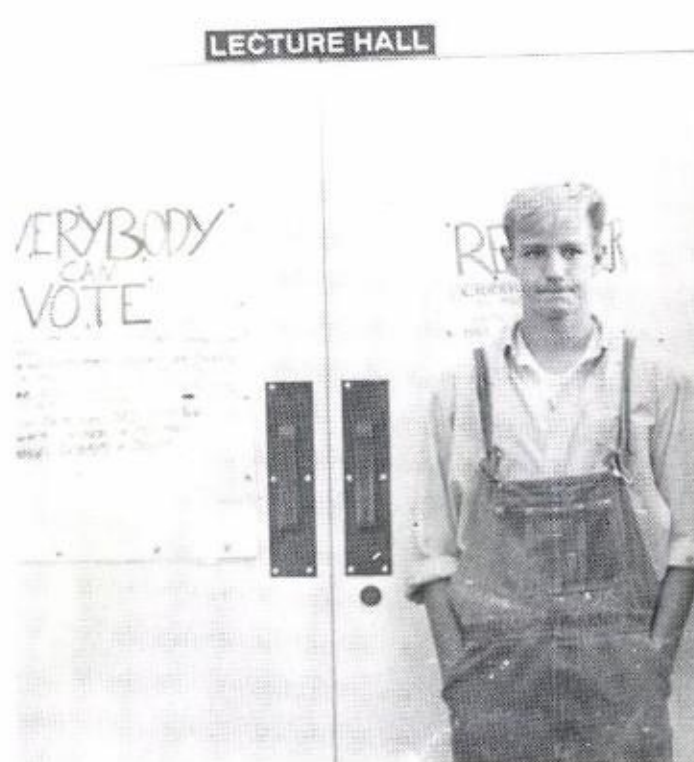

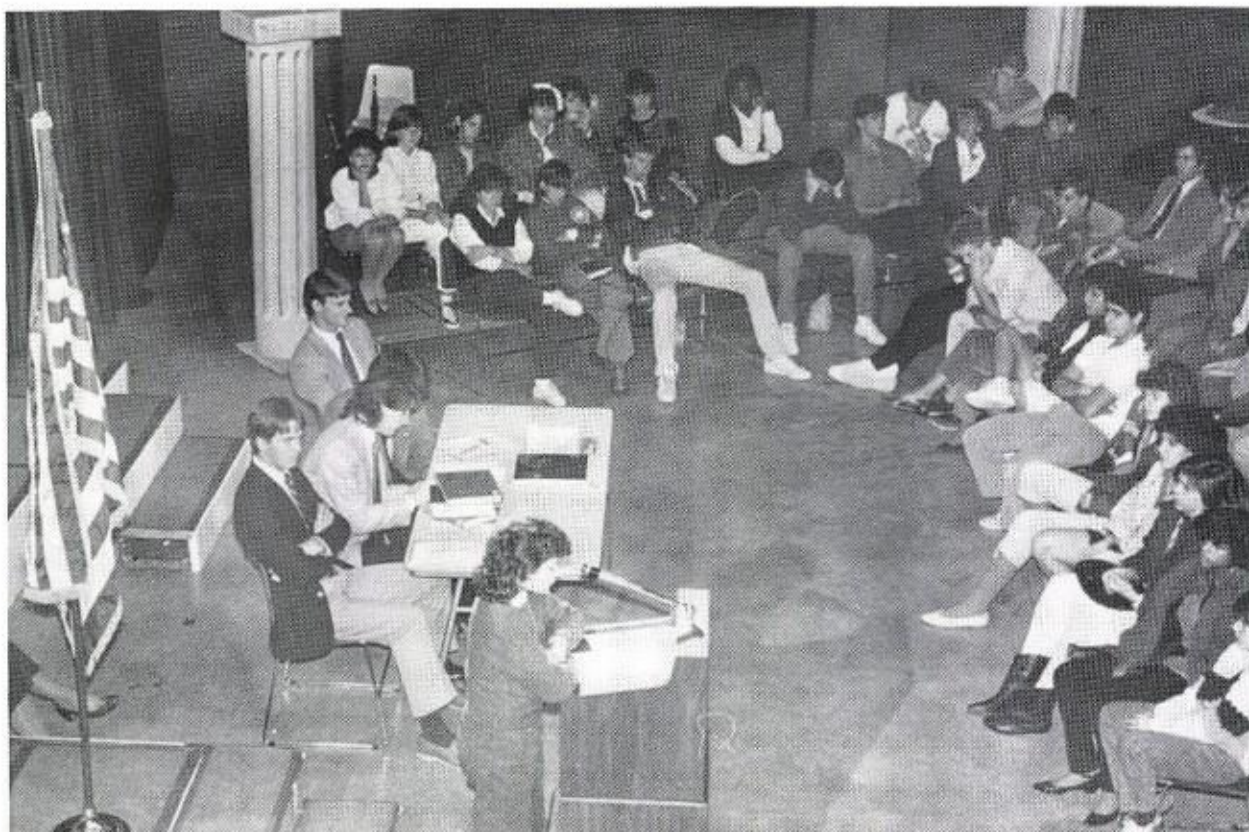

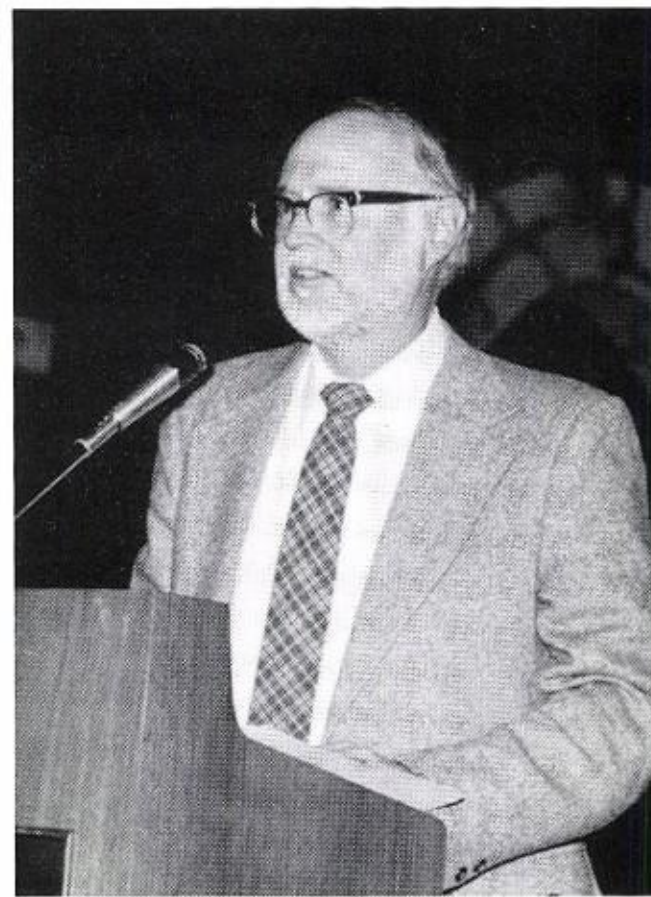

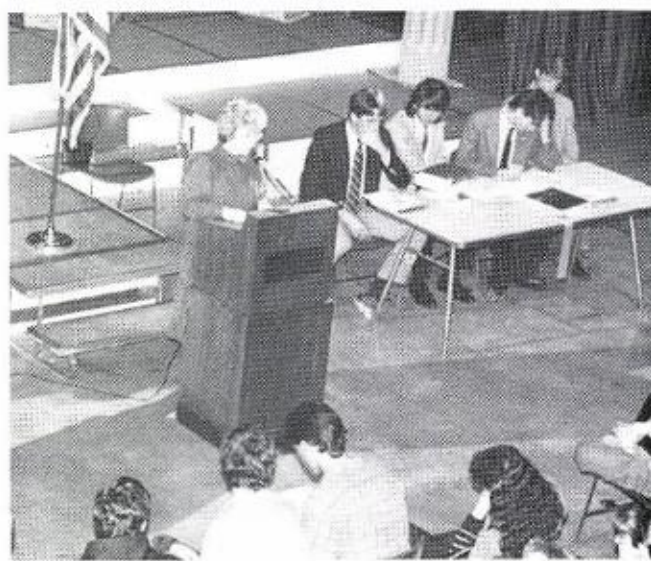

"Everyone can vote" is what the signs read in the Upper School during October. The occasion was the Mock Election held by first trimester senior Government students as a project assigned by Upper School History and Government teacher, Ms. Sue Roman. The project, which included a choice between the Mock Election, a debate between the views of Reagan and Mondale, and work in a Presidential or Senatorial Campaign, helped students to learn about several aspects of the election process by taking an active role in it. The Mock Election organization committee made registration cards and voting ballots and tallied the results of the election. The following were the results:

	Reagan	Mondale	Gramm	Doggett
9th grade	52	20	46	24
10th grade	46	16	42	18
11th grade	39	24	33	26
12th grade	28	26	26	29
Faculty	9	12	6	16
Totals	174	98	156	113

The eight students who chose to debate did research to find evidence to support their side. The debate took place in an assembly in front of the Upper School. Participation in campaigns took place after school and on weekends. Among other jobs, students called voters and helped distribute campaign signs to get seven or more hours of credit for the project. To top off the learning experience, Ms. Roman invited two prestigious journalists, Ms. Carolyn Barta from the Dallas Morning News and Mr. Ron Calhoun from the Dallas Times Herald, to share with the Upper School their post-election ideas.

Drama & Debate Competition

When the Greenhill Drama and Debate Squad began competing five years ago, it was a small program that competed mostly locally. Greenhill has now grown to be one of the largest and superior squads in the state. Sweepstakes awards are given at a tournament to the school with the best overall record; at every full squad tournament, Greenhill has received sweepstakes trophies: Newman Smith, St. Mark's, Burleson, and Plano. Greenhill's squad has also expanded to compete nationally at Harvard, Wake Forest, Redlands, Loyola Marymount, and many other prestigious tournaments.

Students compete in events such as Cross Examination Debate, Lincoln-Douglas Debate, Original Oratory, Extemporaneous Speaking, Humorous Interpretation, Dramatic Interpretation, Poetic Interpretation, Prose Interpretation, and Duet Acting. This year, without a doubt, has been Greenhill's most successful tournament season.

Outstanding juniors and seniors are individuals recognized for having done extremely well this season. This year's outstanding juniors are Jenny Dickens, Sharon Jones, Scott Lambert, and David Matyas; outstanding seniors are Marjory Graue and Jessica Frankel.

The state tournament is one of the most prestigious tournaments for which competitors must qualify. For this year's year-end state tournament, Greenhill has set a record of its own by having twenty-three entries.

This year's state qualifiers are:

Allison Aranson - Debate

Jon Buchmeyer - Duet Acting, Original Oratory, Humorous Interpretation

Julia Erwin - Debate

Jessica Frankel - Duet Acting, Dramatic Interpretation, Humorous Interpretation

Jenny Dickens - Duet Acting

Marjory Graue - Duet Acting, Dramatic Interpretation, Humorous Interpretation

Sharon Jones - Duet Acting

Elena Koutras - Extemporaneous Speaking, Original Oratory, Debate

Scott Lambert - Duet Acting, Dramatic Interpretation, Humorous Interpretation

David Matyas - Original Oratory, Lincoln-Douglas Debate

Melinda Menzer - Extemporaneous Speaking, Debate

Lower right: Scott Lambert and Jessica Frankel won first place with their duet, Torch Song Trilogy by Harvey Fierstein, at the Newman Smith Tournament.

Homecoming Week - Hat Day

The spirit that was generated during Homecoming Week was ignited by Hat Day. Students and faculty wore hats of every size, shape, color, and style imaginable to create an atmosphere of spirit and unity throughout the Greenhill campus. A prize was awarded to the student with the most creative hat. Hat day is a day that captures the humor and inventiveness as a part of Greenhill spirit to all students and faculty.

Center right: More hats and more spirit in the lower school.
Lower left: A Greenhill tradition is for football players to dress up as cheerleaders and cheer at a pep rally.
Lower right: Jessica sports a wild sombrero.

Homecoming Week - Sports Day

Sports Day, which saw such sports as women football players and skiers represented, began with the traditional Mortarboard breakfast. On this day the teamwork and individualism that are involved in sports were clearly expressed through the costumes and spirit manifested by the students.

Pre School/Lower School Halloween

Once again, the Preschoolers and Lower Schoolers had a great Halloween at Greenhill. The Preschoolers paraded around the campus in costumes and also celebrated Halloween by having class parties. The Lower Schoolers had class parties also and played various games like "apple-bobbing," having "witch races," and decorating pumpkins. This year's Halloween was "thoroughly creative and enjoyable," said fourth grade team leader, Joan Roberts.

Top left: The fourth graders entertain the photographers by modeling their Halloween costumes. Top right: A live cobra walking through the Upper School? Middle School/Senior Halloween

Halloween in the Middle School was celebrated by a display of costumes and parties for the fifth through seventh grades. The eighth grade made a special excursion to the opera and the zoo, making this day one enjoyed by all.

Upper Schoolers are not too old to enjoy Halloween either! Looking ready to go trick-or-treating, the Seniors made their traditional parade around the campus in the morning. Later in the day, the whole Upper School was entertained by other classes that paraded around the campus in costumes.

The first grade celebrated Thanksgiving with the traditional costumed Thanksgiving Dinner. The kids helped prepare the food as well, and were taught some of the old techniques used by the Pilgrims, including peeling and cooking corn. The feast was then spread out across a long banquet table where the kids sat down to feast and give thanks.

Thanksgiving Play in the Fourth Grade

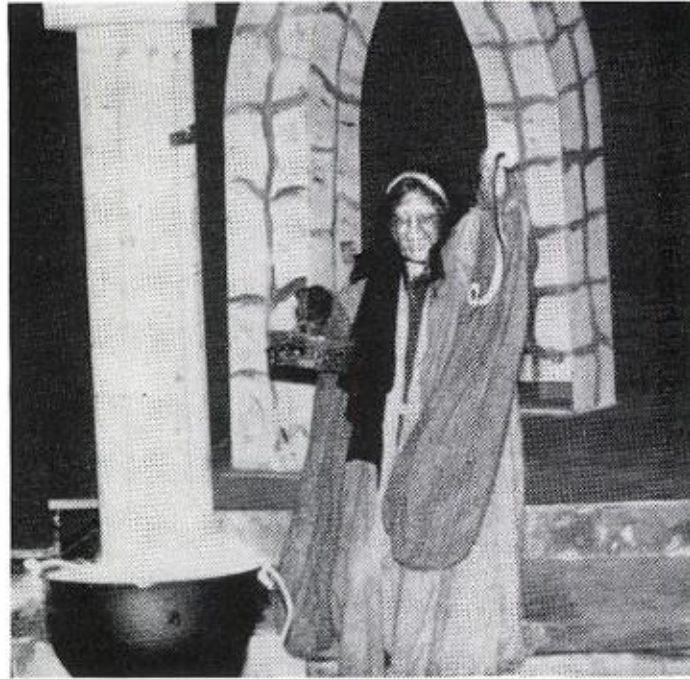

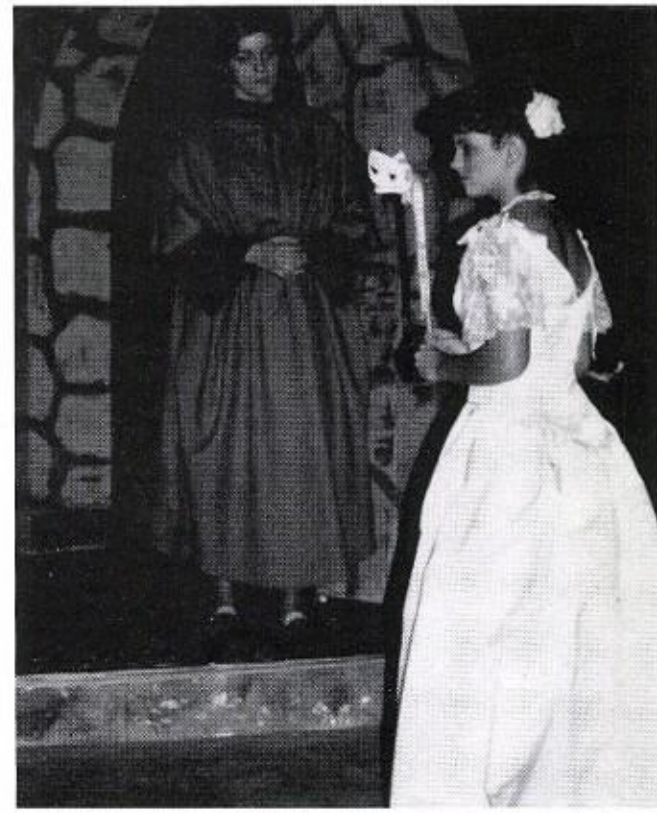

The Thanksgiving Play is a tradition that transcends thirty-five years. Each year fourth graders begin their story in England, escape to Holland, and finally move to the New World. Along the way the fourth graders describe the struggles of the little band of Pilgrims, sign the Mayflower compact, and plan the first Thanksgiving. Former students, parents, and teachers return to watch and make sure the tradition is maintained. Third graders plan what parts they want to play the next year. Tradition is handed from one class to the next.

The Nutcracker - Kindergarteners

The Nutcracker is one of Greenhill's oldest traditions, begun by Agnes Baldwin, founder of the Preschool. Generations of Greenhill students have been touched by the magic of the Nutcracker. Years later, remembering, they say: "Yes, I was the Mouse King," or "I was one of the Nutcracker's fierce soldiers," or (with great pride) I was the Sugar Plum fairy!"

Since 1976 Pat McGee, Preschool music teacher, has directed the Nutcracker, added dances, and generally enriched the production. But no matter how the Nutcracker changes, as long as there are Kindergarteners, with their bright faces and joyous spirits, there will always be a Nutcracker!

Shane Day for the Seventh Grade

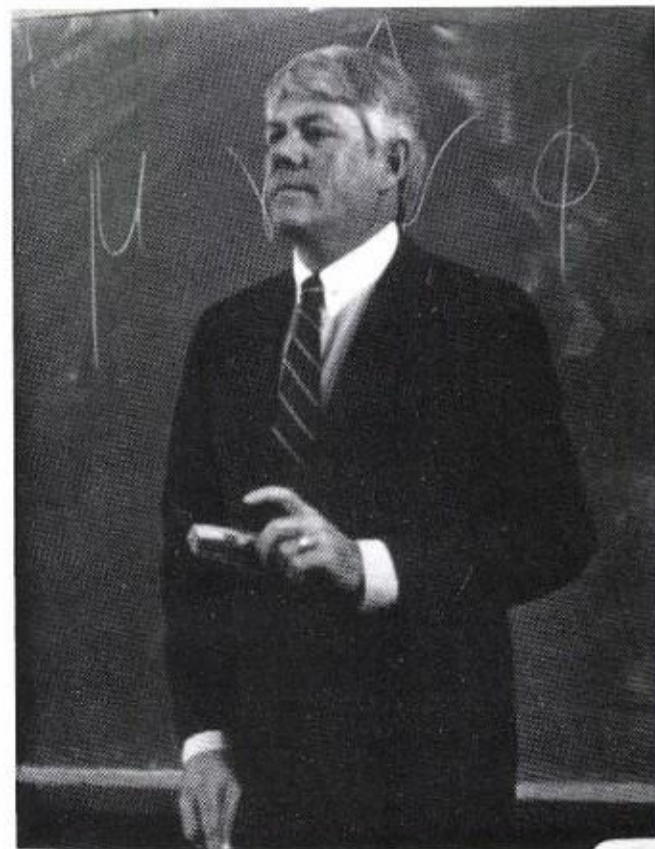

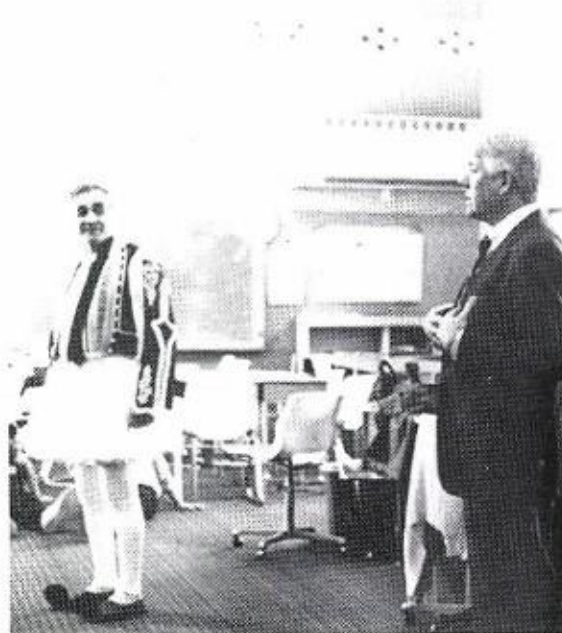

On February 8 the 7th graders got a taste of the old Wild West during their yearly "Shane Day" festival. The integrated day is an attempt to experience first hand what had previously been studied in class (Texas History, through the history curriculum, and the classic novel Shane, which was read and discussed in English class). The day began in the theatre with a series of 17 skits, directed and acted by the students themselves. The home-cooked chili and desserts were judged by a panel of experts, while a western music concert was held in the library. A feast followed, with prizes for the top "country" chefs.

Greek Day in the Fifth Grade

The first integrated day for the fifth grade was the traditional Greek Day. Mr. Foote, with his personal interest in Greek language, culture, and customs, came to the Fifth Grade pod to discuss the Greek language with the assembled students, to teach them useful and common phrases in Greek, and to help demonstrate the fine art of Greek dancing (ably led by John Krones, a popular, yearly visitor to Greenhill). Other activities, not the least of which was the eating of a traditional Greek meal prepared by the dedicated Fifth Grade room mothers, included skits and Olympic competition out at the track.

Renaissance Day '84

What better way to culminate months of hard work than to have a party? This is exactly what the sixth graders did on December 14th, after having studied the Renaissance period in History class. Everyone was transformed into a character, wearing the most stylish costumes they could muster. They flaunted their fashions on a parade through the "Greenhill Empire." For the culturally inclined, the Greenhill Thespians provided entertainment at the "Globe Theater," proceeded by a musical performance called "Sun Garden." Settling down to a sumptuous banquet was only a prelude to the afternoon's activities, which included bocce ball, skittles, king of the log, and face painting. As an enjoyable supplement to their studies, the group watched a movie about castles. Honors for costumes were then bestowed in various categories, such as the funniest, the most elegant, and the highest in the kingdom. To wind up the day, everyone finally relaxed to the movie, "Frog Prince." In the end, Renaissance Day had something for everyone, and made the study of history come alive.

Junior/Talent Show

Upper Schoolers, friends, family, and faculty packed into the theatre on the night of Saturday, January 19 to see the talent show, which was being sponsored by the Junior class. The show was dominated by a variety of music and humor from bands, skits, air guitar and more. The advisors of the Junior class, Ms. Roman, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Edwards, Dr. Stewart, Mrs. Romaine, and Mr. Solon, along with Mr. Stifler, Mr. Murphy, and Mrs. Parham made a special appearance (see lower left). Katy Cassidy as Mistress of Ceremony also kept the audience laughing. The proceeds from the talent show will be used toward prom and graduation for the class of 1986.

Student Council

This year the student council successfully accomplished many projects. The school year kicked off with the "To Be Names Later" Upper School Mixer.

In December, everyone actively participated in a "Students Against Driving Drunk Week." The SADD Week featured posters, bumper stickers, advisory discussions and was concluded with a student poll.

The council also organized a Christmas drive, with each grade sponsoring one or two needy families.

The long-awaited furniture for the Student Center arrived and hot beverages (coffee/hot chocolate) were provided for the students.

The student council continued to sponsor Quiz Bowl which provided challenging matches that were entertaining to all.

The assistance and guidance given by Mrs. Eastus was greatly appreciated.

Student Forum

The Student Forum is an elected, service organization, comprised of students from all four middle school grades, advised by Mr. Gerry Miller, sixth grade history teacher. Their first responsibility for the year was to host an Orientation Day for new students (which was created last year based on discussions during Forum meetings). The day included a tour of the campus, and began with a slide-show history of Greenhill narrated by Mrs. Carter. Forum members served as guides, and as hosts and hostesses for the new students. On Grandparents' Day, the Forum volunteered to guide the visiting grandparents to the proper school buildings; at the end of the year, they will be ushers for the final Middle School Awards Assembly. The purpose of the Student Forum is to encourage service to the community, and, through such activities as the Homecoming Spirit Contest, to foster positive school spirit.

Evergreen

This year, the Evergreen made progressive steps forward in the areas of graphic design and content. Through several journalism workshops, the staff learned many new techniques for producing visually pleasing layouts. With the addition of a new Music section, we have been able to address an important part of the students' lives. We have also done features probing into such issues as stress and alcohol consumption as it relates Greenhill students. Finally, the Evergreen received a portable building on campus this year which made layouts much more convenient.

Cavalcade

In 1951, the staff of the Crubre, Greenhill's original yearbook, was composed of the graduating class. This year the staff of the Cavalcade comes from grades 5-12. Under the leadership of faculty sponsor Sandra Stevenson and editor-in-chief Adrienne Baker, workshops were held Fridays at 3:35 PM and on weekends. This year there were two new positions on the staff; Elena Koutras, copy editor, was in charge of editing and typing and David Matyas, layout editor, approved the formats of pages.

Mortarboard

In 1966, the Mortarboard Club was formed to provide help with social activities and provide service in and around Greenhill. Club membership was restricted to only Upper School girls until 1977 when it was said, "Everything was going co-ed;" that year, the first six male members joined the organization. In spite of the example they had set, most students continued to consider the Mortarboard "a girls" club, and the male membership remained small with one or two boys.

In 1984, everything really went co-ed in the Mortarboard, and Kevin Hicks was elected as secretary, the first office held by a male in the club's history. The organization continued its usual activities this year at Greenhill under the successful leadership of Kevin and the other officers. The Homecoming festivities, the Thanksgiving canned food drive, and the Valentine carnation sales were just some of the fun services performed this year.

Montage

The Montage is the literary and art publication of Greenhill School; the staff members publish two magazines: one for the Lower and Middle Schools and one for the Upper School. Students enter short stories, poems, plays, and artwork to be judged by the Columbia Press Association. In addition, materials submitted by the January 30 deadline were sent to the National Scholastic competition. Editor David Foote and the members of his staff spend long hours editing and typing chosen Montage materials. Upper School art and photography projects were selected after an exhibit at Arts Festival in Tulsa. 1983 Montage received a 1st place rating from CSPA.

Quill & Scroll

The International Society of Quill and Scroll was begun in 1926 for the purpose of encouraging and recognizing student achievement in journalism. The charter members of the Greenhill Chapter of Quill and Scroll were inducted on February 2, 1984. The requirements for membership of the society are being a high school junior or senior in the upper third of the class, having done "superior work" in school journalism, being recommended for membership by the faculty advisor of your publication, and approved by the Executive Secretary.

The organization's charter members are Lea Bauman, Gregg Jacobs, Leslie Kuykendall, Jonathan Sheehan, and Debbie Shelton.

The members who were inducted in May, 1984, are Adrienne Baker, Matthew Golden, Angie Jacobs, and David Shelby.

Members A. Jacobs, D. Shelby, A. Baker, M. Golden.

Quiz Bowl

Once again, Greenhill was represented on the Whiz Quiz television show which airs Saturdays on Channel 8. The team of four students was culled from the fall Quiz Bowl series, sponsored by Mr. Dan Kasten. Individual teams, formed by friends, competed in rounds during the meeting period, after school. The four highest scoring players were selected from these rounds to represent Greenhill on the show on cable television; the team advanced to the quarterfinals round broadcasted on Channel 8.

Science Club

As Doug Murphy, club president, claimed, "The purpose of The Science Club is to have fun." The Science Club reached that goal this year when its members went on their annual rain-making, or rather, astronomy trip to Mr. Kilmer's farm. The club also continued to put on "magic" shows for the younger grades; Stephanie Oakley froze a banana for the fourth grade. Another group of members, led by Pierce Marshall, fixed up an old telescope and made it work again. The club's goal for next year is to get Mr. Kilmer sent up into space with the next shuttle mission.

National Honor Society

The Greenhill chapter of the National Honor Society consists of those students who show a strong interest in the welfare of the community, as well as, academic excellence. "The object of the National Honor Society is to create enthusiasm of scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to encourage the development of character in all students at the Greenhill School."

The National Honor Society has a strong service orientation, both as a chapter and as individuals. In the past, the society has assisted at the College Fair and at College Previews. This year, individual service has been emphasized. Some of those projects included helping with the "Contact Halloween Party" for the disadvantaged and handicapped children. Members also painted identification letters for faculty parking places. Because all of the members of the society have achieved academic excellence, almost every member assists other students through tutoring.

Leadership and character are strong factors influencing the induction of a member. Leadership can be demonstrated in many ways: through student council, student body, or simply being a supportive worker. Character is a combination of self discipline, honesty, responsibility, and integrity. Members of the society demonstrate all of these qualities in such a manner that they become positive influences in the community.

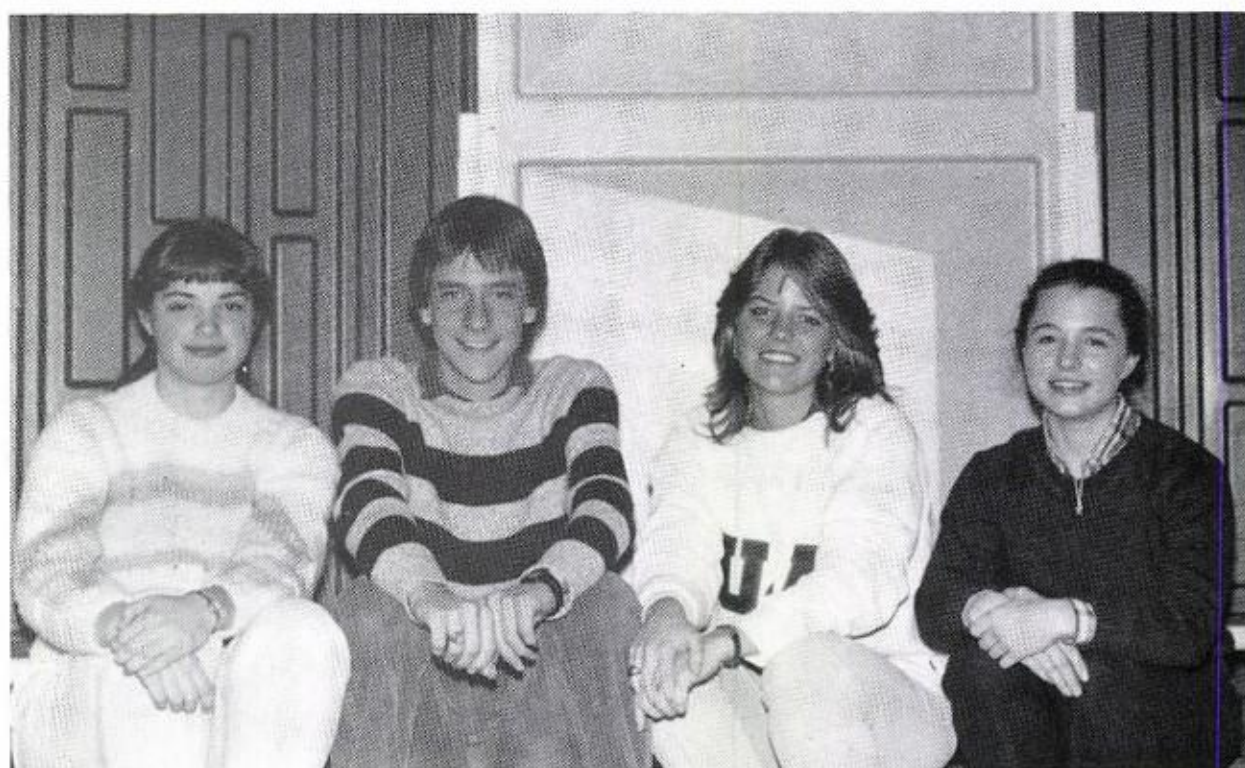

The fall induction in 1984 featured the Greenhill singers and musicians in recognition of their service to the Greenhill and the larger community. The Greenhill chapter of the National Honor Society is sponsored by Dr. Barbara Graves.

Mu Alpha Theta

Mu Alpha Theta is an organization designed to honor outstanding math students. To qualify, a student must have an average of 90 or above for three years in college preparatory mathematics courses. New members are inducted annually at the year end Upper School assembly and will join other members under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Meinardus.

D. Ahmann, D. Shelby, A. Langfeld, S. Oakley.

French National Honor Society

The French National Honor Society is composed of Juniors and Seniors who have attained an 85 or above average in an honors French class. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Renee White, the society published their newspaper, "Le Microcosme," four times this year. The newspaper's material comes not only from FNHS members, but from students in French classes of all levels.

The FNHS is very lucky this year to have an exchange student from France, Pierre Lebaher, as a member. Pierre shares his knowledge of France to contribute to the organization's goal of making students more familiar with the French culture.

Other activities of the FNHS include the Christmas and end-of-the-year "soirees" in which members create their own French food.

Spanish National Honor Society

The Spanish National Honor Society is composed of juniors and seniors who have attained an average of 85 or above in an honors Spanish class. This year, the Greenhill chapter of the SNHS has had many activities. In April, there was the induction of the new members, a trip to the Meadows Arts Museum for a tour, spoken in Spanish, of Spanish art, and initiation. Spring also included a day out to lunch for the members and movies about the culture and history of Spain.

Latin Honor Society

The Latin Honor Society is composed of students who have achieved an average of 88 or above in Latin classes; inductions are held each year in early May. This year, some society members joined the Classics trip to Greece and Rome led by Mr. Foote and the society's new sponsor Dr. Vernon Ceder. Dr. Ceder hopes to make this an annual excursion, rivaling the ski trip for adventurers over spring break.

Latin Club

The Latin Club got off to a rousing start again this year with a series of Latin quiz bowl competitions; the triumphant team was composed of members David Foote, Angie Jacobs, Dianne Ahmann, and Will Rose. Because of inclement weather, they were unable to attend the regional conference in Denton, but several representatives were sent to the state Latin convention in Mesquite. In addition, the Latin Club celebrated Roman culture with their annual party.

National Forensics League

For those individuals interested in speech and debate, The National Forensics league offers the chance to compete and refine the skills necessary for public speaking. As participants in an honorary society, members must be in the upper two-thirds of their class and meet minimum membership standards. Through tournament competition, points and degrees of merit are earned for different levels of achievement. This year's NFL board consists of President, David Matyas; Vice President, Julia Erwin, and Secretary/Treasurer, Marjory Graue.

This year's members of the NFL were: Allison Aranson, Cynthia Bright, Jon Buchmeyer, Jenny Dickens, Julia Erwin, Jessica Frankel, Marjory Graue, Lisi Hogue, Sharon Jones, Robert Knaus, Elena Koutras, Scott Lambert, Joey Lane, David Matyas, Melinda Menzer, Lina Patel, Kyle Rovinsky, Janine Rumberger, Jordan Susman, Waverly Ware, Anna Weiss.

New members initiated into the NFL this year were: Anthony Chan, Kerry Davis, Helen Greenlee, Amy Kreisler, Jennifer Lee, Karen Levy, Willie Loconto, Mary Norvell, Catherine Peters, Victor Reyes, Pedro Sanchez, Doug Silver, Rob Starnes, Phillipa Strelitz, Allyson Turner.

Thespian Society and Drama Club

THESPIAN

Greenhill re-initiated a chapter of the International Thespian Society last year under the direction of President Jon Buchmeyer and Sponsor Patricia Edwards. The Society is an honor society for those drama students, technical or performing, who excel in theatre. With only 10 members last year, Troupe #2540 was small, but 9 new members were initiated into the troupe.

This year the troupe travelled to San Antonio for the State Thespian Conference. Many members performed in the "Best of Broadway", a collection of duets and Humorous Interpretations from Broadway shows. Scott Lambert was elected to serve on the State Thespian Board. In April, the troupe presented You're A Good Man Charlie Brown as a benefit for retirement homes in the Dallas community.

Members this year include: President Jon Buchmeyer, Rob Browning, Jenny Dickens, Jessica Frankel, Marjory Graue, Chip Hunter, Sharon Jones, Scott Lambert, Richard Latin, Mary Norvell, Lina Patsel, Kyle Rovinsky, Jordan Susman.

New members include: Kerry Davis, Alison Fechtel, Lance Felber, Mary Jones, Jennifer Lee, Marc Rubin, Doug Silver, Philippa Strelitz, Allyson Turner.

DRAMA CLUB

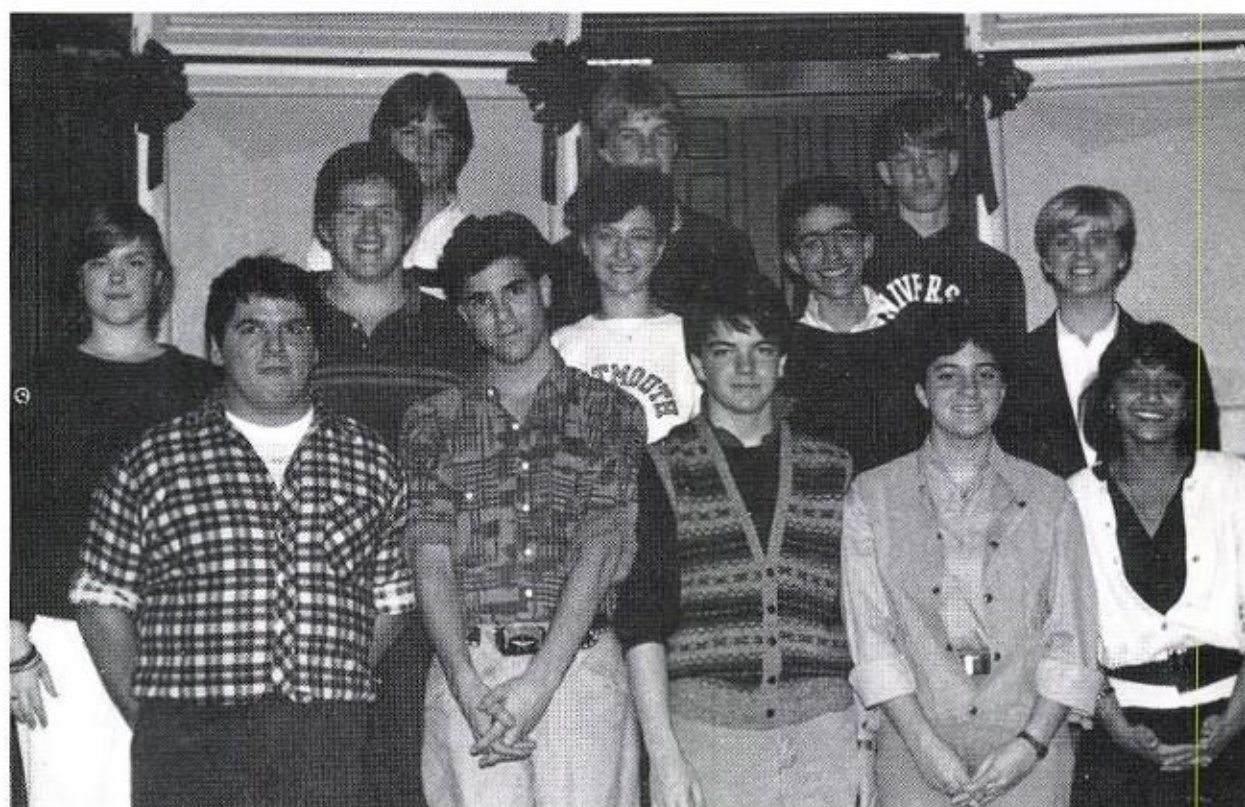

Under the leadership of President Jessica Frankel, the Drama Club presented a Halloween show for children. Audience members brought cans of food for admission, and later the donations were given to needy families during Thanksgiving. Jessica also directed the end of the year students written show. Throughout the year, the Drama Club worked in the theatre and on productions in any way they could be helpful.

Hornets Turn Rebuilding Season into Successful Season

The 1984 Hornet football team had a very successful 8-2 season. Led by a strong rushing game and a fiercely determined defense, the Hornets tremendously outscored their opponents. By defeating such strong teams as First Baptist, Holland Hall, and Dallas Christian, Greenhill earned the number one private school ranking in the metroplex. Especially gratifying was the team's defeat of Dallas Christian who had been very much favored entering the game.

The Holland Hall game was played in a mudbath; but the Hornet defense held the Dutchmen scoreless and won, 6-0.

The Hornets finished the regular season with their first loss to a tough Trinity Valley team, 7-3. The next week the team had a chance to avenge the loss with another match against Trinity Valley in the season final SPC championship game. The Hornets out-hit, out-hustled, and out-played the Trojans; yet unfortunately, the game was decided on a very controversial call late in the fourth quarter: a Marc Buffin touchdown scamper which would have enabled the Hornets to win the game was called back. The final score was Trinity Valley 12, Greenhill 7.

Earning all SPC honors were junior Marc Buffin, John Warren, John Perryman, Marc Rubin, Kyle Rovinsky, and senior Brent Hillebrenner. Marc Buffin was also named Most Valuable Player while Richard Winfield was honored with the coveted Jock Prather award.

The 1985 Hornet football team will improve even more with the return of ten offensive starters and ten defensive starters. The Greenhill Hornets are and will be once again the mean, green machine.

Hockey Team Has Winning Season

This year, the girls' field hockey team had an outstanding season. The team, mostly consisting of juniors and sophomores, pulled together early in the fall and won their first game in two years; the winning didn't stop there. By the end of the season, the girls had beaten Trinity Valley and St. Stephens twice and posted a remarkable 1-0 victory over Hockaday. In S.P.C. the team did very well with a second place finish in Division II. This year, no seniors were lost, so the varsity expects to do even better with returning captain Stacy Stiffel leading the attack. Stacy did very well this year placing in first team M.I.S.C., and she received honorable mention in S.P.C. Third year varsity player Waverly Ware also placed in first team M.I.S.C. Scottie Pearson, who took over as the starting goalie, had a great season, receiving second team in S.P.C. In addition, forward Kathryn Hamm had a strong season and received first team M.I.S.C., all-conference in S.P.C., and was also this year's Most Valuable Player.

Greenhill School Athletics - 1984

From V-Ball Camp Throughout the Season Team Work Was Evident

The Greenhill Girls Varsity Volleyball Team began its season in early August with Volleyball Camp. Pre-season practice welcomed seven returning players and a new coach, Peter Norman. Coach Norman, a Middle School faculty member, recently graduated from Princeton and created a fun and exciting atmosphere during the season. David Foote supported the team's efforts throughout the season and finally gained the title, Assistant Coach, at the S.P.C. tournament in Fort Worth.

With consistent, strong sets from Amy Langefeld, Jan Cowles, Andrea Termini, and Cindy Fiedelman; the team was able to successfully complete numerous offensive plays. The offensive attack was led by spikers Amy Langefeld, Cindy Fiedelman, and Jan Cowles. The new players gained valuable experience which will benefit next year's team.

The season's highlights included victories over Ursuline and Trinity Valley. The team's record was affected by many injuries incurred over the course of the season.

Although the team suffered several disappointing losses at the S.P.C. tournament, Captain Amy Langefeld and Cindy Fiedelman received All Conference awards. Donna Budd received an Honorable Mention. The team's most valuable player in the 1984-85 season was . . . Amy Langefeld!

Cross Country Shows Strength as Individual Runners - As a Team

The 1984 Greenhill boys cross-country team began the season as a rebuilding year due to the return of only four varsity runners from the 1983 team.

But under the leadership of Coach Steve Blanchard along with the arrival of four excellent freshman runners from Greenhill's Middle school program, there was a certain chemistry that would result in another successful cross-country season.

It's very difficult to replace two all-state runners but Coach Blanchard was able to blend the right combination of individuals to place well in most of the city X-C meets.

The top team finishes during the season were:

Sept. 8	Bishop Lynch Invitational	3rd place
Sept. 15	F.W.C.D. Invitational	4th place
Sept. 29	Lancaster	1st place
Oct. 13	North Dallas	1st place
Nov. 3	M.I.S.C. Championships	1st place
Nov. 10	S.P.C. Championships	2nd place

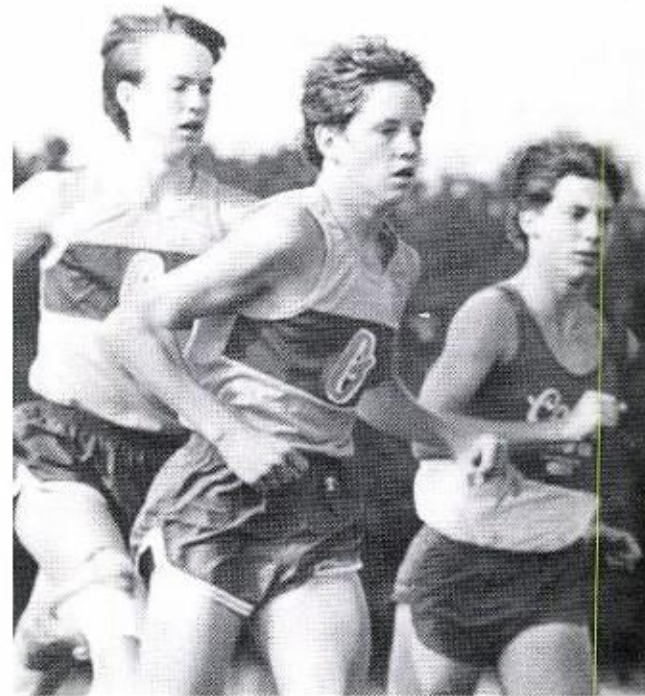

The season culminated with Greenhill placing 2nd at S.P.C. in Fort Worth. The team was led by All-State runner Andrew Foote and freshman Eric McQuaid. The defending champs were dethroned by St. John's of Houston in a two-team battle for the title. The final S.P.C. results were:

1. St. John's	50
2. Greenhill	56
3. St. Stephen's	105
4. St. Mark's	106

Greenhill's Junior Varsity team won 1st place at S.P.C. and were led by Jamie Lerner, Kurt Holle, Niklas Becker and Jimmy Laurito.

The varsity letter winners for the year were:

Girls Run Away With 1st SPC Championship

In November of 1984, a strange occurrence happened in the South-west region of the U.S. of A. A small, private, co-ed school in Dallas, Texas won their S.P.C. title for Girls' Cross-country for the first time ever. Out of three states (Oklahoma, Kansas, and Texas) the Greenhill Girls' Cross-country Team emerged the victor. It was a thrill, as well as, a shock to the team and the coach, Thomas Edward Holodak. All that effort paid off. All those hills, miles, sprints, and all that exhaustion finally paid off. But it was not just luck. We changed everything: Attitude - from complaining . . . cooperation with the coach. Amount of effort - from neutral . . . overdrive. Fitness - from a 1973 mustard yellow Toyota Corolla . . . Celica Supra. We really changed. We had to fight for a position on the Varsity team. This, in turn, meant we had a strong Junior Varsity team. This year we are losing 4 seniors on the Junior Varsity team: Dianne Ahmann, Kelly Harvey, Laura Isaacson, Malin Pettersson. This year's Junior Varsity team consisted of Lael Iozzo, Alison Murdock, Jennifer Lowery, and the 4 seniors named above. The Varsity team consisted of Jennifer Lee, Jenny O'Brien, Nicole Payseur, Stefani Dardaganian, and Katy Cassidy. Next year our strength in numbers will put us in a good position for defending the S.P.C. title. In addition, we are on our home course. After all the above, our coach was only mentioned once. He was our backbone, and really cared about us. - K.C.

Boys Soccer Captures 4th

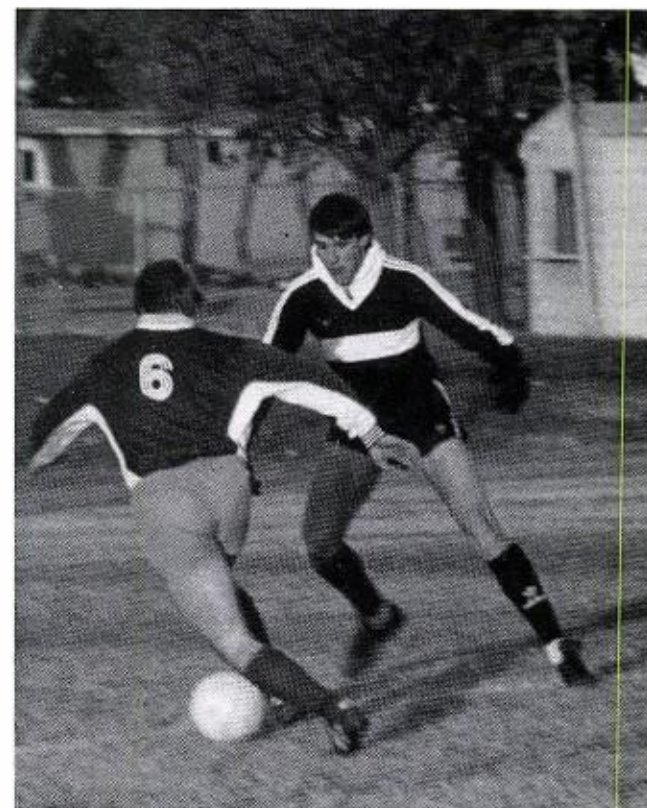

With the beginning of the 1985 soccer season came high expectations for the 3 time defending S.P.C. champions, the Greenhill Hornets. No team in the history of S.P.C. competition had ever acquired 4 consecutive conference titles; that is until now.

After thoroughly defeating Cistercian in pre-season action, the Hornets travelled to Waco to face a presumably weak team. A 5-3 defeat, however, brought on serious questions concerning the Hornets' chances for a 4th title. But exhibiting character worthy of the Greenhill Athletic tradition the team pulled together going 3-1 into the S.P.C. tournament. The single loss to St. Marks set the stage for a tournament clash unrivaled in the respective schools' history.

S.P.C. opened Feb. 14 at 2:30 p.m. with the Hornets defeating St. Stephens (1-0) with a Buffin goal. As the Green Machine rolled on, so fell Cistercian (2-0) under the goal scoring performances of Castro and Loconto.

That afternoon, Perryman and Deniger put Holland Hall out of the championship with a (2-0) victory. Thus, both St. Marks and Greenhill entered the Saturday morning conflict with perfect records. The game itself was a windy battle of soccer powers with the first half ending in a scoreless tie. However, in the opening minutes of the second half, St. Marks slipped a goal through the Greenhill defense and tempers flared. But by channeling this aggressive energy into goal-scoring power, Perryman forced a head-ball into the back of the St. Marks net. Though both teams had goal-scoring opportunities, strong defense prevailed and the game ended in a (1-1) tie. With the championship within their grasp, we put down St. Johns (1-0) with a Foote penalty kick.

Through dedication and strong commitment, the Greenhill Varsity Soccer team accomplished the impossible: won 4 consecutive Southwest Preparatory Conference championships.

Girls Soccer Captures 2nd Consecutive Championship

The Upper School girls' soccer team began the season with high expectations which only increased when most of the 1984 championship team returned. Everyone knew Greenhill was the team to beat if they wanted the SPC championship. Injuries to a number of key players could have disheartened a team with less character and shattered their hopes of retaining their title, but this was not our nature. When one player was hurt another would rise to the occasion; when we needed to win - we did; we were 1985 SPC champions! Another highlight was the 1-0 victory over Hockaday in the SPC tournament - it was our third win over Hockaday in one season, and it assured us the title.

The Class of 1985: your hard playing and positive attitude on the field, as well as, your comradery and friendship on and off the field will be missed. You've accomplished much with two SPC titles, and Greenhill has become a dominant power in girls' soccer. Cindy, Jessica, Michelle, Lara, Stefani, Jan, Mimi, and Karen, you should be very proud of your efforts.

Can the success and prestige we've gained during the past three seasons be maintained? Can Greenhill continue its winning ways? With ten veterans returning, including two time all SPC players Kathryn Hamm and Katy Cassidy, and Stacy Stiffel leading the defense, those teams that think they can look past Greenhill next season will be in serious trouble! With a little extra effort we will make it three straight.

Boys Basketball Team Shows Promise for Future

It was more than anyone expected. The 1984-85 Varsity Boys Basketball team recorded eight wins and fourteen losses in what was termed by Coach Murphy as a "rebuilding season." The season opened with two heartbreaking, three point losses to Trinity Christian. The Hornets rebounded by displaying several stunning performances against such foes as St. Marks and Trinity Valley. After one day of practice over the winter holidays, the Hornets faced eventual SPC Division I winners St. Marks. The game went back and forth until the closing minutes of the game, when the Hornets' inexperience emerged; the Hornets fell seven points short of their first SPC victory of the season. The following week, Trinity Valley came to Dallas to play what they perhaps thought "an easy game." To their surprise, the Hornets gave them a run for their money; however, they fell three points short of victory. The next two weeks, Greenhill defeated SPC rivals FWCD and ESD. This 2-1 SPC record carried them into the North Zone tournament at Holland Hall in Tulsa. The Hornets were defeated by Casady, Holland Hall, and Wichita Collegiate; nevertheless, the trip was an entertaining experience, sparked by the first-class travel on Muse Airlines. The 2-4 SPC record did not seem to harm the Hornets upon their debut in the final SPC tournament of the year at FWCD. In the first two games in the Division II bracket, Greenhill defeated TMI and ESD; however, in the third game, the Hornets suffered a devastating defeat to Cistercian. Nevertheless, in the final game of the tournament and of the season, Greenhill destroyed Wichita Collegiate, earning second place in Division II. Hopefully, the performance in this game foreshadowed the play of future Boys Basketball teams.

The '84-'85 Hornets were a young, talented, and short team. The players, none of which exceeded 6'1", consisted of two seniors, one junior, five sophomores, and one freshman. They were guided by the strong leadership of senior captains Matt Golden and Joey Lane, by Coach Bob Murphy, and by the recipient of the MVP award, Jeff Paillet. Hopefully, this year will begin a new, successful era for the future of the Boys Basketball team.

Girls Basketball Gains Experience

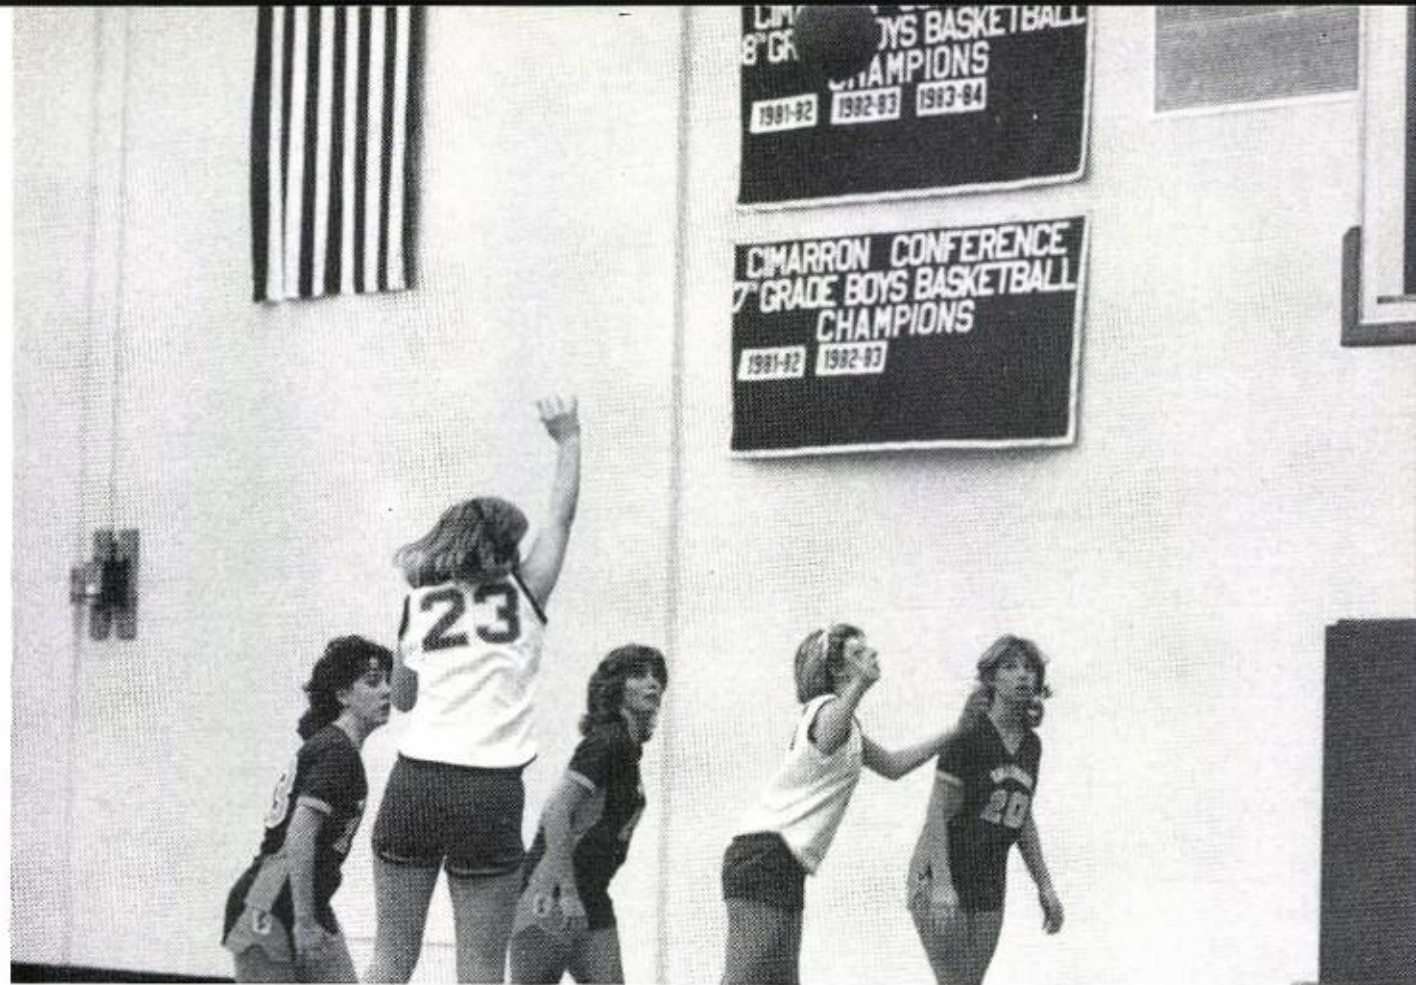

After last year's rebuilding season, the girls' basketball team experienced many improvements this year. Under the guidance of Coach Parachini and Assistant Coach Webb, the team was molded and grew in the technical aspects of the game. Because of the large number of girls who tried out for the sport, including a great number of freshmen and returning sophomores and juniors, the group was able to play junior varsity, as well as, varsity teams.

Some of the major assets to the team this year were starting forward Donna Budd who led in point scoring, starting center Angela Adkins who led in rebounding, and Cheremy White who joined the Greenhill student body late in the season and started as point guard and leader of the team.

Although the girls' basketball season was not a winning one, the growth and development that took place demonstrated that great potential for next season was present.

Cheerleaders Generate School Spirit

The 1984-'85 Varsity Cheerleaders have brought another year of exciting spirit and support to the athletic life at Greenhill. This year the squad consisted of five returning cheerleaders: Tracy Newton, Karin Miller, Stacy Siegel, Jennifer Goodnight and Stacy Stiffel, along with four new cheerleaders: Waverly Ware, Gina Prigoff, Julie Hoffman and Judy Sayah. Wendy Pierce, the cheerleading sponsor, provided the guidance and support which helped the squad to grow.

The cheerleaders' year began with a busy week at the S.M.U. Cheerleading Camp. During the week, the squad was awarded two spirit sticks and many blue ribbons for their overall performance, enthusiasm and dedication.

The 1984-'85 Varsity Cheerleaders extend their appreciation to the Greenhill community for their dedication, participation and spirit. We hope that this support will continue to grow in future years.

Michael Adleff

Although I left GHS 1 year ago, I would like to leave some messages to the people who made my year as an exchange student an interesting and FUN experience. Thanks to everybody who made it possible that I got this page.

Ben - You've been the best letter - or book??? writer I ever met. The postman got a nervous breakdown.

Gavin - Hey Mr. Dressman. The race with you in Arkansas was an experience. Let's do it again sometime. I'll donate the prize: 1 Gollybird. See you guys this summer.

Matt - thanks for making the tapes a little more intelligent! When are you coming to Germany? I promise you, it's less dangerous than downtown Dallas.

By the way you 3 became the best friends I ever had.

Pierre - As tu envie de venir et de boire un coup avec nous l'année prochaine. Nous serions/enchantés! Les trois allemands.

Mary, Nancy, Katy - They're so unusual. Leigt der popper* tot im Keller, war der punker wieder schneller. *popper = preppy let's write some letters!

Kelly - You became a good friend of European exchange students. You've a good personality.

Adrienne - I'm waiting for a painting. Stay always as sweet as you are now. I hope to see you again someday.

Angie - Hi, ILY, bye!

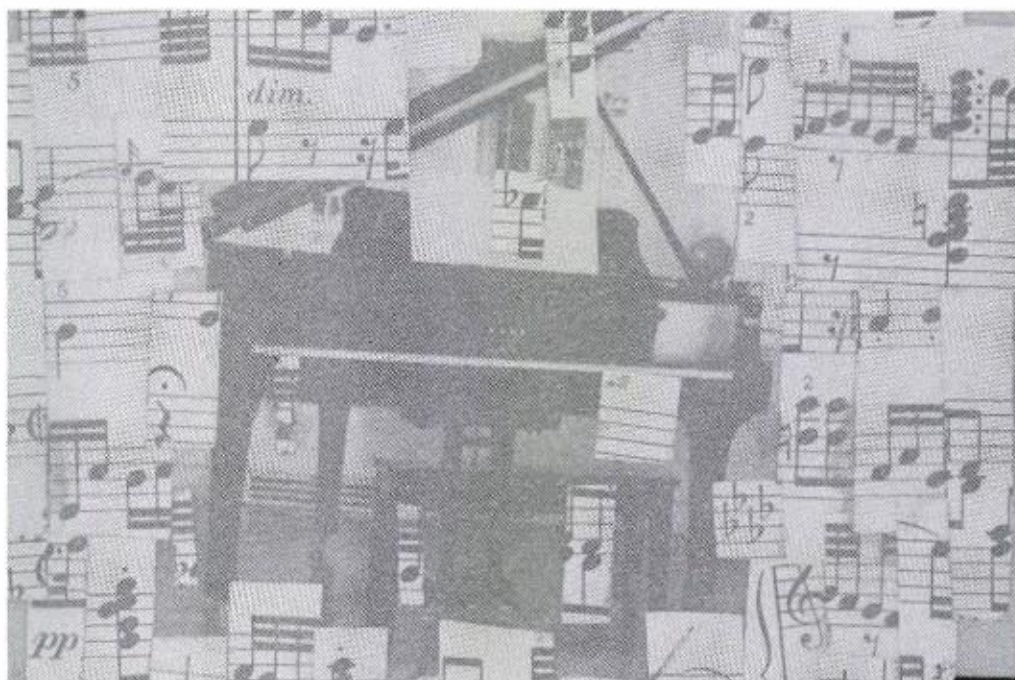

Merton and Niklas - Danke fürs übersetzen lasst Euch von den amis nicht unterkriegen. Haltet die ohren steif und vor allen: Nicht rot werden! P.S. Keine angst vor Katy!!!

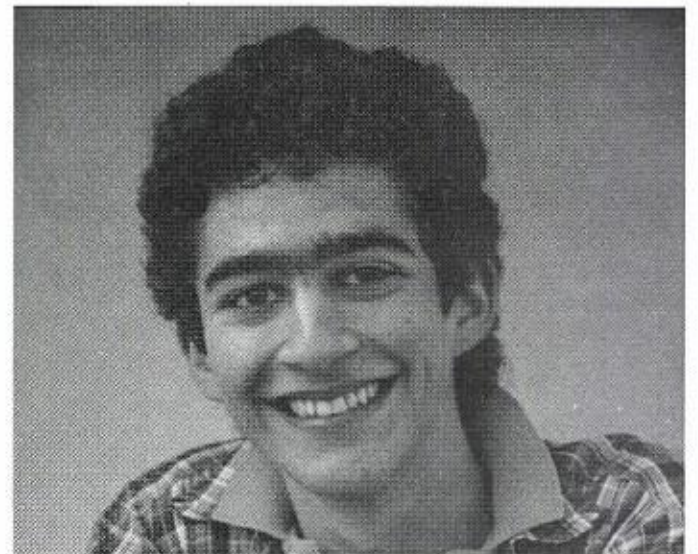

Ms. Stevenson - I wish we had art teachers like you over here. Thank you so much for everything.

Mme. White - Les petites conversations avec vous me manquent. Je serai heureux de vous revoir une firs - en France peut - etre.

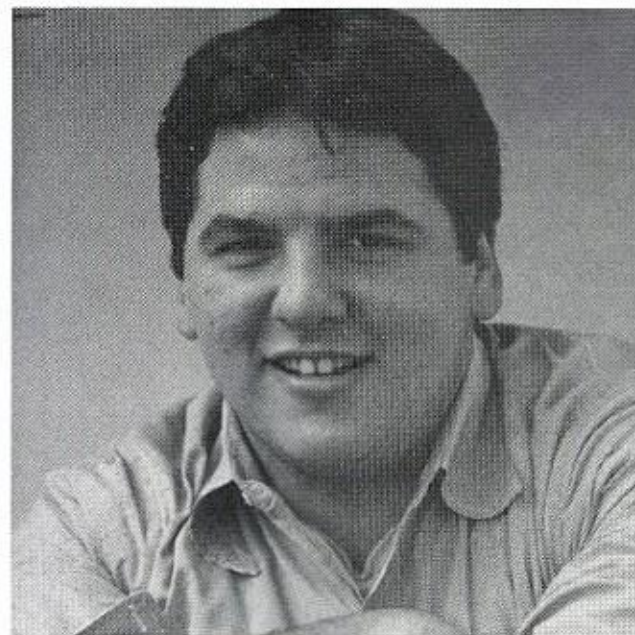

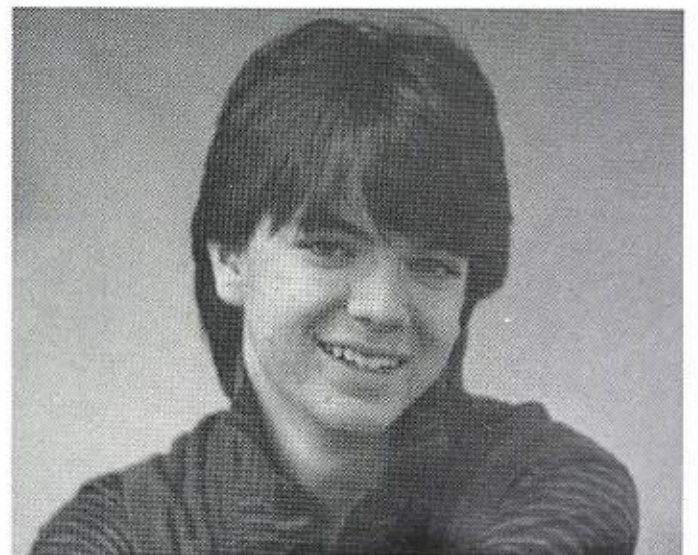

The Roses - Thank you very very much for being such a great house family. I hope to see you sometime.

Will - I miss your driving style. Why don't you come over and visit the German Autobahn.

Thanks for the Memories

THE NEWMANS

Virginia
Pringle
1970-1985

Preschool Secretary? Stuff and nonsense! Practical Nurse, Counselor, Writer/Editor of "Short and Sweet", Pastry Chef, Purchasing Agent, Source of Knowledge and Wisdom: the appropriate descriptions seem nearly endless. We're speaking, of course, of Virginia Pringle who is leaving Greenhill this year after fifteen years in the preschool. Through three directors, many teachers, and a horde of munchkins, Mrs. Pringle has been an oasis of calm in a sea of busy, learning children. Someone else will take her place, but no one will match her wealth of experiences, her legions of "alumni/friends" . . . or her collection of "Small Talk": be sure to write that book, Virginia!

Virginia Pringle, "Mother of the Bride," gathers with her Greenhill "family" at the wedding reception for her daughter, Lori at faculty house on the Southern Methodist University Campus. Spring 1973.

Virginia, an avid reader, relaxes with her cat and gathers ideas for her literary projects.

"BELIEVE IN YOURSELF"
CHARLIE SMALLS

IF YOU BELIEVE
WITHIN YOUR HEART YOU'LL KNOW
THAT NO ONE CAN CHANGE
BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

THE PATH THAT YOU MUST GO
BELIEVE WHAT YOU FEEL
AND KNOW YOU'RE RIGHT BECAUSE
THE TIME WILL COME AROUND
WHEN YOU'LL SAY IT'S YOURS

BELIEVE THERE'S A REASON TO BE BELIEVE YOU CAN MAKE TIME STAND STILL AND KNOW FROM THE MOMENT YOU TRY
IF YOU BELIEVE, I WILL YOU WILL
AND YOU WILL HAVE BRAINS
AND YOU'LL HAVE A HEART
AND YOU WILL HAVE COURAGE
TO LAST YOUR WHOLE LIFE THROUGH
IF YOU BELIEVE IN YOURSELF
IF YOU BELIEVE IN YOURSELF
IF YOU BELIEVE IN YOURSELF
MAYBE YOU CAN BELIEVE IN ME, TOO!

now, then, you do believe you have a brain, don't you?

MUSIC #30: "BELIEVE IN YOURSELF"
BELIEVE WHAT YOU FEEL AND KNOW YOU'RE RIGHT
BECAUSE THE TIME WILL COME AROUND
WHEN YOU SAY IT'S YOURS

BELIEVE THAT YOU CAN GO HOME
BELIEVE YOU CAN FLOAT ON AIR
THEN CLICK YOUR HEELS THREE TIMES
IF YOU BELIEVE, THEN YOU'LL BE THERE

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF, RIGHT FROM THE START
BELIEVE IN THE MAGIC THAT'S INSIDE YOUR HEART
BELIEVE WHAT YOU SEE NOT WHAT LIFE TOLD YOU TO

BUT BELIEVE IN YOURSELF
IF YOU BELIEVE IN YOURSELF
JUST BELIEVE IN YOURSELF
AS I BELIEVE IN YOU

"HOME"

WHEN I THINK OF HOME, I THINK OF A PLACE
WHERE THERE'S LOVE OVERFLOWING

I WISH I WAS BACK THERE
WITH THE THINGS I'VE BEEN KNOWING
WIND THAT MAKES THE TALL GRASS BEND INTO LEANING
SUDDENLY THE RAINDROPS THAT FALL HAVE A MEANING
SPRINKLING THE SCENE, MAKES IT ALL CLEAN
MAYBE THERE'S A CHANCE FOR ME TO GO BACK
NOW THAT I HAVE SOME DIRECTION
IT SURE WOULD BE NICE TO BE BACK HOME
WHERE THERE'S LOVE AND AFFECTION
AND JUST MAYBE I CAN CONVINCE TIME TO SLOW UP
GIVING ME ENOUGH TIME IN MY LIFE TO GROW UP
TIME, BE MY FRIEND, LET ME START AGAIN
SUDDENLY, MY WORLD'S GONE AND CHANGED ITS FACE
BUT STILL I KNOW WHERE I'M GOING
I HAVE HAD MY MIND SPUN AROUND IN SPACE
AND YET, I'VE WATCHED IT GROWING AND IF YOU'RE LISTENING, GOD
PLEASE, DON'T MAKE IT HARD

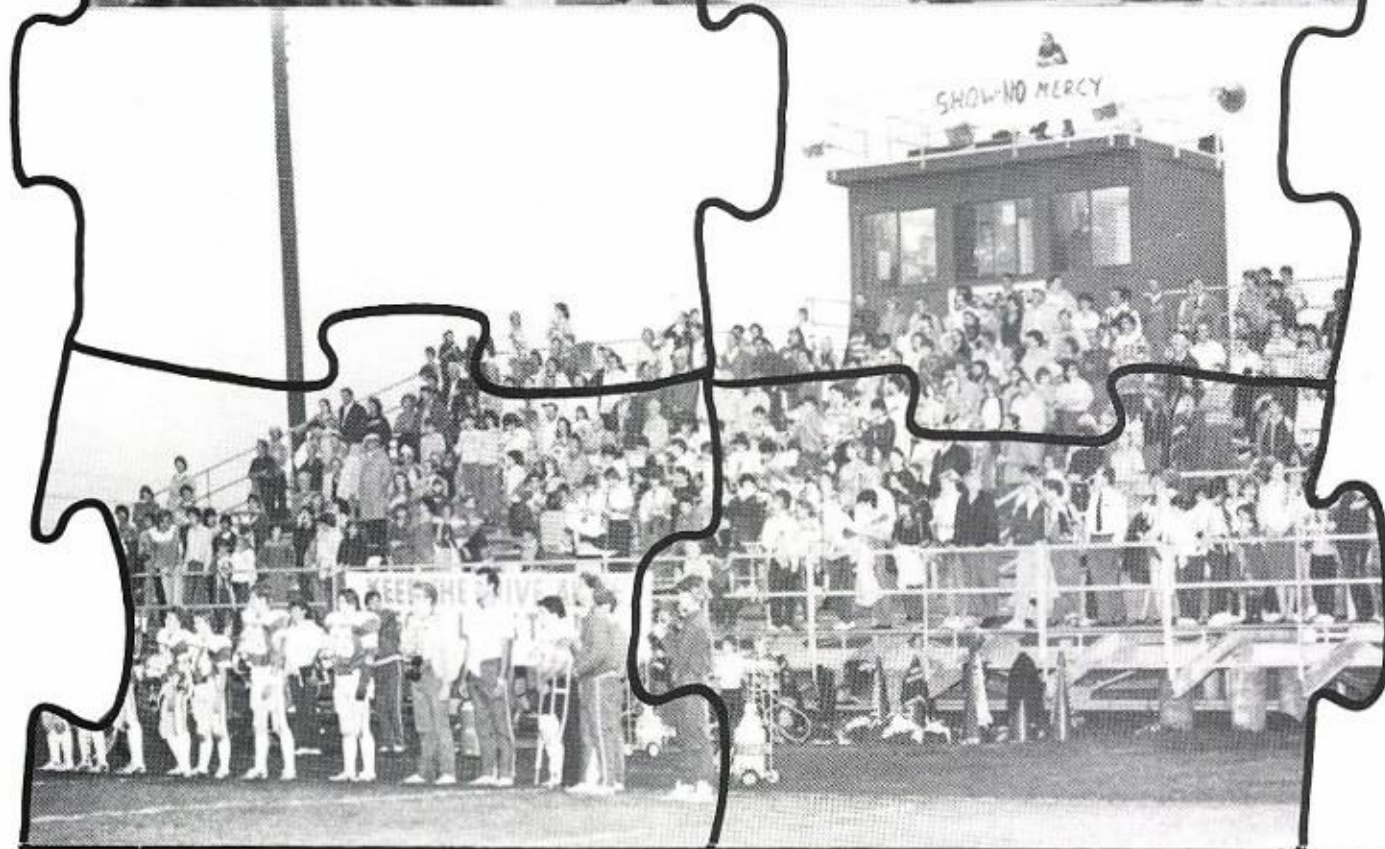

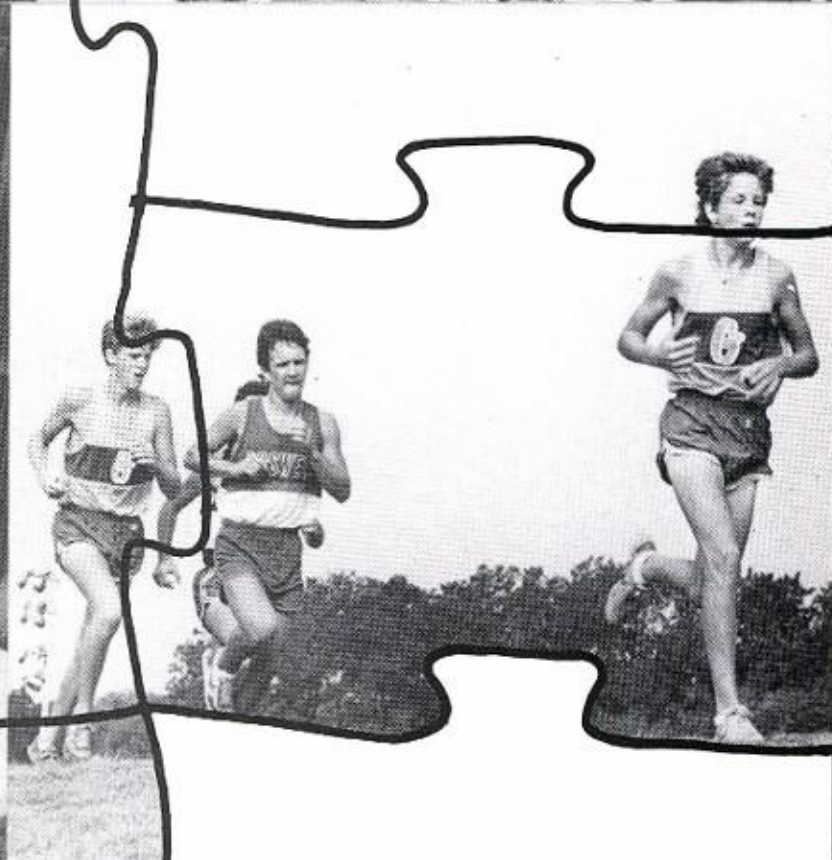

TO KNOW IF WE SHOULD BELIEVE THE THINGS WE SEE
TELL US, SHOULD WE TRY TO STAY
OR SHOULD WE RUN AWAY OR IS IT BETTER JUST TO LET THINGS BE?

LIVING HERE IN THIS BRAND NEW WORLD
MIGHT BE A FANTASY,
BUT IT'S TAUGHT ME TO LOVE,
SO IT'S REAL TO ME
AND I LEARNED THAT WE MUST LOOK
INSIDE OUR HEARTS TO FIND
A WORLD FULL OF LOVE
LIKE YOURS, LIKE MINE
LIKE HOME

To Karen: I leave you your wonderful sense of direction.
To Phillipa: I leave you your lack of it. I love you both.

In addition to being a community of its own, Greenhill reaches out into the Dallas community. In the Pre-School, students learn about the first Thanksgiving and prepare their own food and make their own costumes. The Primers go to the Farmers Market to buy their food for the Thanksgiving Feast when they return. They share their culinary skills with the Pre-Schoolers on this special occasion. Throughout Greenhill, at various grade levels, food and gifts are collected for distribution for those less fortunate, i.e., the Thelma Boston Home, Mesquite tornado victims, nursing homes, giving a party to DISD special education students. Greenhill's diversified faculty brings unique experiences into the classroom to generate true excitement in learning. Many of our educators attend workshops, act as consultants in their areas of expertise, and are continually striving of excellence.

Pieces of the Present Campus

Top: This is the sign which welcomes travelers to Greenhill who drive by the corner of Midway and Spring Valley Roads. Second row, left: The Montgomery Library is one of the most outstanding school libraries in the Southwest with its thousands of volumes and private collection of modern art and classical music. Second row, right: Dr. Ian Rule, Mrs. Sally Estes, Mr. Phillip Foote, Mr. Robert Harris, and Ms. Estelle Dickens break ground for the Hoblitzelle Wing of the Preschool in December, 1983. Third row, left: The drive up Rainbow Road affords a beautiful view of Greenhill's numerous playing fields, library, and Upper School. Third row, center: The Agnich Science Building was completed in 1964. Students use its courtyard for classes, lab activities, or recreation. Above, left: As one looks south over the campus, he will notice the Montgomery Library and Levy Middle School. Above, right: The walk by Crossman Hall leads to the Fulton Upper School in which the faculty refine the students' skills. Left: A leisurely walk to the southeast end of the campus will remind a student how Greenhill and the surrounding land used to look. Below: The Lower School is one of the beginning stages in which Greenhill establishes the foundation for a strong education.

Greenhill prepares to move into the future, many of its needs must be met. On January 7, 1985, were taken to ensure that Greenhill will meet its future needs; on this day, Chairperson of the Greenhill Board of Trustees, Sally R. Estes, signed a 99 year non-subordinate land lease, leasing 14.6 acres of Greenhill's 83 acres to the Trammel Crow Company of Dallas. This land will be used to construct the "Greenhill Park" office complex.

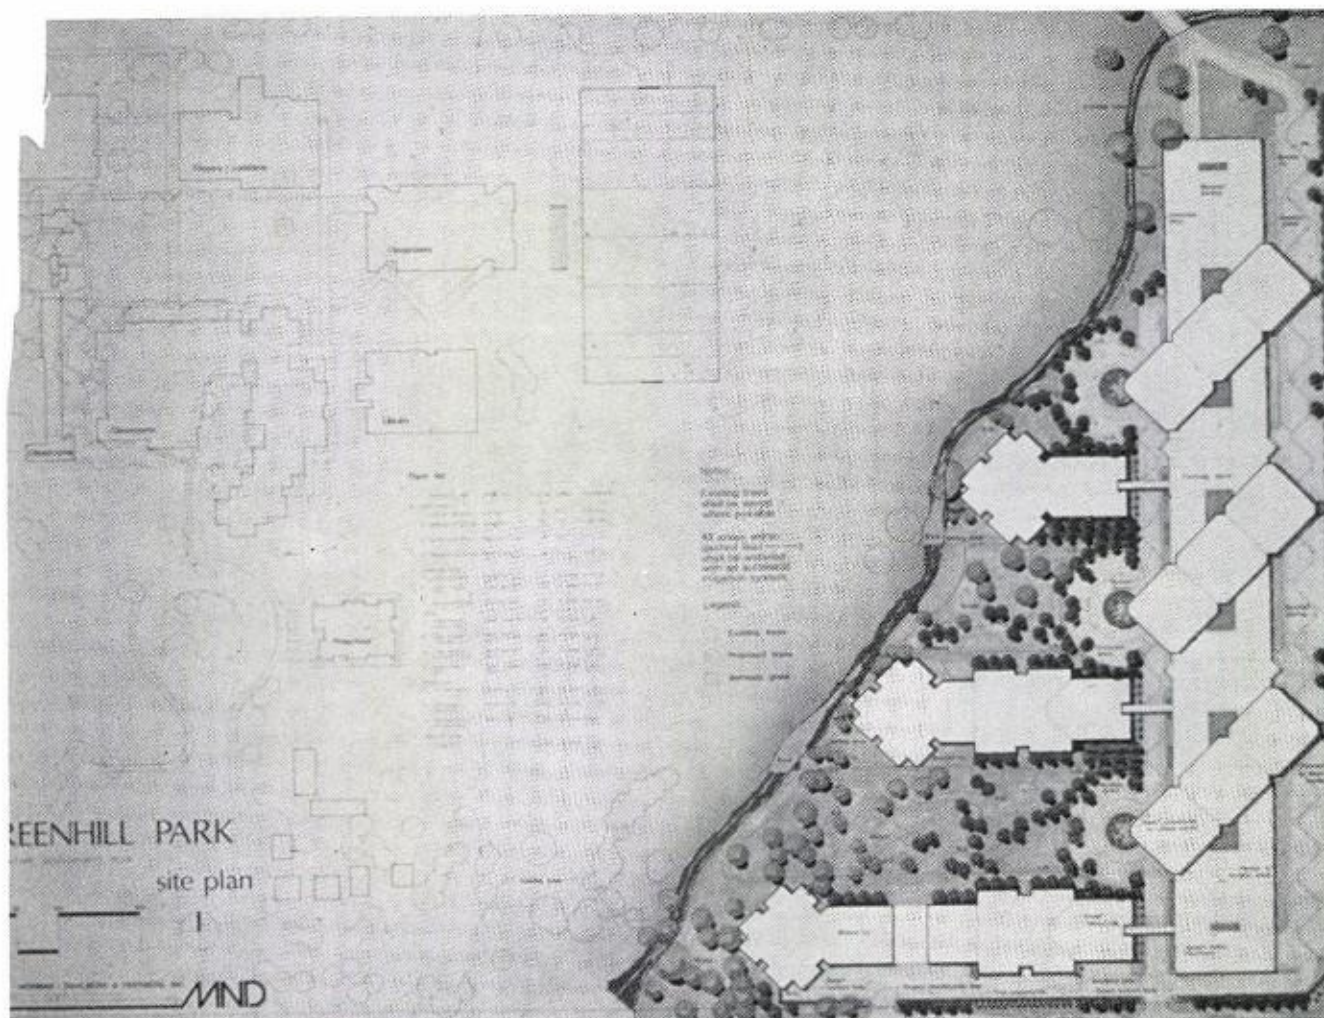

Greenhill Park will consist of three two to three story pavilions for special activities or leases, a restaurant, a conference center, professional buildings, a research center, and a series of lakes surrounding the office buildings.

There are three stages to the construction of Greenhill Park, each stage taking approximately eighteen months to two years. Work on the first stage is projected to begin in the summer of 1985.

Jim Maser, Treasurer of the Board from 1980 to 1981, had submitted a five year projection of Greenhill's finances. From this, it was concluded that Greenhill would be incapable of achieving many of its future goals unless steps were taken to improve its endowment. Among these goals are increasing teacher salaries, improving financial aid programs, and maintaining affordable tuitions while expanding the Greenhill campus. Mrs. Estes has been quoted as saying that "the greatest advantage of the land is that it will provide Greenhill with a much needed endowment."

With Greenhill's plans for expansion, both internally and externally, the Greenhill-Crow land lease, Greenhill Park, will enable achievement of these goals.

Pieces of the Future - Campus

Top left: Ms. Estelle Dickens, head of Lower School, displays the plans for the new Lower School; it is projected that the construction in 1985 and completed in the summer of 1986.

Top right: Mr. Harlan Crow of Trammell-Crow Company, Mrs. Sally Estes, Chairman of the Board, Mr. Jim Maser, Chairman of the Long-Range Planning Committee, Ms. Rose Benedetto, Executive Secretary at Trammell-Crow Company, and Mr. Barry Henry, partner, Trammell-Crow Co., finish signing the lease agreements to the land for "Greenhill Park."

Above: This view of southeast end of the campus will be completely different soon; construction on "Greenhill Park" will begin in 1985.

Greenhill's puzzle has grown in its number of pieces through the last thirty-five years and is about to add several new pieces. In 1950, Greenhill was located on Walnut Hill Lane in a twelve room building with only sixty-two students and twelve faculty members. In 1959, Greenhill was moved to its present location on Dooley, now Midway, and Spring Valley Roads. At this location there were several portable buildings, two farmhouses, and a barn. By 1963, Greenhill had grown to include 437 students in twelve grades. But in April of that year, the main building that housed the Upper School, the Middle School, and offices burned to the ground. Since then, Greenhill has continued to grow to over 1,000 students and 115 faculty members housed in seven permanent buildings.

The pieces of the past and present have been put in place, but the future is just beginning. The Greenhill School has leased the fourteen acre piece of property at the corner of Midway and Spring Valley Roads upon which construction will begin this fall. The money gained will be utilized for an endowment fund, student financial aid, and faculty salaries. Projected completion of the new Lower School, designed by Charles Gawhemey, will be in the near future also.

Greenhill will gain additional faculty, more new students, and graduate more seniors well-prepared to enter the world around them. The students are excellently educated by a school that has pioneered the developmental placement concept, open space, team-teaching, advisory systems, and motor skills programs, along with an innovative and integrated curriculum.

So, as we put our last pieces of the puzzle in place for the past and the present, we must remember that the future is just beginning for Greenhill.
